ANTI-FOREIGN ARDOR IS SPREADING IN CHINA

Study Wise Japan.

That Fidgety Bull.

They Get Rich, Build, Die.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

LET the United States study Japan and learn something in the way of common sense.

In the big war Japan stayed out, didn't send men or money, only a few military observers to learn what might be learned. Everybody in Europe is friendly to Japan. Everybody there hates us.

NOW the Japanese foreign office says it isn't going to send troops to China. But it will at once open negotiations requesting profound apologies and cash reparations for damage done to Japanese subjects in China. Compared with practical Japan we are feeble-minded.

THE big earthquake came in Armenia and a local religious personage explained it simply. A huge bull carries the world on its shoulders, and occasionally becomes fidgety. Then the earth rocks. The proper incantations, for which you pay a reasonable sum to the religious personage, pacify the bull and he again becomes quiet. Nothing simpler.

THE human mind requests and accepts any "reasonable" explanation.

In Wall Street lately the world has been more or less balanced on the back of a gigantic bull, which occasionally becomes fidgety when a bear attacks it. But prosperity incantations pacify it, and all is well.

At present it is safer to bet on the bull. "Big Steel" went to "a new high" yesterday.

RICH men pile up millions, build gigantic houses, die. Intelligent "real estaters" buy the houses, tear them down.

The New York City houses of Cornelius Vanderbilt, William H. Vanderbilt, W. K. Vanderbilt, are all in the hands of "house wreckers;" also the gigantic, ugly palace built by Senator Clark on Fifth avenue. One concern will buy the ceiling made from a Gigantic British oak, said to have been 2,000 years old. Another will buy the great fireplace of Vienna marble for a moving picture theater.

Thus passes the glory of the great. Papa builds, son and daughter say, "Too old fashioned, tear it down."

THE brilliant young Chinese leader of the revolutionists from south China, Chang Kai-Shek, says of his Chinese followers: "We want to get rid of the foreign yokes and save China from our own militarists who sell our riches to the foreigners."

Chang also says: "No man is too bad not to have enough rice, and no man is so good as to have too much to waste."

WE forbid polygamy because Christianity forbids it. We say it is immoral. In Egypt doctors of religious law

Twenty-one Nations Change Boundaries

Only six of the nations of Europe have the same boundaries they had in 1918.

Norway and Sweden, Spain and Portugal, Switzerland and Holland retain their former sizes and shapes. Every other nation looks different on the map.

Fifty out of 200 largest cities of Europe have new names.

These and other changes have made old maps useless. The NEW MAP OF EUROPE from our Washington Information Bureau shows all of the changes, with old and new boundaries and spellings.

Newspaper readers need such a map to follow properly world events in the news. Students should have it, as older maps have passed out of date.

The attack occurred at the Avenue Des Deux Republiques, where mobs hurled missiles over the barricades and fired occasional shots.

Reinforcements have been rushed to the French barricades and defensive measures have been tightened in the international settlement.

OHIO JURISTS SET UP LIMIT OF 60 DAYS IN RUM LAW CASES

Supreme Court Rules Insolvent Prisoners Must be Freed.

CLEVELAND TEST

One East Liverpool Man and Two From Salem Affected.

Three men held in the county jail at Lisbon for the non-payment of liquor fines will be eligible for release after serving 60 days, as the result of an indigent debtor law ruling by the state supreme court yesterday.

They are Nelson Dunkley and George Shurtz, both of Salem, and Samuel Mason, colored, of East Liverpool.

Dunkley who was fined $400 and costs by Mayor George Russell, Salem, has been in jail for about 40 days. Shurtz, against whom a fine of $300 was assessed, also by Mayor Russell, has been locked up for three weeks.

Mason was committed about two months ago after having been convicted in municipal court upon a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife. After this sentence has been completed, he was held for non-payment of an old liquor fine. He has served less than two weeks for the liquor violation, according to Sheriff Wright.

Liquor offenders may be released at the expiration of 60 days by making affidavit of insolvency, under the court decision.

Rulings Affect Enforcement.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Two Ohio court rulings affecting prohibition enforcement in this state were on record today.

Refusing to review the case, the state supreme court, by implication, affirmed the judgment of the Cuyahoga county courts which held that insolvent prisoners cannot legally be held in jail more than 60 days for failure to pay a fine.

This decision was rendered in the case of Joe Goldstein, Cleveland, sentenced to the Cuyahoga county jail to "serve out" a fine for alleged violation of the dry laws. Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygandt, Cleveland, ordered Goldstein liberated, upholding the contention of Goldstein's counsel that the prisoner, being an insolvent debtor, could not legally be imprisoned for more than 60 days.

Former Sheriff Fred Kohler unsuccessfully appealed to the appellate and supreme courts from Judge Weygandt's decree.

Mrs. John Wescott carried her son John, aged 6, from the burning building and then collapsed. She was carried into a neighbor's home and revived.

TWO OF FOUR EAST LIVERPOOL MISSIONARIES IN CHINESE WAR ZONE ARE REPORTED UNHARMED; ALL IN SHANGHAI

Two of the four former East Liverpool residents, engaged in missionary work in China, are reported to be safe in the war zone, friends here today were advised. The others are believed to be in Shanghai.

News dispatches yesterday told of the safe arrival in Shanghai of Dr. O. C. Crawford, formerly of this city, who has been working at Soo Chow, many miles up the Yangtze river.

Rev. E. D. Moore, Chicago, received a cablegram announcing that his daughter, Miss Margaret Moore, is safely quartered with other missionary workers in Shanghai. Miss Moore has been teaching in a mission school for several years.

No word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Crofts, former residents of Madison township, who returned to China last November after a furlough spent in the United States. Before their visit to the United States, Dr. and Mrs. Crofts conducted a mission school far up the Yangtze river. Friends and relatives believe them to be quartered in Shanghai where missionary workers are being assembled for safety. Mr. Crofts is a brother of Roberts Crofts and Mrs. Marcus McCaskey, near Lisbon, and Miss Mary Crofts and Mrs. R. H. Perry of this city. Four children of the Crofts are attending school in Chicago.

No advices have been received from Dr. Henry Hallock, formerly of Steubenville, a brother of Mrs. Mary Hallock Marshall, Omaha, Neb., and a former teacher in the local high school. Dr. Marshall, who was engaged in missionary work for many years, is now publisher of a Christian almanac. He is supported through contributions from friends.

Miss Adelia Hallock, daughter of Dr. Gerald Hallock, pastor of a Rochester, N. Y., Presbyterian church, has been stationed at Nanhsuchow, China.

Mrs. Marshall and her husband Dr. A. B. Marshall, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, were in Peking last year where Mrs. Marshall taught in a college.

Anti-foreign and anti-Christian agitations are spreading beyond the zone occupied by the Cantonese army and reports of the most disquieting nature were received today from Shangsha, Ichang, Wuhu, Chefoo, Chungking, Anking, Hankow and other centers.

There are still a number of Americans in the interior, many of them being mission workers, but it is hoped by the American naval and consular authorities that they have finally heeded the repeated warnings to seek safety. Their escape may be cut off, unless they flee towards the northeast.

It is now understood that Bishop Logan Roots, of this district of

TWO OF FOUR EAST LIVERPOOL MISSIONARIES IN CHINESE WAR ZONE ARE REPORTED UNHARMED; ALL IN SHANGHAI

Two of the four former East Liverpool residents, engaged in missionary work in China, are reported to be safe in the war zone, friends here today were advised. The others are believed to be in Shanghai.

News dispatches yesterday told of the safe arrival in Shanghai of Dr. O. C. Crawford, formerly of this city, who has been working at Soo Chow, many miles up the Yangtze river.

Rev. E. D. Moore, Chicago, received a cablegram announcing that his daughter, Miss Margaret Moore, is safely quartered with other missionary workers in Shanghai. Miss Moore has been teaching in a mission school for several years.

No word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Crofts, former residents of Madison township, who returned to China last November after a furlough spent in the United States. Before their visit to the United States, Dr. and Mrs. Crofts conducted a mission school far up the Yangtze river. Friends and relatives believe them to be quartered in Shanghai where missionary workers are being assembled for safety. Mr. Crofts is a brother of Roberts Crofts and Mrs. Marcus McCaskey, near Lisbon, and Miss Mary Crofts and Mrs. R. H. Perry of this city. Four children of the Crofts are attending school in Chicago.

Mrs. Marshall and her husband Dr. A. B. Marshall, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, were in Peking last year where Mrs. Marshall taught in a college.

Anti-foreign and anti-Christian agitations are spreading beyond the zone occupied by the Cantonese army and reports of the most disquieting nature were received today from Shangsha, Ichang, Wuhu, Chefoo, Chungking, Anking, Hankow and other centers.

There are still a number of Americans in the interior, many of them being mission workers, but it is hoped by the American naval and consular authorities that they have finally heeded the repeated warnings to seek safety. Their escape may be cut off, unless they flee towards the northeast.

THREE DIE IN $400,000 FIRE

ANTI-FOREIGN ARDOR IS SPREADING IN CHINA

Today

Study Wise Japan.
That Fidgety Bull.
They Get Rich, Build, Die.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

LET the United States study Japan and learn something in the way of common sense.

In the big war Japan stayed out, didn't send men or money, only a few military observers to learn what might be learned. Everybody in Europe is friendly to Japan. Everybody there hates us.

NOW the Japanese foreign office says it isn't going to send troops to China. But it will at once open negotiations requesting profound apologies and cash reparations for damage done to Japanese subjects in China. Compared with practical Japan we are feeble-minded.

THE big earthquake came in Armenia and a local religious personage explained it simply. A huge bull carries the world on its shoulders, and occasionally becomes fidgety. Then the earth rocks. The proper incantations, for which you pay a reasonable sum to the religious personage, pacify the bull and he again becomes quiet. Nothing simpler.

THE human mind requests and accepts any "reasonable" explanation.

In Wall Street lately the world has been more or less balanced on the back of a gigantic bull, which occasionally becomes fidgety when a bear attacks it. But prosperity incantations pacify it, and all is well.

At present it is safer to bet on the bull. "Big Steel" went to "a new high" yesterday.

RICH men pile up millions, build gigantic houses, die. Intelligent "real estaters" buy the houses, tear them down.

The New York City houses of Cornelius Vanderbilt, William H. Vanderbilt, W. K. Vanderbilt, are all in the hands of "house wreckers;" also the gigantic, ugly palace built by Senator Clark on Fifth avenue. One concern will buy the ceiling made from a Gigantic British oak, said to have been 1,000 years old. Another will buy the great fireplace of Vienna marble for a moving picture theater.

Thus passes the glory of the great. Papa builds, son and daughter say, "Too old fashioned, tear it down."

THE brilliant young Chinese leader of the revolutionists from south China, Chang Kai-Shek, says of his Chinese followers: "We want to get rid of the foreign yokes and save China from our own militarists who sell our riches to the foreigners."

Chang also says: "No man is too bad not to have enough rice, and no man is so good as to have too much to waste."

WE forbid polygamy because Christianity forbids it. We say it is immoral. In Egypt doctors of religious law

Twenty-one Nations Change Boundaries

Only six of the nations of Europe have the same boundaries they had in 1918.

Norway and Sweden, Spain and Portugal, Switzerland and Holland retain their former sizes and shapes. Every other nation looks different on the map.

Fifty out of 200 largest cities of Europe have new names.

These and other changes have made old maps useless. The NEW MAP OF EUROPE from our Washington Information Bureau shows all of the changes, with old and new boundaries and spellings.

Newspaper readers need such a map to follow properly world events in the news. Students should have it, as older maps have passed out of date.

REFUGEES STONED BY ENRAGED MOBS

By Alfred Meyer.

SHANGHAI, Midnight, Mar. 30.—Chinese mobs opened attacks upon the barricades about the French concession tonight.

The mobs approached the barricades of the French concession, behind groups of small boys and girls who had been herded in front of the attackers and gave them shelter.

Shots Are Fired.

Reinforcements have been rushed to the French barricades and defensive measures have been tightened in the international settlement.

Anti-foreign ardor continues to spread and the entire costal region seems in ferment.

OHIO JURISTS SET UP LIMIT OF 60 DAYS IN RUM LAW CASES

Supreme Court Rules Insolvent Prisoners Must be Freed.

CLEVELAND TEST

One East Liverpool Man and Two From Salem Affected.

Three men held in the county jail at Lisbon for the non-payment of liquor fines will be eligible for release after serving 60 days, as the result of an indigent debtor law ruling by the state supreme court yesterday.

They are Nelson Dunkley and George Shurtz, both of Salem, and Samuel Mason, colored, of East Liverpool.

Dunkley who was fined $400 and costs by Mayor George Russell, Salem, has been in jail for about 40 days. Shurtz, against whom a fine of $300 was assessed, also by Mayor Russell, has been locked up for three weeks.

Mason was committed about two months ago after having been convicted in municipal court upon a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife. After this sentence has been completed, he was held for non-payment of an old liquor fine. He has served less than two weeks for the liquor violation, according to Sheriff Wright.

Liquor offenders may be released at the expiration of 60 days by making affidavit of insolvency, under the court decision.

Rulings Affect Enforcement.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Two Ohio court rulings affecting prohibition enforcement in this state were on record today.

Refusing to review the case, the state supreme court, by implication, affirmed the judgment of the Cuyahoga county courts which held that insolvent prisoners cannot legally be held in jail more than 60 days for failure to pay a fine.

This decision was rendered in the case of Joe Goldstein, Cleveland, sentenced to the Cuyahoga county jail to "serve out" a fine for alleged violation of the dry laws. Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygandt, Cleveland, ordered Goldstein liberated, upholding the contention of Goldstein's counsel that the prisoner, being an insolvent debtor, could not legally be imprisoned for more than 60 days.

Former Sheriff Fred Kohler unsuccessfully appealed to the appellate and supreme courts from Judge Weygandt's decree.

Bright Scarfs Add Zest to the Spring Costume.

Scarfs to contrast smartly or harmonize quietly. In colors brilliant or soft. In designs so delightfully varied that the choice is bewildering. To knot smartly about the throat. To tuck underneath the collar of your top-coat. To tie at one side with tailleur or two-piece frock.

Once upon a time a scarf was meant solely for utility—perscribed to keep chill from intruding within the circle of one's coat collar. Now it fulfills the same purpose with an added one of chic.

Our new Spring Scarfs are a fascinating lot.

Group at $3.00 includes printed crepes, printed georgettes, plain georgettes or georgette squares. In every desirable shade.

Group at $4.50 contains the fashionable double width georgette crepes in pastel shades, plain printed or blocked. Also all-over radium prints in single width or the smart popular radium printed squares. Every shade.

Other scarfs at $5.50, $6.50 up to $9.75. Double width georgettes, plain or with painted or blocked designs. Also silk crepes, hand painted. Your favorite shade included.

HUDSON-ESSEX OUTPUT JUMPS

Daily Total Close to 1,500 Mark, Dealer Says.

Hudson-Essex has just completed the greatest February in its history, and with March is stepping into the greatest six cylinder production the automobile industry ever has known, officials of the company report. Since January 1, production of both Hudson Essex cars has been largely increased, and on March 1, the fifth increase of the year brought the daily total close to the 1,500 mark, it was declared.

February shipments were 27,000 cars, while March is scheduled for the production and sale of 37,000 Hudson and Essex automobiles. Even with this great volume, company officials declare that deliveries are far behind demand. The new Super-Six models on both Hudson and Essex, brought out the first of the year, have far exceeded in popularity anything the company has known in its whole history.

In going close to the 40,000 mark for March, Hudson-Essex is reaching into a volume field which hitherto has been entered only by four cylinder cars. It is around 25 per cent, larger than any previous Hudson-Essex schedule.

While the factory is thus engaged in record-breaking, Ray Birch local Hudson-Essex dealer, has been setting new high marks of business. Never before, it is claimed, has there been so urgent and insistent demand for Hudson and Essex. On both the large and small car, business has been consistent and growing.

Most Ailments and Diseases Caused By Catarrh of Stomach
World's Tonic, the Systemic Treatment, Is Made Especially to Overcome Catarrh. It Brings Splendid Results in a Short Time.
Symptoms Which Usually Indicate Catarrhal Troubles, and What to Do for Relief

Most ailments and diseases are caused or aggravated by the faulty working of the stomach. When vital organs fail or falter in their duty, toxins are not cleared out of the system. They remain and bring on bad health. Catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes of the gall bladder and duct, and of the intestinal tract and stomach derange the whole digestive system.

The victim is invariably troubled with loss of sleep and energy, fickle appetite and sour, gassy stomach, foul breath, old fashioned stomach ache, pains from gas in the stomach, belching and similar well known symptoms follow. Authorities state that nine out of ten people in the American cities are likely to be so effected, and all of it is due to catarrhal conditions.

World's Tonic, the systemic treatment for catarrh, acts in a quick and efficient manner in cleansing and clearing the intestinal tract, stimulating the bowels and liver. Thus Nature is assisted in discharging from the system the very elements and impurities which cause the manifestations of the symptoms and ailments allied with the stomach, liver and kidneys. With the system cleared and cleansed, World's Tonic takes up the work of stimulating these laggard vital organs, and when they are restored and working harmoniously once more, one is bound to enjoy perfect health unless there be some organic trouble which hesitates before letting go its hold on the system.

Kidneys filter the blood, keeping it rich and pure. Liver and bowels work fine, and with stomach digesting and appetite restored to normal, one receives great benefit from the nourishment derived from the food Like a well oiled machine, the system converts the food we eat into strength and tissue, while the waste is cleared quickly and entirely. One may eat what he wishes without fear of after effects. Elderly people with catarrh of the stomach, kidneys or liver, find World's Tonic is the effective catarrhal treatment. It gives quick and permanent results in the different forms of catarrh.

Sold at Carnahan's also Brannon, Wellsville, and all other reliable druggists at $1.00 a bottle. (228).

FINE FOR CHILDREN!

Give them a good start in life with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive color, Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 60c sizes.

Daily Total Close to 1,500 Mark, Dealer Says.

Hudson-Essex has just completed the greatest February in its history, and with March is stepping into the greatest six cylinder production the automobile industry ever has known, officials of the company report. Since January 1, production of both Hudson Essex cars has been largely increased, and on March 1, the fifth increase of the year brought the daily total close to the 1,500 mark, it was declared.

February shipments were 27,000 cars, while March is scheduled for the production and sale of 37,000 Hudson and Essex automobiles. Even with this great volume, company officials declare that deliveries are far behind demand. The new Super-Six models on both Hudson and Essex, brought out the first of the year, have far exceeded in popularity anything the company has known in its whole history.

In going close to the 40,000 mark for March, Hudson-Essex is reaching into a volume field which hitherto has been entered only by four cylinder cars. It is around 25 per cent, larger than any previous Hudson-Essex schedule.

While the factory is thus engaged in record-breaking, Ray Birch local Hudson-Essex dealer, has been setting new high marks of business. Never before, it is claimed, has there been so urgent and insistent demand for Hudson and Essex. On both the large and small car, business has been consistent and growing.

Most Ailments and Diseases Caused By Catarrh of Stomach

World's Tonic, the Systemic Treatment, Is Made Especially to Overcome Catarrh. It Brings Splendid Results in a Short Time.

Symptoms Which Usually Indicate Catarrhal Troubles, and What to Do for Relief

Most ailments and diseases are caused or aggravated by the faulty working of the stomach. When vital organs fail or falter in their duty, toxins are not cleared out of the system. They remain and bring on bad health. Catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes of the gall bladder and duct, and of the intestinal tract and stomach derange the whole digestive system.

The victim is invariably troubled with loss of sleep and energy, fickle appetite and sour, gassy stomach, foul breath, old fashioned stomach ache, pains from gas in the stomach, belching and similar well known symptoms follow. Authorities state that nine out of ten people in the American cities are likely to be so effected, and all of it is due to catarrhal conditions.

World's Tonic, the systemic treatment for catarrh, acts in a quick and efficient manner in cleansing and clearing the intestinal tract, stimulating the bowels and liver. Thus Nature is assisted in discharging from the system the very elements and impurities which cause the manifestations of the symptoms and ailments allied with the stomach, liver and kidneys. With the system cleared and cleansed, World's Tonic takes up the work of stimulating these laggard vital organs, and when they are restored and working harmoniously once more, one is bound to enjoy perfect health unless there be some organic trouble which hesitates before letting go its hold on the system.

Kidneys filter the blood, keeping it rich and pure. Liver and bowels work fine, and with stomach digesting and appetite restored to normal, one receives great benefit from the nourishment derived from the food Like a well oiled machine, the system converts the food we eat into strength and tissue, while the waste is cleared quickly and entirely. One may eat what he wishes without fear of after effects. Elderly people with catarrh of the stomach, kidneys or liver, find World's Tonic is the effective catarrhal treatment. It gives quick and permanent results in the different forms of catarrh.

Sold at Carnahan's also Brannon, Wellsville, and all other reliable druggists at $1.00 a bottle. (228).

FINE FOR CHILDREN!

Give them a good start in life with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive color, Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 60c sizes.

Workhouse Sentences For Drunken Drivers

No mercy will be shown motorists who face the Columbus municipal court on charges of driving while intoxicated, Judge E. V. Mahaffey warned yesterday when he meted out workhouse sentences to two offenders.

One man was sentenced to four months' imprisonment and fined $200 and costs. He was arrested after his automobile had crashed into a light standard, narrowly missing a policeman.

Another offender, who drove his machine into a telephone pole, was given a 90-day workhouse sentence and fined $100 and costs.

"There are too many drivers operating their machines while under the influence of liquor," Judge Mahaffey said, "and there is not another violation of the law that is more dangerous to the public. I will continue to impose sentences that will impress on the minds of those brought before me that the practice will not be tolerated or condoned."

If Judge Mahaffey's example were emulated throughout the state, the automobile accident toll would show a decrease during the year.

Sterilizing Italy

The Italian parliament, under Mussolini's dictatorship, is considering what its said to be the most drastic censorship law in the world's history.

Everything political, journalistic, literary, dramatic and artistic is to be 100 per cent pure. Nothing in public life that disagrees with Fascism will be permitted. The ministry of the interior and the provincial police are to nave authority over newspapers, theatres, movies, books, paintings, phonograph records and advertisements. It will be a great drive against "pornography and sedition."

Italy, no doubt, can stand quite a little clamping down of the lid on pornography, especially in southern cities like Naples, where vice of many kinds has long flourished to an appalling degree. Sedition is another matter, too easily confused with mere difference of political thinking in a regime like the present. Most outsiders, and many insiders, will not agree that political purity means 100 per cent Fascism.

Even in the other realms where this censorship is to be applied, it may be sadly overdone. Italy has been a great country, as great as any in the world in many departments of human life, and especially great in the arts and sciences. What would have happened if such a system of control as is now proposed had existed during the Italian renaissance? Would there have been any Michaelangelos or Leonardo da Vincis or Benvenuto Cellinis, or any Dantes or Bocaccios or Tassos, if there had been political censors to scrub, cut, denature and sterilize everything they did?

Too much sterilization means sterility.

Chaperone Again

It is reported that the chaperon, almost extinct since the World war, has now come back into great favor in London. Girls who don't have available women relatives to do this service for them are now hiring chaperons to accompany them to dinners, balls, and other social affairs.

The reason given isn't the one that might be expected. Stricker social supervision for its own sake is still unimportant to London's debutantes. But the notion seems to have got around that the demure, thoroughly chaperoned girls are more attractive to very eligible young men than the the modern maidens who go about in complete freedom.

This is a most interesting development, in the face of many British novels of recent years. American girls, inclined to laugh at their chaperoned English sisters, may come to it themselves.

What They Talk About

A mild form of eavesdropping, in the interests of psychology, has been the practice of Prof. Landis of Wesleyan university. With note book and pencil he has stood for hours on London and New York street corners, taking down what he could of the conversational topics of unsuspecting strangers. His very illuminating findings might be tabulated as follows:

The New York woman talks largely about men or clothing.

The London woman discourses fluently about herself or other women.

English and American men both talk chiefly about money and business.

The English woman talks about the same things to men as to other women.

The American woman adapts her conversation to the interests of her masculine companion.

Now that's all perfectly clear. You may draw your own psychological conclusions in the absence of any by the professor. Perhaps conclusions should not be drawn, however, until someone has recorded dinner, telephone and party conversations. Few of us are at our best on street corners.

If there's any international linen to be laundered now, China will do it.

LIKE PAINTING THE LILY.

One of Montague Glass's classics starts off with an account of a scene in the Pennsylvania Station at New York. A whiskered gentleman, evidently hailing from the East Side, is administering physical punishment upon a small boy. A stranger, of humane instincts, pushes his way through the interested crowd of onlookers and lays a firm hand upon the arm of the bearded one.

"Here, hold on!" he orders. "Why are you slapping this child?"

"He is my own son," explains the East-Sider.

"I don't care whose son he is," states the interrupting citizen. "You've no business to be slapping him and shaking him this way. You stop it immediately or I'll make trouble for you!"

"Meester, listen," says the parent. "Two years ago my wife runs away with my best friend. One year ago my partner cheats me in business and I go broke. Three months ago I get the inflammatory rheumatism and the doctors pull out all my teeth. Six weeks ago my daughter gets married to a loafer and I have got to support both of 'em. Day before yesterday my old grandmother dies in Philadelphia and I spend the last money I have got in the world for tickets for me and this boy so we could go to the funeral. I give the tickets to Ikey, here, and he puts them in his mouth and just as we are ready to go on the train he breathes the wrong way and swallows them."

The father laughs, a short, hard, ironic metallic laugh.

"And you would make trouble for me!"

HASKIN'S LETTER

Work For The Handicapped—I.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30. — It has been said that the best medicine that can be given a handicapped person—lame, halt, blind, hard of hearing, deaf and dumb, tubercular, epileptic, or otherwise physically deficient—is a job, work that will make him wholly or partially self-supporting and possibly enable him to contribute to the support of dependents.

It is not the kind of medicine that cures, necessarily, in demonstrating its potency, but it is the kind that clears the mind of the unfortunate of worry and despondency, imbues him with self-confidence, and gives him a normal outlook upon life. Crooked backs have been known to straighten perceptibly, it is said, merely because their owners have learned that those backs can bear economic burdens.

All this is discussed in a report of a survey made for the Welfare Council of New York City that has just been published. The survey was made by Miss Mary LaDame of the Russell Sage Foundation's department of industrial studies. It was undertaken at the instance of the Institute for Crippled and Disabled Men, the Employment Bureau for the Handicapped,

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 30.—The Rialto might ask: What price success? More capable players have been "at liberty" during the theatrical season now closing than ever before. In one of those revivals of an old play recently the cast included 10 players who had won high stellar honors.

There was not one who has not packed theaters from coast to coast in other days and here they were quite willing to accept an equal division of gate receipts. It has been a season of musical extravaganzas and pathological dramas. There were few parts for the worthy.

And the future outlook is bleak. Beyond Manhattan is no hope. Only those finished players who have had a providential regard for lean days are able to live in comfort. Many who owned their brown stone fronts have moved to boarding houses and walk up flats.

In a theatrical club the other day a star of yesteryear received a telegram from the producer of a middle west stock company. It read: "Will you consider $75 a week for seven weeks?" He replied: "Certainly. Do you furnish billboard brush and paste?"

Hollywood has offered the only relief but there are innumerable stars who fail in "screen tests." The percentage of legitimate stars photographically fit for screen work is so slight as to be almost negligble. Nearly every one has tried.

Most of them are too old to launch careers in other fields, so they sit about—whistling in the dark and indulging the futile hope. Some have picked up a little extra money writing memoirs. The discouragement is so thick that few have their names listed at agencies any more.

No class is so uncomplaining. They manage somehow to continue to put up a good front. They willingly appear at "benefits" with a sangfroid that is amazing. The theater these days demands youth. Nearly every important star of the season was under 30.

The stage is not alone in displaying high courage in adversity. There are thousands of young men and women in New York pursuing artistic careers on starvation scale. The attics are filled with them south of Washington Square. They are not all idle dreamers but ambitious people willing to live on crusts in their gamble with Fate. They win, too, in many instances.

In the autobiography of a supper club hostess, she says: "I never once lost my nerve." That roar is from couvert customers crying "Stet!"

Here is a true story of the danger of hotel drinking. An out-of-town couple asked a bell hop to procure a bottle of Scotch. He brought it a few minutes before theater time and after pulling the cork it was decided to wait until after theater and ask some friends to join them. They put the bottle in a closet. When they returned a policeman was stationed at the door. A hotel maid finding the bottle had taken a surreptitious drink and in 30 minutes had died in frightful agony.

A Broadway school of acrobatics, starting in a small office room, now occupies an entire floor. The explanation is said to be that ladies go there to aid in getting thin.

A noticeable increase in tap dancing schools is also noted in the theatrical district. This, a spy tells me, is the result of the reducing influence of tap dancing on armour-like ankles.

It has always mystified me how sidewalk theatrical ticket speculators continue to make a living. I never patronized them without getting a seat behind a post or a man with a high pompadour.

In a theatrical club the other day a star of yesteryear received a telegram from the producer of a middle west stock company. It read: "Will you consider $75 a week for seven weeks?" He replied: "Certainly. Do you furnish billboard brush and paste?"

Hollywood has offered the only relief but there are innumerable stars who fail in "screen tests." The percentage of legitimate stars photographically fit for screen work is so slight as to be almost negligble. Nearly every one has tried.

Most of them are too old to launch careers in other fields, so they sit about—whistling in the dark and indulging the futile hope. Some have picked up a little extra money writing memoirs. The discouragement is so thick that few have their names listed at agencies any more.

No class is so uncomplaining. They manage somehow to continue to put up a good front. They willingly appear at "benefits" with a sangfroid that is amazing. The theater these days demands youth. Nearly every important star of the season was under 30.

The stage is not alone in displaying high courage in adversity. There are thousands of young men and women in New York pursuing artistic careers on starvation scale. The attics are filled with them south of Washington Square. They are not all idle dreamers but ambitious people willing to live on crusts in their gamble with Fate. They win, too, in many instances.

In the autobiography of a supper club hostess, she says: "I never once lost my nerve." That roar is from couvert customers crying "Stet!"

Here is a true story of the danger of hotel drinking. An out-of-town couple asked a bell hop to procure a bottle of Scotch. He brought it a few minutes before theater time and after pulling the cork it was decided to wait until after theater and ask some friends to join them. They put the bottle in a closet. When they returned a policeman was stationed at the door. A hotel maid finding the bottle had taken a surreptitious drink and in 30 minutes had died in frightful agony.

A Broadway school of acrobatics, starting in a small office room, now occupies an entire floor. The explanation is said to be that ladies go there to aid in getting thin.

A noticeable increase in tap dancing schools is also noted in the theatrical district. This, a spy tells me, is the result of the reducing influence of tap dancing on armour-like ankles.

It has always mystified me how sidewalk theatrical ticket speculators continue to make a living. I never patronized them without getting a seat behind a post or a man with a high pompadour.

Work For The Handicapped—I.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30. —It has been said that the best medicine that can be given a handicapped person—lame, halt, blind, hard of hearing, deaf and dumb, tubercular, epileptic, or otherwise physically deficient—is a job, work that will make him wholly or partially self-supporting and possibly enable him to contribute to the support of dependents.

It is not the kind of medicine that cures, necessarily, in demonstrating its potency, but it is the kind that clears the mind of the unfortunate of worry and despondency, imbues him with self-confidence, and gives him a normal outlook upon life. Crooked backs have been known to straighten perceptibly, it is said, merely because their owners have learned that those backs can bear economic burdens.

All this is discussed in a report of a survey made for the Welfare Council of New York City that has just been published. The survey was made by Miss Mary LaDame of the Russell Sage Foundation's department of industrial studies. It was undertaken at the instance of the Institute for Crippled and Disabled Men, the Employment Bureau for the Handicapped,

Workhouse Sentences For Drunken Drivers

No mercy will be shown motorists who face the Columbus municipal court on charges of driving while intoxicated, Judge E. V. Mahaffey warned yesterday when he meted out workhouse sentences to two offenders.

One man was sentenced to four months' imprisonment and fined $200 and costs. He was arrested after his automobile had crashed into a light standard, narrowly missing a policeman.

Another offender, who drove his machine into a telephone pole, was given a 90-day workhouse sentence and fined $100 and costs.

"There are too many drivers operating their machines while under the influence of liquor," Judge Mahaffey said, "and there is not another violation of the law that is more dangerous to the public. I will continue to impose sentences that will impress on the minds of those brought before me that the practice will not be tolerated or condoned."

If Judge Mahaffey's example were emulated throughout the state, the automobile accident toll would show a decrease during the year.

Sterilizing Italy

The Italian parliament, under Mussolini's dictatorship, is considering what its said to be the most drastic censorship law in the world's history.

Everything political, journalistic, literary, dramatic and artistic is to be 100 per cent pure. Nothing in public life that disagrees with Fascism will be permitted. The ministry of the interior and the provincial police are to nave authority over newspapers, theatres, movies, books, paintings, phonograph records and advertisements. It will be a great drive against "pornography and sedition."

Italy, no doubt, can stand quite a little clamping down of the lid on pornography, especially in southern cities like Naples, where vice of many kinds has long flourished to an appalling degree. Sedition is another matter, too easily confused with mere difference of political thinking in a regime like the present. Most outsiders, and many insiders, will not agree that political purity means 100 per cent Fascism.

Even in the other realms where this censorship is to be applied, it may be sadly overdone. Italy has been a great country, as great as any in the world in many departments of human life, and especially great in the arts and sciences. What would have happened if such a system of control as is now proposed had existed during the Italian renaissance? Would there have been any Michaelangelos or Leonardo da Vincis or Benvenuto Cellinis, or any Dantes or Bocaccios or Tassos, if there had been political censors to scrub, cut, denature and sterilize everything they did?

Too much sterilization means sterility.

Chaperone Again

It is reported that the chaperon, almost extinct since the World war, has now come back into great favor in London. Girls who don't have available women relatives to do this service for them are now hiring chaperons to accompany them to dinners, balls, and other social affairs.

The reason given isn't the one that might be expected. Stricker social supervision for its own sake is still unimportant to London's debutantes. But the notion seems to have got around that the demure, thoroughly chaperoned girls are more attractive to very eligible young men than the the modern maidens who go about in complete freedom.

This is a most interesting development, in the face of many British novels of recent years. American girls, inclined to laugh at their chaperoned English sisters, may come to it themselves.

What They Talk About

A mild form of eavesdropping, in the interests of psychology, has been the practice of Prof. Landis of Wesleyan university. With note book and pencil he has stood for hours on London and New York street corners, taking down what he could of the conversational topics of unsuspecting strangers. His very illuminating findings might be tabulated as follows:

The London woman discourses fluently about herself or other women.

English and American men both talk chiefly about money and business.

The English woman talks about the same things to men as to other women.

Now that's all perfectly clear. You may draw your own psychological conclusions in the absence of any by the professor. Perhaps conclusions should not be drawn, however, until someone has recorded dinner, telephone and party conversations. Few of us are at our best on street corners.

If there's any international linen to be laundered now, China will do it.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

LIKE PAINTING THE LILY.

One of Montague Glass's classics starts off with an account of a scene in the Pennsylvania Station at New York. A whiskered gentleman, evidently hailing from the East Side, is administering physical punishment upon a small boy. A stranger, of humane instincts, pushes his way through the interested crowd of onlookers and lays a firm hand upon the arm of the bearded one.

"Here, hold on!" he orders. "Why are you slapping this child?"

"He is my own son," explains the East-Sider.

"I don't care whose son he is," states the interrupting citizen. "You've no business to be slapping him and shaking him this way. You stop it immediately or I'll make trouble for you!"

"Meester, listen," says the parent. "Two years ago my wife runs away with my best friend. One year ago my partner cheats me in business and I go broke. Three months ago I get the inflammatory rheumatism and the doctors pull out all my teeth. Six weeks ago my daughter gets married to a loafer and I have got to support both of 'em. Day before yesterday my old grandmother dies in Philadelphia and I spend the last money I have got in the world for tickets for me and this boy so we could go to the funeral. I give the tickets to Ikey, here, and he puts them in his mouth and just as we are ready to go on the train he breathes the wrong way and swallows them."

The father laughs, a short, hard, ironic metallic laugh.

"And you would make trouble for me!"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 30.—The Rialto might ask: What price success? More capable players have been "at liberty" during the theatrical season now closing than ever before. In one of those revivals of an old play recently the cast included 10 players who had won high stellar honors.

There was not one who has not packed theaters from coast to coast in other days and here they were quite willing to accept an equal division of gate receipts. It has been a season of musical extravaganzas and pathological dramas. There were few parts for the worthy.

And the future outlook is bleak. Beyond Manhattan is no hope. Only those finished players who have had a providential regard for lean days are able to live in comfort. Many who owned their brown stone fronts have moved to boarding houses and walk up flats.

In a theatrical club the other day a star of yesteryear received a telegram from the producer of a middle west stock company. It read: "Will you consider $75 a week for seven weeks?" He replied: "Certainly. Do you furnish billboard brush and paste?"

Hollywood has offered the only relief but there are innumerable stars who fail in "screen tests." The percentage of legitimate stars photographically fit for screen work is so slight as to be almost negligble. Nearly every one has tried.

NEW WELLSVILLE-KENSINGTON HIGHWAY IS ASSURED

SALINEVILLE ROAD FIRST ON COUNTY LIST

Work on Link to Summitville Will Begin April 15.

EQUIPMENT READY

Surfacing Job to Progress Westward From Mining Town.

Improvement of the Salineville-Summitville-Kensington highway, which will afford a hard surfaced road from Wellsville to Kensington, through Salineville, will be one of the first Columbiana county projects to be launched this spring, according to County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

The Holmes Construction company of Wooster, which was awarded the job on the Salineville-Summitville road, has notified Surveyor Kirk that first work on the highway will be started not later than April 15.

Equipment is now being moved to the work. Surfacing will begin at Salineville and progress westward.

Among the first jobs to be started will also be the Columbiana and New Waterford route, awarded last season to Lewis and Copeland of Lima.

The same company has the surfacing contract for the southern section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road and connecting with the Lincoln Highway at Apple's corner. As soon as the Columbiana-Waterford job is finished, which should not require more than 30 days of good weather, it is said, this equipment will be removed to the St. Clair-Madison township project.

Mellert & Weidner of Medina have also advised Kirk that they expect to begin pouring concrete on the Hanover-Salem road between April 15 and April 30, weather permitting. This is a seven-mile project, and with favorable weather prevailing the road will be finished within 90 days.

Three steam shovels are now doing grading work on the East Liverpool-Youngstown road in St. Clair and Madison townships between Township Line school and Williamsport. No grading is being done on the section between Williamspor and Rogers. Probably two and one-half months will be required to finish the grading on the southern section of this road.

Here's glorious news for long suffering womankind! To every woman who periodically has suffered pain. Menstruation need no longer be painful. And it is Science that is speaking!

Midol is NOT a narcotic. It has no effect whatever on heart or nervous system. It acts directly on those organs affected by menstruation. They function normally, as they should, but the pain is banished. Complete relief—yes, perfect comfort—follows midol.

MARY ASTOR AT AMERICAN

Barrymore's Leading Lady in "Don Juan."

Fans all over the world will be glad to see the beautiful Mary Astor, again playing opposite John Barrymore, in "Don Juan," the gorgeous Warner picture now showing at the American theatre. And to all fans be it known, that their urgent request, that "The Two" be cast for the leading parts had much to do with the choice. (Mary Astor plays the star-like Adriana in "Don Juan.")

After the appearance of Warners' "Beau Brummel," in which Mary Astor was Barrymore's leading lady, hundreds of letters came from all parts of the world asking that they be again seen together.

The desire was further increased by the publicity photographers posed with Barrymore as Paola and Astor as Francesca, when there was talk of their doing "Paola and Francesca." Possibly the beauty of these photographs had something to do with the selection of the Italian Renaissance as the background for "Don Juan"—the "Paola and Francesca" period.

Barrymore and Astor have admittedly the most perfect profiles to be seen in pictures, and in "Don Juan," they make the perfect lovers of the world's dreams.

The picture was directed by Alan Crosland.

The Flash Parade Delights Large Crowd at Strand

The Flash Parade, a musical comedy introducing pretty girls and clever dancing scenes, is making a decided hit at the Strand. The costumes are beautiful and the dialogue interesting and snappy without the least display of vulgarity. The singing is good and the vaudeville acts used between acts proved to be of a high standard.

Bud Brownie scored a hit as the comedian, while DeGrace, chair balancer, was the recipient of much applause. The scenery was in keeping with the fine character of the performance. "Sky High" will be the bill for tonight and Thursday, and a complete change of program Friday.

MARY ASTOR AT AMERICAN

Barrymore's Leading Lady in "Don Juan."

Fans all over the world will be glad to see the beautiful Mary Astor, again playing opposite John Barrymore, in "Don Juan," the gorgeous Warner picture now showing at the American theatre. And to all fans be it known, that their urgent request, that "The Two" be cast for the leading parts had much to do with the choice. (Mary Astor plays the starlike Adriana in "Don Juan.")

After the appearance of Warners' "Beau Brummel," in which Mary Astor was Barrymore's leading lady, hundreds of letters came from all parts of the world asking that they be again seen together.

The desire was further increased by the publicity photographers posed with Barrymore as Paola and Astor as Francesca, when there was talk of their doing "Paola and Francesca." Possibly the beauty of these photographs had something to do with the selection of the Italian Renaissance as the background for "Don Juan"—the "Paola and Francesca" period.

Barrymore and Astor have admittedly the most perfect profiles to be seen in pictures, and in "Don Juan," they make the perfect lovers of the world's dreams.

The picture was directed by Alan Crosland.

Bud Brownie scored a hit as the comedian, while DeGrace, chair balancer, was the recipient of much applause. The scenery was in keeping with the fine character of the performance. "Sky High" will be the bill for tonight and Thursday, and a complete change of program Friday.

NEW WELLSVILLE-KENSINGTON HIGHWAY IS ASSURED

Work on Link to Summitville Will Begin April 15.

EQUIPMENT READY

Surfacing Job to Progress Westward From Mining Town.

Improvement of the Salineville-Summitville-Kensington highway, which will afford a hard surfaced road from Wellsville to Kensington, through Salineville, will be one of the first Columbiana county projects to be launched this spring, according to County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

The Holmes Construction company of Wooster, which was awarded the job on the Salineville-Summitville road, has notified Surveyor Kirk that first work on the highway will be started not later than April 15.

Equipment is now being moved to the work. Surfacing will begin at Salineville and progress westward.

Among the first jobs to be started will also be the Columbiana and New Waterford route, awarded last season to Lewis and Copeland of Lima.

The same company has the surfacing contract for the southern section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road and connecting with the Lincoln Highway at Apple's corner. As soon as the Columbiana-Waterford job is finished, which should not require more than 30 days of good weather, it is said, this equipment will be removed to the St. Clair-Madison township project.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE ON APRIL 1 APPEARS INEVITABLE

MINE OWNERS STAND PAT ON WAGE CUT PLAN

Illinois Operators are Not Opposed to Union.

SHUTDOWN LOOMS

Jacksonville Agreement Will Expire on Friday.

CHICAGO, March 30. — Complete suspension of soft coal mining in the central competitive union field on April 1, when the Jacksonville wage scale agreement expires, appeared inevitable today.

The coal operators association of Illinois was standing pat on its announced policy of shutting down its mines unless the United Mine Workers indicate they will consider lower wages, and informal advices to Rice Miller, president, were that operators in other fields were in a like temper.

The executive board of the association was called into session today but little beyond discussion of a course of action after the suspension, was expected of it.

No Attempt to Run Mines.

"As far as the Illinois field is concerned, "said Miller," there will be no attempt to run the mines with strikebreakers after the suspension. We are not opposed to the union."

Miller said he knew of no Illinois companies that expected to sign individual temporary extensions of the existing contracts.

"Complete suspension on April 1 appears inevitable," he said. "We believe some constructive change from the Jacksonville rate is necessary to prevent complete prostration of the unionized fields and ultimate disintegration of the United Mine workers.

"The abandonment of interstate negotiations and the crippling of the central competitive field is just one of the many signs of the pathetic failure of unionism under a stand pat policy which totally disregards economic and competitive fundamentals."

Miller said the central field could not continue to pay the existing wage contract and compete with non-union fields in West Virginia and Kentucky.

Union Blames Operators.

Union leaders were just as emphatic today in blaming the operators for the present impasse.

"The operators claim they must lower wages to compete with non-union fields," said one high union official. "They would have us agree to a reduction on the plea that then they will be able to save the central field.

"The fact remains that if the United Mine Workers consented to a reduction to meet the scales of the West Virginia and Kentucky fields, we would have no assurance the latter would not again reduce wages.

It is a big circle and the operators want us to be the goats."

The Jacksonville scale provided a flat scale of $7.50 for day labor and a sliding scale on a tonnage basis. The operators claim some of the tonnage men average $12 to $20 daily. Union men claim the figures are exaggerated and that on a yearly average the miners are lucky to make $800 because of intermittent working periods.

There were no meetings scheduled today between officials of the operators associations and the miners. Both sides on the surface were preparing for a long lay-off.

'CASEY AT BAT' AT CERAMIC

Wallace Beery Stars in Paramount Film Success.

"Take out the big bum!"
"Kill the umpire!"
"Come on, kid, knock a homer!"
"There goes the old ball game!"

These, and all the other expressions which make baseball the game it is, are included in Walace Beery's current Paramount starring comedy, "Casey at the Bat," which arrives at the Ceramic Theatre today for a four-day engagement. Beery, perhaps the actor to have made most progress during the past twelve months, due to inimitable performances in "Behind the Front," "We're in the Navy Now" and "Old Ironsides," enacts the small town junk man who suddenly finds himself catapulted to fame and fortune when a big league baseball scout signs him to a Giant contract.

Imagine if you will (it isn't difficult) Beery as the hero of America, the Babe Ruth of 1901. Picture the laughs as Wallace hits a home run with one hand while holding a stein of beer in the other. Think of the roars that'll be forthcoming as he climbs on the stage of the old Casino theatre and makes a personal appearance with the "original" Floradora Sextette. Then comes a trip to Coney Island and you'll wonder what the wild waves are saying. A morning in bed, duped into believing he's very ill and finally—the big game!

Ford Sterling enacts Beery's Columbus by "discovering' him. ZaSu is the Centerville belle and Sterling Holloway, Beery's villainous manager. Monte Brice directed this Hector Turnbull production.

SAPIRO FACES REED'S FIRE IN LIBEL SUIT

CROWD PRESENT

Missouri Senator Delves Into Forgotten Past.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 30.—Aaron Sapiro, the so-called "cooperative king" was pilloried today on the rack of cross-examination at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit in federal court.

Before a crowded courtroom and a jury that hung on every word, Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, delved into the forgotten past of Sapiro and into every detail of his amazing rise to power in the American farm world.

Reed hammered away at Sapiro's statement that he earned $400,000 from his professional practice in the years 1916 to 1926.

Present Strange Contrast.

Reed and Sapiro presented a strange contract. The senator, white-haired and deliberate, growled his questions, sometimes with a sneer in his voice and always in tones that expressed doubt of Sapiro. The "wheat king," black-haired and infectuous, replied in a soft voice, sometimes with a break in tones as though he had choked on a sob.

Reed went back to 1916 to open the cross-examination. He first asked Sapiro how he and Philip Ehrlich, San Francisco attorney, split their law fees. Sapiro said he got 60 per cent and Ehrlich got 40 per cent. Then Reed wanted to know what share of the fees went to Sapiro in all other law firms in which he had a membership. Usually, Sapiro said, he got 60 per cent of the fees.

Reed scored when he produced papers from a San Francisco law suit, involving Sapiro and two of his former law partners, David and Lawrence Levy. Sapiro said he never read the papers and upon objection of his counsel, the court would not allow Reed to ask questions on the case.

60 Days in Rum Cases

ions relate to village mayors and justices of the peace, is "null and unconstitutional," has been handed down by the Fifth Ohio district court of appeals.

This decision, announced by Appellate Judge L. B. Houck, Mt. Vernon, liberated Emmanuel Williams, Perry county, who had been fined $800 by a justice of the peace for alleged violation of dry laws.

"The legal effect of this decision would be to release all prisoners in Ohio, convicted before justices of the peace and mayors under the liquor laws of the state," said Judge Houck. "It is more drastic in effect than the recent decision of Chief Justice Taft of the U. S. supreme court."

Pointing out that this ruling is the first one on this question by an Ohio reviewing court, Judge Hough stated that it affects many convictions under the Crabbe act not affected by the supreme court decision.

Intention of filing a new suit in probate court against Williams was voiced by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Dugan, New Lexington.

45 Clevelanders Affected.

CLEVELAND, O., March 30.—Following the state supreme ruling at Columbus Tuesday, which handed another jolt to Ohio's raiding justices of the peace and mayors who have been handing out stiff fines in liquor cases, 45 Clevelanders will be released today from serving further time in jail for inability to pay liquor violation fines which were assessed by Cuyahoga county magistrates.

The supreme court ruled that Common Pleas Judge C. V. Weygandt was within his rights when he ordered former Sheriff Fred Kohler to release Joseph Goldstein from county jail here following Goldstein's filing of an affidavit of insolvency, which declared he was unable to pay a fine of $500 and costs.

The ruling is interpreted to mean that all liquor law violators who are jailed to work out a fine, may be released after serving 60 days by filing the insolvency affidavit.

In Cuyahoga county five men will be freed, while 40 others, including Goldstein, who have been free on habeas corpus proceedings, will be notified they need not return to jail.

THREE CLASH AS AFTERMATH OF RUM RAID

TWO MEN NABBED

Wyand and Spell Stage Second Fight at City Hall.

As an aftermath, police say, of a liquor violation arrest made by Wellsville police last Tuesday, Homer Wyand, Broadway, and Peter Spell, Wellsville, forfeited bonds of $15.80 in municipal court today upon charges of disorderly conduct by fighting.

Wyand was arrested and fined $400 and costs by Mayor Wallace Fogo after Wellsville police, last Tuesday, overtook his automobile along the Campground road while he is alleged to have been delivering three gallons of liquor to a Wellsville customer.

Wyand, police say, met Ralph Anania, Wellsville, father of Pasquale Anania, who was found dead in a Walnut street apartment a week ago, on East Sixth street at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He is said to have accused Anania of "tipping off" Wellsville police. He is alleged to have struck Anania. Wyand was arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran, who took him to police headquarters.

While arrangements were being made for bond, Anania, accompanied by Spell, said to be a relative, and another man came to city hall. Spell, police charge, struck Wyand while the two were in the office. Spell was immediately arrested by Chief of Police McDermott.

American attacks in the southernmost province of Kwangtung.

Thirteen Americans Isolated.

The French administration of Kwang Chowwan in Kwangtung has cabled a report that an American Catholic mission there has been looted and that the fathers in charge have been forced to take refuge in Kochow. The French authorities suggest that warships be sent there immediately.

Thirteen Americans are isolated at Hoihow on Hainan island, according to the French authorities, and grave fears are felt for their safety. It is recommended that a warship be sent there to investigate.

The Northerners apparently are not yet prepared to give resistance to the Cantonese for they have withdrawn in order from Nantungchow to the north, after the U. S. S. Pilsbury evacuated nine Amercans in that town and in Jukow.

Fire on Refugee Ships.

Cantonese continue to fire on refugee ships. The Tatung and Loongwu, bringing 105 American refugees from Tankow under the escort of the destroyer Paul Jones, was fired on as it passed Nanking during the night. There were no casualties although several rifle bullets hit the vessels.

The Cantonese have occupied the Standard Oil property in the British concession, but thus far have done no damage as an American destroyer has been standing by.

Retains Sovereignty in Hong Kong.

HONG KONG, China, March 30.—The British government has no intention whatever of surrendering its sovereignty in Hong Kong, or of abandoning or diminishing in any way its authority over the adjacent mainland, an official communique declared today Highest importance is attached to continued maintenance under British administration of Hong Kong and nearby territories, the communique stated.

LONDON, March 30.—Communists are in full power at Hankow and conditions have become intolerable for foreigners, according to a dispatch from Shanghai today.

Refugees are Stoned.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Further indiginities perpetrated by Chinese Nationalists upon Americans and foreigners were reported to the navy department today by Admiral C. S. Williams, commanding the Asiatic squadron.

The American Catholic mission at Fuchow has been looted, and foreign refugees leaving Nanking have been stoned by Chinese mobs, he reported.

American vessels in the Yangtze river are continually fired upon by Chinese snipers.

PEKING, March 30.—In contrast with the flame of terrorism which is racing over south China, Peking today is calm and peaceful.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, commander-in-chief of the northern army, by his iron measures, has completely suppressed activities of southern agitators, although the official organ of the government charges that the Russian Soviet embassy is a hotbed of propagandists, who are attempting to incite students and labor leaders.

On the surface there is no anti-foreign feeling here. The only danger that may arise, it is believed, would come from artificially incited mobs. It is reported that members of the "dare and die corps" of the southern army have made their way into Peking and they doubtless would become ringleaders if rioting could be fomented.

Suspects In Anania Death Will Seek Bond Tomorrow

Rini and Sister-in-law, Charged With Murder, Will Appear Before Probate Judge Riddle.

Application for bond for Salvatore Rini, 27, and Mrs. Marie Chorgas, 28, his sister-in-law, held in the county jail at Lisbon upon murder charges in the death of Pasquale Anania, 25, in a Walnut street apartment on March 22, will be heard by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, Lisbon, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The two suspects will be represented by Attorneys W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, and Samuel W. Crawford, of this city, while Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, J. F. Bauknecht, will oppose the release of the prisoners.

The grand jury will investigate the case on April 4.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 30.—Heavy selling of the low-priced industrial stocks, the oils and motors and a few specialties in the early trading unsettled the whole list, and the trend of prices was again downward. The outstanding exceptions were the Southwestern railroad stocks, which moved upward sharply under the lead of Missouri Pacific.

Dodge Motors, common and preferred, was compelled to absorb an enormous volume of liquidation and short selling, on rumors of greatly slackened production and the prospect of a merger with powerful competitors. The preferred stock dropped an additional 3 points to 73, while the common broke below 19 for the first time since flotation by the Dillon Read bankers.

All of the specialties were pounded severely by the bears who also opened up their heavy guns on the independent oil stocks selling Marland Phillips and others in this group in blocks of from 500 to 5000 shares. Broken Boveri, Electric Refrigeration and Radio Corporation continued to move downward, while heavy offerings of American Can depressed that stock to below 45.

A seven-point break in Pan-American western class B to $19 a share followed the omission of the quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, due at this time. Rumors of the possible passing of the Brown Boveri dividend tomorrow accompanied the decline of that stock to the record low price of 23⅞, compared with the year's high of 39½. Loss of business for the can manufacturers was given as the reason for the heavy selling of their stocks.

Call money was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

HENRY FORD, AUTO VICTIM, IN HOSPITAL

Motor King, Hurt in Crash, Operated Upon.

WILL RECOVER

His Counsel Makes Announcement in Libel Suit.

DETROIT, March 30.—Henry Ford has been operated upon for injuries suffered when he drove a Ford car down a steep embankment near his Dearborn estate last Sunday, it was announced today by his counsel at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit trial.

Ford is now a patient at the Henry Ford hospital and is resting easily. The operation was a minor one and "no serious complications are expected," his counsel said.

Ford's injuries will prevent him testifying this week at the million-dollar libel suit, it was said.

The accident occurred when Ford was forced off the south side of Michigan avenue near the Rouge river bridge while on his way home about 8:30 Sunday evening. His little Ford coupe plunged down an embankment and crashed into a tree.

The billionaire was knocked unconscious but after a while regained his senses and walked several hundred feet to his estate. There the gate keeper found him and rushed him to his house. Dr. R. D. McClure, chief physician at the Henry Ford hospital, attended the auto king and last night ordered him removed to the hospital for a minor operation.

"Mr. Ford strongly deprecates the suggestion that the accident was the result of intent on anyone's part.

"At present Mr. Ford is resting easily and no serious complications are expected.

STATE BUDGET PROVIDES FOR $46,693,472

House Committee Drafts Appropriation Bill.

18-MONTH FUND

Measure May be up for Passage on Friday.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Members of the house finance committee today were completing preparations for introducing in the house Friday the regular biennial appropriation bill. The measure, it was indicated, will provide for a budget approximating $45,693,472 to defray the cost of state governmental activities during the 18 months' period beginning July 1, next.

The bill, which may be called up for passage in the lower legislative branch next Tuesday, provides for appropriations aggregating about $7,512,226 less than the proposed budget sumbitted by Governor Vic Donahey in one of his legislative messages. The governor's recommendation totaled $54,205,698.

Cuts made by the committee, compared with the governor's budget, included $6,342,061 in the general division, $614,365 for educational institutions and $555,800 for state welfare institutions; $900,000 for school equalization funds and $3,427,061 for the state highway department.

The $900,000 cut in school funds was made in view of the proposal to enact a half-mill direct state tax levy to provide funds for wek school districts and for state educational institutions. This proposed levy, to be in effect but one year, is expected to yield about $6,500,000 in state revenue.

The reduction of $3,427,061 in highway funds was in expectation that the present legislature will increase the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon and that the additional $7,000,000 a year, resulting from the extra one-cent tax, will be used only for highway construction, 60 per cent of the money, about $4,200,000, going direct to the state highway department, and the other 40 per cent to be apportioned to the counties on the basis of motor vehicle population.

2,000 Flee Homes When Levee Breaks; Farm Zone Flooded

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 30.—Two thousand persons, driven from their homes last night when the Laconi circle levee tumbled into the river and flooded 19 square miles of farm lands, were being housed today in box cars and tents.

An opening in the levee created by the crumbling banks let the 51-foot swoolen Mississippi river rush into the circle, and flooded 12,350 acres of farm lands and drove 1,800 Negroes and 200 while persons from their homes.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE ON APRIL 1 APPEARS INEVITABLE

MINE OWNERS STAND PAT ON WAGE CUT PLAN

Illinois Operators are Not Opposed to Union.

SHUTDOWN LOOMS

Jacksonville Agreement Will Expire on Friday.

CHICAGO, March 30. — Complete suspension of soft coal mining in the central competitive union field on April 1, when the Jacksonville wage scale agreement expires, appeared inevitable today.

The coal operators association of Illinois was standing pat on its announced policy of shutting down its mines unless the United Mine Workers indicate they will consider lower wages, and informal advices to Rice Miller, president, were that operators in other fields were in a like temper.

The executive board of the association was called into session today but little beyond discussion of a course of action after the suspension, was expected of it.

No Attempt to Run Mines.

"As far as the Illinois field is concerned, "said Miller," there will be no attempt to run the mines with strikebreakers after the suspension. We are not opposed to the union."

Miller said he knew of no Illinois companies that expected to sign individual temporary extensions of the existing contracts.

"Complete suspension on April 1 appears inevitable," he said. "We believe some constructive change from the Jacksonville rate is necessary to prevent complete prostration of the unionized fields and ultimate disintegration of the United Mine workers.

"The abandonment of interstate negotiations and the crippling of the central competitive field is just one of the many signs of the pathetic failure of unionism under a stand pat policy which totally disregards economic and competitive fundamentals."

Miller said the central field could not continue to pay the existing wage contract and compete with non-union fields in West Virginia and Kentucky.

Union Blames Operators.

Union leaders were just as emphatic today in blaming the operators for the present impasse.

"The operators claim they must lower wages to compete with non-union fields," said one high union oficial. "They would have us agree to a reduction on the plea that then they will be able to save the central field.

"The fact remains that if the United Mine Workers consented to a reduction to meet the scales of the West Virginia and Kentucky fields, we would have no assurance the latter would not again reduce wages.

It is a big circle and the operators want us to be the goats."

The Jacksonville scale provided a flat scale of $7.50 for day labor and a sliding scale on a tonnage basis. The operators claim some of the tonnage men average $12 to $20 daily. Union men claim the figures are exaggerated and that on a yearly average the miners are lucky to make $800 because of intermittent working periods.

There were no meetings scheduled today between officials of the operators associations and the miners. Both sides on the surface were preparing for a long lay-off.

The "wheat king," black-haired and infectuous, replied in a soft voice, sometimes with a break in tones as though he had choked on a sob.

Reed went back to 1916 to open the cross-examination. He first asked Sapiro how he and Philip Ehrlich, San Francisco attorney, split their law fees. Sapiro said he got 60 per cent and Ehrlich got 40 per cent. Then Reed wanted to know what share of the fees went to Sapiro in all other law firms in which he had a membership. Usually, Sapiro said, he got 60 per cent of the fees.

Reed scored when he produced papers from a San Francisco law suit, involving Sapiro and two of his former law partners, David and Lawrence Levy. Sapiro said he never read the papers and upon objection of his counsel, the court would not allow Reed to ask questions on the case.

60 Days in Rum Cases

ions relate to village mayors and justices of the peace, is "null and unconstitutional," has been handed down by the Fifth Ohio district court of appeals.

This decision, announced by Appellate Judge L. B. Houck, Mt. Vernon, liberated Emmanuel Williams, Perry county, who had been fined $800 by a justice of the peace for alleged violation of dry laws.

"The legal effect of this decision would be to release all prisoners in Ohio, convicted before justices of the peace and mayors under the liquor laws of the state," said Judge Houck. "It is more drastic in effect than the recent decision of Chief Justice Taft of the U. S. supreme court."

Pointing out that this ruling is the first one on this question by an Ohio reviewing court, Judge Hough stated that it affects many convictions under the Crabbe act not affected by the supreme court decision.

Intention of filing a new suit in probate court against Williams was voiced by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Dugan, New Lexington.

45 Clevelanders Affected.

CLEVELAND, O., March 30.—Following the state supreme ruling at Columbus Tuesday, which handed another jolt to Ohio's raiding justices of the peace and mayors who have been handing out stiff fines in liquor cases, 45 Clevelanders will be released today from serving further time in jail for inability to pay liquor violation fines which were assessed by Cuyahoga county magistrates.

The supreme court ruled that Common Pleas Judge C. V. Weygandt was within his rights when he ordered former Sheriff Fred Kohler to release Joseph Goldstein from county jail here following Goldstein's filing of an affidavit of insolvency, which declared he was unable to pay a fine of $500 and costs.

The ruling is interpreted to mean that all liquor law violators who are jailed to work out a fine, may be released after serving 60 days by filing the insolvency affidavit.

In Cuyahoga county five men will be freed, while 40 others, including Goldstein, who have been free on habeas corpus proceedings, will be notified they need not return to jail.

THREE CLASH AS AFTERMATH OF RUM RAID

TWO MEN NABBED

Wyand and Spell Stage Second Fight at City Hall.

As an aftermath, police say, of a liquor violation arrest made by Wellsville police last Tuesday, Homer Wyand, Broadway, and Peter Spell, Wellsville, forfeited bonds of $15.80 in municipal court today upon charges of disorderly conduct by fighting.

Wyand was arrested and fined $400 and costs by Mayor Wallace Fogo after Wellsville police, last Tuesday, overtook his automobile along the Campground road while he is alleged to have been delivering three gallons of liquor to a Wellsville customer.

Wyand, police say, met Ralph Anania, Wellsville, father of Pasquale Anania, who was found dead in a Walnut street apartment a week ago, on East Sixth street at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He is said to have accused Anania of "tipping off" Wellsville police. He is alleged to have struck Anania. Wyand was arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran, who took him to police headquarters.

While arrangements were being made for bond, Anania, accompanied by Spell, said to be a relative, and another man came to city hall. Spell, police charge, struck Wyand while the two were in the office. Spell was immediately arrested by Chief of Police McDermott.

American attacks in the southernmost province of Kwangtung.

Thirteen Americans Isolated.

The French administration of Kwang Chowwan in Kwangtung has cabled a report that an American Catholic mission there has been looted and that the fathers in charge have been forced to take refuge in Kochow. The French authorities suggest that warships be sent there immediately.

Thirteen Americans are isolated at Hoihow on Hainan island, according to the French authorities, and grave fears are felt for their safety. It is recommended that a warship be sent there to investigate.

The Northerners apparently are not yet prepared to give resistance to the Cantonese for they have withdrawn in order from Nantungchow to the north, after the U. S. S. Pilsbury evacuated nine Amercans in that town and in Jukow.

Fire on Refugee Ships.

Cantonese continue to fire on refugee ships. The Tatung and Loong wu, bringing 105 American refugees from Tankow under the escort of the destroyer Paul Jones, was fired on as it passed Nanking during the night. There were no casualties although several rifle bullets hit the vessels.

The Cantonese have occupied the Standard Oil property in the British concession, but thus far have done no damage as an American destroyer has been standing by.

Retains Sovereignty in Hong Kong.

HONG KONG, China, March 30.—The British government has no intention whatever of surrendering its sovereignty in Hong Kong, or of abandoning or diminishing in any way its authority over the adjacent mainland, an official communique declared today Highest importance is attached to continued maintenance under British administration of Hong Kong and nearby territories, the communique stated.

LONDON, March 30.—Communists are in full power at Hankow and conditions have become intolerable for foreigners, according to a dispatch from Shanghai today.

Refugees are Stoned.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Further indiginifies perpetrated by Chinese Nationalists upon Americans and foreigners were reported to the navy department today by Admiral C. S. Williams, commanding the Asiatic squadron.

The American Catholic mission at Fuchow has been looted, and foreign refugees leaving Nanking have been stoned by Chinese mobs, he reported.

American vessels in the Yangtze river are continually fired upon by Chinese snipers.

PEKING, March 30.—In contrast with the flame of terrorism which is racing over south China, Peking today is calm and peaceful.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, commander-in-chief of the northern army, by his iron measures, has completely suppressed activities of southern agitators, although the official organ of the government charges that the Russian Soviet embassy is a hotbed of propagandists, who are attempting to incite students and labor leaders.

On the surface there is no anti-foreign feeling here. The only danger that may arise, it is believed, would come from artificially incited mobs. It is reported that members of the "dare and die corps" of the southern army have made their way into Peking and they doubtless would become ringleaders if rioting could be fomented.

Suspects In Anania Death Will Seek Bond Tomorrow

Rini and Sister-in-law, Charged With Murder, Will Appear Before Probate Judge Riddle.

Application for bond for Salvatore Rini, 27, and Mrs. Marie Chorgas, 28, his sister-in-law, held in the county jail at Lisbon upon murder charges in the death of Pasquale Anania, 25, in a Walnut street apartment on March 22, will be heard by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, Lisbon, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The two suspects will be represented by Attorneys W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, and Samuel W. Crawford, of this city, while Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, J. F. Bauknecht, will oppose the release of the prisoners.

The grand jury will investigate the case on April 4.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 30.—Heavy selling of the low-priced industrial stocks, the oils and motors and a few specialties in the early trading unsettled the whole list, and the trend of prices was again downward. The outstanding exceptions were the Southwestern railroad stocks, which moved upward sharply under the lead of Missouri Pacific.

Dodge Motors, common and preferred, was compelled to absorb an enormous volume of liquidation and short selling, on rumors of greatly slackened production and the prospect of a merger with powerful competitors. The preferred stock dropped an additional 3 points to 73, while the common broke below 19 for the first time since flotation by the Dillon Read bankers.

All of the specialties were pounded severely by the bears who also opened up their heavy guns on the independent oil stocks selling Marland Phillips and others in this group in blocks of from 500 to 5000 shares. Broken Boveri, Electric Refrigeration and Radio Corporation continued to move downward, while heavy offerings of American Can depressed that stock to below 45.

A seven-point break in Pan-American western class B to $19 a share followed the omission of the quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, due at this time. Rumors of the possible passing of the Brown Boveri dividend tomorrow accompanied the decline of that stock to the record low price of 23⅝, compared with the year's high of 39½. Loss of business for the can manufacturers was given as the reason for the heavy selling of their stocks.

Call money was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

HENRY FORD, AUTO VICTIM, IN HOSPITAL

Motor King, Hurt in Crash, Operated Upon.

His Counsel Makes Announcement in Libel Suit.

DETROIT, March 30.—Henry Ford has been operated upon for injuries suffered when he drove a Ford car down a steep embankment near his Dearborn estate last Sunday, it was announced today by his counsel at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit trial.

Ford is now a patient at the Henry Ford hospital and is resting easily. The operation was a minor one and "no serious complications are expected," his counsel said.

Ford's injuries will prevent him testifying this week at the million-dollar libel suit, it was said.

The accident occurred when Ford was forced off the south side of Michigan avenue near the Rouge river bridge while on his way home about 8:30 Sunday evening. His little Ford coupe plunged down an embankment and crashed into a tree.

The billionaire was knocked unconscious but after a while regained his senses and walked several hundred feet to his estate. There the gate keeper found him and rushed him to his house. Dr. R. D. McClure, chief physician at the Henry Ford hospital, attended the auto king and last night ordered him removed to the hospital for a minor operation.

"Mr. Ford strongly deprecates the suggestion that the accident was the result of intent on anyone's part.

"At present Mr. Ford is resting easily and no serious complications are expected.

STATE BUDGET PROVIDES FOR $46,693,472

House Committee Drafts Appropriation Bill.

18-MONTH FUND

Measure May be up for Passage on Friday.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Members of the house finance committee today were completing preparations for introducing in the house Friday the regular biennial appropriation bill. The measure, it was indicated, will provide for a budget approximating $45,693,472 to defray the cost of state governmental activities during the 18 months' period beginning July 1, next.

The bill, which may be called up for passage in the lower legislative branch next Tuesday, provides for appropriations aggregating about $7,512,226 less than the proposed budget sumbitted by Governor Vic Donahey in one of his legislative messages. The governor's recommendation totaled $54,205,698.

Cuts made by the committee, compared with the governor's budget, included $6,342,061 in the general division, $614,365 for educational institutions and $555,800 for state welfare institutions; $900,000 for school equalization funds and $3,427,061 for the state highway department.

The $900,000 cut in school funds was made in view of the proposal to enact a half-mill direct state tax levy to provide funds for wek school districts and for state educational institutions. This proposed levy, to be in effect but one year, is expected to yield about $6,500,000 in state revenue.

The reduction of $3,427,061 in highway funds was in expectation that the present legislature will increase the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon and that the additional $7,000,000 a year, resulting from the extra one-cent tax, will be used only for highway construction, 60 per cent of the money, about $4,200,000, going direct to the state highway department, and the other 40 per cent to be apportioned to the counties on the basis of motor vehicle population.

2,000 Flee Homes When Levee Breaks; Farm Zone Flooded

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 30.—Two thousand persons, driven from their homes last night when the Laconi circle levee tumbled into the river and flooded 19 square miles of farm lands, were being housed today in box cars and tents.

An opening in the levee created by the crumbling banks let the 51-foot swoolen Mississippi river rush into the circle, and flooded 12,350 acres of farm lands and drove 1,800 Negroes and 200 while persons from their homes.

FILIPINO REBEL IS CONDEMNED

COAL MINERS' STRIKE ON APRIL 1 APPEARS INEVITABLE

MINE OWNERS STAND PAT ON WAGE CUT PLAN

Illinois Operators are Not Opposed to Union.

SHUTDOWN LOOMS

Jacksonville Agreement Will Expire on Friday.

CHICAGO, March 30. — Complete suspension of soft coal mining in the central competitive union field on April 1, when the Jacksonville wage scale agreement expires, appeared inevitable today.

The coal operators association of Illinois was standing pat on its announced policy of shutting down its mines unless the United Mine Workers indicate they will consider lower wages, and informal advices to Rice Miller, president, were that operators in other fields were in a like temper.

The executive board of the association was called into session today but little beyond discussion of a course of action after the suspension, was expected of it.

No Attempt to Run Mines.

"As far as the Illinois field is concerned, "said Miller," there will be no attempt to run the mines with strikebreakers after the suspension. We are not opposed to the union."

Miller said he knew of no Illinois companies that expected to sign individual temporary extensions of the existing contracts.

"Complete suspension on April 1 appears inevitable," he said. "We believe some constructive change from the Jacksonville rate is necessary to prevent complete prostration of the unionized fields and ultimate disintegration of the United Mine workers.

"The abandonment of interstate negotiations and the crippling of the central competitive field is just one of the many signs of the pathetic failure of unionism under a stand pat policy which totally disregards economic and competitive fundamentals."

Miller said the central field could not continue to pay the existing wage contract and compete with non-union fields in West Virginia and Kentucky.

Union Blames Operators.

Union leaders were just as emphatic today in blaming the operators for the present impasse.

"The operators claim they must lower wages to compete with non-union fields," said one high union official. "They would have us agree to a reduction on the plea that then they will be able to save the central field.

"The fact remains that if the United Mine Workers consented to a reduction to meet the scales of the West Virginia and Kentucky fields, we would have no assurance the latter would not again reduce wages.

It is a big circle and the operators want us to be the goats."

The Jacksonville scale provided a flat scale of $7.50 for day labor and a sliding scale on a tonnage basis. The operators claim some of the tonnage men average $12 to $20 daily. Union men claim the figures are exaggerated and that on a yearly average the miners are lucky to make $800 because of intermittent working periods.

There were no meetings scheduled today between officials of the operators associations and the miners. Both sides on the surface were preparing for a long lay-off.

'CASEY AT BAT' AT CERAMIC

Wallace Beery Stars in Paramount Film Success.

"Take out the big bum!"
"Kill the umpire!"
"Come on, kid, knock a homer!"
"There goes the old ball game!"

These, and all the other expressions which make baseball the game it is, are included in Walace Beery's current Paramount starring comedy, "Casey at the Bat," which arrives at the Ceramic Theatre today for a four-day engagement. Beery, perhaps the actor to have made most progress during the past twelve months, due to inimitable performances in "Behind the Front," "We're in the Navy Now" and "Old Ironsides," enacts the small town junk man who suddenly finds himself catapulted to fame and fortune when a big league baseball scout signs him to a Giant contract.

Imagine if you will (it isn't difficult) Beery as the hero of America, the Babe Ruth of 1901. Picture the laughs as Wallace hits a home run with one hand while holding a stein of beer in the other. Think of the roars that'll be forthcoming as he climbs on the stage of the old Casino theatre and makes a personal appearance with the "original" Floradora Sextette. Then comes a trip to Coney Island and you'll wonder what the wild waves are saying. A morning in bed, duped into believing he's very ill and finally—the big game!

Ford Sterling enacts Beery's Columbus by "discovering' him. ZaSu is the Centerville belle and Sterling Holloway, Beery's villainous manager. Monte Brice directed this Hector Turnbull production.

interpreting Mohammed's Koran say monogamy is immoral, it is bad for women to be unmarried, and many must remain single if you don't let each man marry several women.

Mohammed said that a man should marry only as many women as he could really make happy. The modern Mohammedanism says that woman is happier married than unmarried.

A SENATE committee shows that ardent prohibitionists in six years spent $13,000,000 for prohibition. It seems a good deal, but is less than two cents per year per capita. You can't fight the demon rum, especially the bootleg demon rum, efficiently with that sum. Nevertheless, it would be interesting to know just how the $13,000,000 were spent.

SAPIRO FACES REED'S FIRE IN LIBEL SUIT

CROWD PRESENT

Missouri Senator Delves Into Forgotten Past.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 30.—Aaron Sapiro, the so-called "cooperative king" was pilloried today on the rack of cross-examination at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit in federal court.

Before a crowded courtroom and a jury that hung on every word, Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, delved into the forgotten past of Sapiro and into every detail of his amazing rise to power in the American farm world.

Reed hammered away at Sapiro's statement that he earned $400,000 from his professional practice in the years 1916 to 1926.

Present Strange Contrast.

Reed and Sapiro presented a strange contract. The senator, white-haired and deliberate, growled his questions, sometimes with a sneer in his voice and always in tones that expressed doubt of Sapiro. The "wheat king," black-haired and infectuous, replied in a soft voice, sometimes with a break in tones as though he had choked on a sob.

Reed went back to 1916 to open the cross-examination. He first asked Sapiro how he and Philip Ehrlich, San Francisco attorney, split their law fees. Sapiro said he got 60 per cent and Ehrlich got 40 per cent. Then Reed wanted to know what share of the fees went to Sapiro in all other law firms in which he had a membership. Usually, Sapiro said, he got 60 per cent of the fees.

Reed scored when he produced papers from a San Francisco law suit, involving Sapiro and two of his former law partners, David and Lawrence Levy. Sapiro said he never read the papers and upon objection of his counsel, the court would not allow Reed to ask questions on the case.

45 Clevelanders Affected.

CLEVELAND, O., March 30.—Following the state supreme ruling at Columbus Tuesday, which handed another jolt to Ohio's raiding justices of the peace and mayors who have been handing out stiff fines in liquor cases, 45 Clevelanders will be released today from serving further time in jail for inability to pay liquor violation fines which were assessed by Cuyahoga county magistrates.

The supreme court ruled that Common Pleas Judge C. V. Weygandt was within his rights when he ordered former Sheriff Fred Kohler to release Joseph Goldstein from county jail here following Goldstein's filing of an affidavit of insolvency, which declared he was unable to pay a fine of $500 and costs.

The ruling is interpreted to mean that all liquor law violators who are jailed to work out a fine, may be released after serving 60 days by filing the insolvency affidavit.

In Cuyahoga county five men will be freed, while 40 others, including Goldstein, who have been free on habeas corpus proceedings, will be notified they need not return to jail.

Retains Sovereignty in Hong Kong.

HONG KONG, China, March 30.—The British government has no intention whatever of surrendering its sovereignty in Hong Kong, or of abandoning or diminishing in any way its authority over the adjacent mainland, an official communique declared today Highest importance is attached to continued maintenance under British administration of Hong Kong and nearby territories, the communique stated.

LONDON, March 30.—Communists are in full power at Hankow and conditions have become intolerable for foreigners, according to a dispatch from Shanghai today.

Refugees are Stoned.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Further indiginifies perpetrated by Chinese Nationalists upon Americans and foreigners were reported to the navy department today by Admiral C. S. Williams, commanding the Asiatic squadron.

The American Catholic mission at Fuchow has been looted, and foreign refugees leaving Nanking have been stoned by Chinese mobs, he reported.

American vessels in the Yangtze river are continually fired upon by Chinese snipers.

PEKING, March 30.—In contrast with the flame of terrorism which is racing over south China, Peking today is calm and peaceful.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, commander-in-chief of the northern army, by his iron measures, has completely suppressed activities of southern agitators, although the official organ of the government charges that the Russian Soviet embassy is a hotbed of propagandists, who are attempting to incite students and labor leaders.

On the surface there is no anti-foreign feeling here. The only danger that may arise, it is believed, would come from artificially incited mobs. It is reported that members of the "dare and die corps" of the southern army have made their way into Peking and they doubtless would become ringleaders if rioting could be fomented.

Suspects In Anania Death Will Seek Bond Tomorrow

Rini and Sister-in-law, Charged With Murder, Will Appear Before Probate Judge Riddle.

Application for bond for Salvatore Rini, 27, and Mrs. Marie Chorgas, 28, his sister-in-law, held in the county jail at Lisbon upon murder charges in the death of Pasquale Anania, 25, in a Walnut street apartment on March 22, will be heard by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, Lisbon, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The two suspects will be represented by Attorneys W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, and Samuel W. Crawford, of this city, while Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, J. F. Bauknecht, will oppose the release of the prisoners.

The grand jury will investigate the case on April 4.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 30.—Heavy selling of the low-priced industrial stocks, the oils and motors and a few specialties in the early trading unsettled the whole list, and the trend of prices was again downward. The outstanding exceptions were the Southwestern railroad stocks, which moved upward sharply under the lead of Missouri Pacific.

Dodge Motors, common and preferred, was compelled to absorb an enormous volume of liquidation and short selling, on rumors of greatly slackened production and the prospect of a merger with powerful competitors. The preferred stock dropped an additional 3 points to 73, while the common broke below 19 for the first time since flotation by the Dillon Read bankers.

All of the specialties were pounded severely by the bears who also opened up their heavy guns on the independent oil stocks selling Marland Phillips and others in this group in blocks of from 500 to 5000 shares. Broken Boveri, Electric Refrigeration and Radio Corporation continued to move downward, while heavy offerings of American Can depressed that stock to below 45.

A seven-point break in Pan-American western class B to $19 a share followed the omission of the quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, due at this time. Rumors of the possible passing of the Brown Boveri dividend tomorrow accompanied the decline of that stock to the record low price of 23⅝, compared with the year's high of 39½. Loss of business for the can manufacturers was given as the reason for the heavy selling of their stocks.

Hankow, and about 40 Episcopal mission workers, who had previously sent word that they intended to remain, are now on their way to Shanghai. These missionaries were stationed at Hankow, Wuchang, Changsha, Ichang and Shashi. They took refuge upon the merchant ship Loogwo, which is being convoyed by a British man of war.

HENRY FORD, AUTO VICTIM, IN HOSPITAL

Motor King, Hurt in Crash, Operated Upon.

His Counsel Makes Announcement in Libel Suit.

DETROIT, March 30.—Henry Ford has been operated upon for injuries suffered when he drove a Ford car down a steep embankment near his Dearborn estate last Sunday, it was announced today by his counsel at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit trial.

Ford is now a patient at the Henry Ford hospital and is resting easily. The operation was a minor one and "no serious complications are expected," his counsel said.

Ford's injuries will prevent him testifying this week at the million-dollar libel suit, it was said.

The accident occurred when Ford was forced off the south side of Michigan avenue near the Rouge river bridge while on his way home about 8:30 Sunday evening. His little Ford coupe plunged down an embankment and crashed into a tree.

The billionaire was knocked unconscious but after a while regained his senses and walked several hundred feet to his estate. There the gate keeper found him and rushed him to his house. Dr. R. D. McClure, chief physician at the Henry Ford hospital, attended the auto king and last night ordered him removed to the hospital for a minor operation.

"Mr. Ford strongly deprecates the suggestion that the accident was the result of intent on anyone's part.

"At present Mr. Ford is resting easily and no serious complications are expected.

STATE BUDGET PROVIDES FOR $46,693,472

House Committee Drafts Appropriation Bill.

18-MONTH FUND

Measure May be up for Passage on Friday.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Members of the house finance committee today were completing preparations for introducing in the house Friday the regular biennial appropriation bill. The measure, it was indicated, will provide for a budget approximating $45,693,472 to defray the cost of state governmental activities during the 18 months' period beginning July 1, next.

The bill, which may be called up for passage in the lower legislative branch next Tuesday, provides for appropriations aggregating about $7,512,226 less than the proposed budget sumbitted by Governor Vic Donahey in one of his legislative messages. The governor's recommendation totaled $54,205,698.

Cuts made by the committee, compared with the governor's budget, included $6,342,061 in the general division, $614,365 for educational institutions and $555,800 for state welfare institutions; $900,000 for school equalization funds and $3,427,061 for the state highway department.

The $900,000 cut in school funds was made in view of the proposal to enact a half-mill direct state tax levy to provide funds for wek school districts and for state educational institutions. This proposed levy, to be in effect but one year, is expected to yield about $6,500,000 in state revenue.

The reduction of $3,427,061 in highway funds was in expectation that the present legislature will increase the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon and that the additional $7,000,000 a year, resulting from the extra one-cent tax, will be used only for highway construction, 60 per cent of the money, about $4,200,000, going direct to the state highway department, and the other 40 per cent to be apportioned to the counties on the basis of motor vehicle population.

2,000 Flee Homes When Levee Breaks; Farm Zone Flooded

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 30.—Two thousand persons, driven from their homes last night when the Laconi circle levee tumbled into the river and flooded 19 square miles of farm lands, were being housed today in box cars and tents.

An opening in the levee created by the crumbling banks let the 51-foot swoolen Mississippi river rush into the circle, and flooded 12,350 acres of farm lands and drove 1,800 Negroes and 200 while persons from their homes.

FILIPINO REBEL IS CONDEMNED

MANILA, P. I., March 30.—Florentino Soriano, leader of the Filipino constabulary soldiers who ran amuck on May 23, last, killing five civilians at San Ferando Pampanga, was sentenced to death today by the supreme court.

Members of the Ceramic City contingent put on a 15-minute program of music, selections being rendered by the glee club. C. C. Macdonald, Rock Springs park lessee, who accompanied the local party, spoke briefly. He invited members of the club to visit the park when the picnic season opens.

Members of the Wellsville and Leetonia clubs took part in the program. Frank Judge, Salineville, lieutenant-governor, made an address.

Rev. Ross Wilson, pastor of the Salineville United Presbyterian church and a former basketball and football player at Muskingum college, will be the speaker at tomorrow's noon luncheon meeting which will be held in Larkins' annex, Market street. His subject will be "The Right Community Spirit.

"I was so run-down and weak that I was discouraged with life. The very thought of food distressed me terribly. No matter what I ate I would suffer for hours from heartburn and gas that bloated my stomach. Sweeping and making the beds was drudgery. And my nerves were in such shape that I could not sit still a moment.

"Tanlac changed my life. Gave me strength and energy to live every day, every hour, happily, to do my housework without tiring. It put my stomach in good condition so that I now eat everything without a sign of trouble or pain. It has built me up from 93 to 110 pounds. Everyone who is ailing should take Tanlac."

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director,

DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE and her baby daughter, Emily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. Hattie is scolded for being late home and resolves it shall not happen again, but that night she again goes to the studio and is again late, Alice and Grandma wondering and worrying.

Hattie tells Alice that she has had the test, that it is a success and that she is to have a job in the movies.

Alice defends her against Grandma's anger. Alice and Hattie go to the studio and Hattie is offered a contract for three years and transportation for herself, Grandma, Alice and the baby to California.

They all start for the coast, accompanied by de Brissac. The latter starts Hattie's training by asking her about some books she has found in his drawing room.

CHAPTER NINE.

"You'll want to understand these things," he went on, with that air of casual kindness. "Emotional experience is necessary to an actress. You must know the emotions before you can express them. Ever had any experience?"

She could only sit very still.

"Sex experience?"

It seemed to her that she mustn't play the child. Again she moved her head in the negative.

"There'll be some of these crazy fellows after you out there, as soon as you begin to be known. But don't let them talk to you."

She tried to utter a meek, "I won't," but no sound came.

"Keep close to me," he added. "Tell me everything."

He hummed softly, in a musical voice; and took her hand, as he had in the evening. Good-humoredly, with an enthusiasm that seemed at moments rather boyish, he began telling her the story of the new picture. She felt it to be wonderful; about a beggar girl who was seen by the king as he rode out through the palace gate and became his consort and finally his queen in a time of political intrigue and wickedness and warfare, a time when only the pure soul of a guileless little girl could save a decadent people. There would be enormous, costly sets, thousands of extra people, battles that must eclipse Griffith's mightiest efforts, and scenes of love and passion more dramatic and richer in oriental splendor than any yet pictured on the screen.

She was to be the beggar girl.

"Now, my dear," he concluded, "you see why I'm going to give you so much time. I'm taking you, an inexperienced child, and putting you before the public as a leading woman. I'm going to make you a star over night—a star in your first picture. I'm capitalizing your inexperience. I shall use your youth, your freshness, your undeveloped emotions. You may as well understand now that I'm going to play on your feelings, stir up the eternal woman in you, rouse you to yearning, to passion. I shall have to develop you as the picture develops. At the beginning you are to be as pure as you are now, a simple-hearted child. Before I am through with you, you will find yourself beginning to be a woman. But you will also be an artist. I shall teach you. You have now the quality. That is all I need to work on. A picture—a great picture—is a work of art to which the individual is sacrificed. I am going to play on that virginal quality of yours, stir it, shock it. I am going to wring you, mold you. I may torture you. But you see the risk I am running. No other director would dare do it—take an inexperienced child like you for a leading part in this greatest picture. But I dare. I as Armand de Brissac. I know no rules. I am above rules."

"Your name, you say, is Hattie Johnson?"

"Yes." It was reassuring, to hear, at least, her own voice.

"That won't do. I will give you a name. Leave that to me. Leave everything to me." He turned sharply on her. His eyes seemed mercilessly to probe her, as they had probed her during the test. "You understand now why you must listen to no one but me?"

"Yes," she said, again.

"No man has ever done so much for an untried girl as I am going to do for you. But I must dominate you. No one must know what I am doing with you until I release the picture. I shall take your most important scenes secretly. I shall assemble and cut the picture myself. Not even the company will know until I choose to let them know. You are to tell nothing. Even your family are not to know what we are doing."

"Yes, Sir."

The reporter appeared in the doorway.

"Bring a table," ordered de Brissac. Then, abruptly distrait, he drew a brief case from under the seat, adding—"That is all now. I have word to do. Take those books back with you, if you like."

She got up, and stood holding to the door. She had seen enough in turning the pages of that thicker book to know that it couldn't be explained to Alice and Gran'ma. She felt her color rising. He was looking at her again, and, she knew, reading her thoughts.

"Rather leave them here?"

She seemed to be nodding. That look of quiet world-weariness that she thought magnificent had come again into his face.

"All right. You can sit in here and read anytime. Come in this afternoon about three. You'll have the place to yourself then. I'm playing bridge after lunch. But you'd better run along now."

Good-humoredly, with an enthusiasm that seemed at moments rather boyish, he began telling her the story of the new picture. She felt it to be wonderful; about a beggar girl who was seen by the king as he rode out through the palace gate and became his consort and finally his queen in a time of political intrigue and wickedness and warfare, a time when only the pure soul of a guileless little girl could save a decadent people. There would be enormous, costly sets, thousands of extra people, battles that must eclipse Griffith's mightiest efforts, and scenes of love and passion more dramatic and richer in oriental splendor than any yet pictured on the screen.

She was to be the beggar girl.

"Now, my dear," he concluded, "you see why I'm going to give you so much time. I'm taking you, an inexperienced child, and putting you before the public as a leading woman. I'm going to make you a star over night—a star in your first picture. I'm capitalizing your inexperience. I shall use your youth, your freshness, your undeveloped emotions. You may as well understand now that I'm going to play on your feelings, stir up the eternal woman in you, rouse you to yearning, to passion. I shall have to develop you as the picture develops. At the beginning you are to be as pure as you are now, a simple-hearted child. Before I am through with you, you will find yourself beginning to be a woman. But you will also be an artist. I shall teach you. You have now the quality. That is all I need to work on. A picture—a great picture—is a work of art to which the individual is sacrificed. I am going to play on that virginal quality of yours, stir it, shock it. I am going to wring you, mold you. I may torture you. But you see the risk I am running. No other director would dare do it—take an inexperienced child like you for a leading part in this greatest picture. But I dare. I as Armand de Brissac. I know no rules. I am above rules."

"Your name, you say, is Hattie Johnson?"

"Yes." It was reassuring, to hear, at least, her own voice.

"That won't do. I will give you a name. Leave that to me. Leave everything to me." He turned sharply on her. His eyes seemed mercilessly to probe her, as they had probed her during the test. "You understand now why you must listen to no one but me?"

"Yes," she said, again.

"No man has ever done so much for an untried girl as I am going to do for you. But I must dominate you. No one must know what I am doing with you until I release the picture. I shall take your most important scenes secretly. I shall assemble and cut the picture myself. Not even the company will know until I choose to let them know. You are to tell nothing. Even your family are not to know what we are doing."

"Yes, Sir."

The reporter appeared in the doorway.

"Bring a table," ordered de Brissac. Then, abruptly distrait, he drew a brief case from under the seat, adding—"That is all now. I have word to do. Take those books back with you, if you like."

She got up, and stood holding to the door. She had seen enough in turning the pages of that thicker book to know that it couldn't be explained to Alice and Gran'ma. She felt her color rising. He was looking at her again, and, she knew, reading her thoughts.

"Rather leave them here?"

She seemed to be nodding. That look of quiet world-weariness that she thought magnificent had come again into his face.

"All right. You can sit in here and read anytime. Come in this afternoon about three. You'll have the place to yourself then. I'm playing bridge after lunch. But you'd better run along now."

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director,

DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE and her baby daughter, Emily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. Hattie is scolded for being late home and resolves it shall not happen again, but that night she again goes to the studio and is again late, Alice and Grandma wondering and worrying.

Hattie tells Alice that she has had the test, that it is a success and that she is to have a job in the movies.

Alice defends her against Grandma's anger. Alice and Hattie go to the studio and Hattie is offered a contract for three years and transportation for herself, Grandma, Alice and the baby to California.

They all start for the coast, accompanied by de Brissac. The latter starts Hattie's training by asking her about some books she has found in his drawing room.

CHAPTER NINE.

"You'll want to understand these things," he went on, with that air of casual kindness. "Emotional experience is necessary to an actress. You must know the emotions before you can express them. Ever had any experience?"

She could only sit very still.

"Sex experience?"

It seemed to her that she mustn't play the child. Again she moved her head in the negative.

"There'll be some of these crazy fellows after you out there, as soon as you begin to be known. But don't let them talk to you.'

She tried to utter a meek, "I won't," but no sound came.

"Keep close to me," he added. "Tell me everything."

He hummed softly, in a musical voice; and took her hand, as he had in the evening. Good-humoredly, with an enthusiasm that seemed at moments rather boyish, he began telling her the story of the new picture. She felt it to be wonderful; about a beggar girl who was seen by the king as he rode out through the palace gate and became his consort and finally his queen in a time of political intrigue and wickedness and warfare, a time when only the pure soul of a guileless little girl could save a decadent people. There would be enormous, costly sets, thousands of extra people, battles that must eclipse Griffith's mightiest efforts, and scenes of love and passion more dramatic and richer in oriental splendor than any yet pictured on the screen.

"BEAU GESTE" HERE APRIL 7

Ronald Colman Heads Cast Coming to Ceramic.

One of the most carefully selected motion picture casts and one that contains many "big" names, has been brought together for "Beau Geste," which opens a three-day run April 7 at the Ceramic theatre.

Ronald Colman plays the title role, that of Michael or "Beau," the eldest of the three young brother English aristocrats who sacrifice all for each other. Neil Hamilton is the second brother, "Digby" and Ralph Forbes, playing his first screen role in America, the youngest "John."

Alice Joyce, one of the screen's most beautiful women, and Mary Brian, are the two—and the only two—principal feminine players.

Noah Beery was assigned to what critics declare to be one of the finest character roles in the history of motion pictures, that of the brave, brutal sergeant of the French Foreign Legion with whom the three brothers go to the Sahara Desert to appear in one of the strangest, most dramatic and tragic of real life exploits.

Of scarcely less importance are the roles played by Norman Trevor, a major in the Legion, and William Powell, George Rigas, Victor MacLaglen, Bernard Siegel and Donald Stuart as enlisted men.

Four of the most important child screen parts of the year are enacted by Maurice Murphy, Philippe deLacey and Mickey McBan, who portray the three brothers in an early sequence, and Betsy Ann Hisle, appearing as Mary Brian.

Herbert Brenon directed this huge production for Paramount at an encampment of 2,000 men on the Desert, southwest of Yuma, Arizona.

Major Percival Christopher Wren is the author of "Beau Geste," John Russell and Herbert Brenon adapted it for screen use and Paul Schofield wrote the continuity.

Four of the most important child screen parts of the year are enacted by Maurice Murphy, Philippe deLacey and Mickey McBan, who portray the three brothers in an early sequence, and Betsy Ann Hisle, appearing as Mary Brian.

Herbert Brenon directed this huge production for Paramount at an encampment of 2,000 men on the Desert, southwest of Yuma, Arizona.

Major Percival Christopher Wren is the author of "Beau Geste," John Russell and Herbert Brenon adapted it for screen use and Paul Schofield wrote the continuity.

"BEAU GESTE" HERE APRIL 7

Ronald Colman Heads Cast Coming to Ceramic.

One of the most carefully selected motion picture casts and one that contains many "big" names, has been brought together for "Beau Geste," which opens a three-day run April 7 at the Ceramic theatre.

Ronald Colman plays the title role, that of Michael or "Beau," the eldest of the three young brother English aristocrats who sacrifice all for each other. Neil Hamilton is the second brother, "Digby" and Ralph Forbes, playing his first screen role in America, the youngest "John."

Alice Joyce, one of the screen's most beautiful women, and Mary Brian, are the two—and the only two—principal feminine players.

Noah Beery was assigned to what critics declare to be one of the finest character roles in the history of motion pictures, that of the brave, brutal sergeant of the French Foreign Legion with whom the three brothers go to the Sahara Desert to appear in one of the strangest, most dramatic and tragic of real life exploits.

Of scarcely less importance are the roles played by Norman Trevor, a major in the Legion, and William Powell, George Rigas, Victor MacLaglen, Bernard Siegel and Donald Stuart as enlisted men.

Four of the most important child screen parts of the year are enacted by Maurice Murphy, Philippe deLacey and Mickey McBan, who portray the three brothers in an early sequence, and Betsy Ann Hisle, appearing as Mary Brian.

STONEHAM DENIES McGRAW IS TRYING TO SELL HIS CLUB STOCK

Session With Pilot Is Held To Discuss Roush, Former Says

Proposed Sale of Hornsby's Stock in Cardinals Also is Talked Over by Giant Moguls; Will go no Further With Roush.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Unqualified denial that John McGraw's surreptitious visit here was prompted by a desire to sell his stock in the Giants to either Tex Rickard or "Fuzzy" Anderson, St. Louis promoter, because he had gone heavily "on the nut" in Florida real estate was entered today by Charles A. Stoneham, president of the club. The visit ended yesterday afternoon just as mysteriously as it began when McGraw boarded a train at 3:40 o'clock for Chattanooga but Stoneham neglected to explain the stealth with which this departure was achieved.

Neither did he account for the fact that the Giants' office staff was instructed to inform callers that "Mr. McGraw had left town," when actually the man was conferring with Stoneham at the Hotel Commodore, four blocks away. Stoneham, in fact, denied that such a conference took place.

He accounted for McGraw's visit by declaring that illness in the Stoneham family had prevented him from meeting his manager in the south and that it had become necessary for them to get together in order to devise some cunning scheme whereby it might be possible to overcome Eddie Roush's natural repugnance to a sum like $25,000. The matter of awakening the interest of Roger Hornsby in anything less than $120,000 for his stock in the Cardinals also was discussed at length, it was said.

To a direct question about the allegation that McGraw was trying to unload his Giant stock, Stoneham said:

"As far as I know, there's nothing to it. Mr. McGraw seemed very happy and the matter of stock wasn't mentioned. He knows that, if he wanted to sell his shares, he could get more for them from me than he could elsewhere.

"We talked about the club and, when he left, McGraw felt that he would be able to persuade Hornsby to sell his stock in the Cardinals when they got together in Chattanooga on Thursday. I understand that he will invite Roush to meet him there, too, and maybe they will be able to iron out their differences.

"We have gone as far as we care to with Roush, for when I made the trade I thought he would be willing to play for the Giants for the money he was demanding and not getting in Cincinnati. It seems not, however; so we have increased our bid several times and now we will go no higher

"Hornsby is another matter. He is in condition, is a big help to the young players and has given our club a fighting spirit it lacked during the last two years. But he is making one mistake. He is confusing the value of his stock with the value of stock that carries with it a controlling interest. Hornsby, I know, has been offered his price of $105 a share but the offer is contingent upon the necessity of the buyer getting a controlling interest. However, Sam Breadon wants to stay in baseball and won't sell, so there you are. I think, however, that McGraw will be able to straighten things out with Hornsby and his attorney, William Fahey, when they meet."

In regard to the story of McGraw's effort to dispose of his own stock, Stoneham pointed out that their agreement called for no sale of stock by either man without letting the other have first bid.

PAULSEY SIGNS WITH ELKS FOR FINAL SERIES

Big Center in Action Here Friday Against Lafayettes.

Tony Paulsey, Youngstown basketball star who led an unknown, unheralded cage squad from a little place known as Campbell, just outside of Youngstown, to the heights in the second annual Tri-State tournament here over the weekend, will loom as a tower of strength on the East Liverpool Elks club when the lodgemen go up against the second best team in western Pennsylvania—the Fink Lafayettes — on Friday night at the high school gymnasium here.

The clash will be the opener of a home and home series with the Lafayettes, the champions of the Allegheny county circuit.

In a telephone conversation with Coach Bill Powell, of the Antlers last night, Paulsey promised that he would be on the job for the series.

The Youngstown lad, who also led the Youngstown Eagles to the city's class A championship a couple of weeks ago, will take Ray Wilde's place at center.

Had Wilde been able to play, no additional strength would have been necessary for the series, but without him, the team is something like a racing car without a motor. The rest of the necessary parts are there, but the heart is missing.

With Paulsey in the lineup, however, Dave Shupe and Nate Lippe at forwards and Captain Smith Anderson and "Chuck" McConville at the guards, it would be no surprise if the Elks were to take the Lafayettes, or else make it mighty interesting.

The Lafayettes are scheduled to tackle the Cleveland Rosenblums tonight at Duquesne where the Antlers will play their return match with the Lafayettes next week.

Continue Minor League Tour.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—The Browns come here today to continue their minor league tour. Yesterday they beat Mobile 3 to 1.

EDDIE FARRELL

Nominating EDDIE FARRELL.

BECAUSE he was a student at the University of Pennsylvania one June day in 1925.

Because he was playing third base for the Giants the next day

Because he was forced to retire before the end of the game with a spike wound in his arm, but was back in the lineup the next day.

Because he proved himself such a promising player in a few days that McGraw has held onto him ever since.

Because he is a brilliant infielder in his own right today, but must warm the bench because of the presence of Freddy Lindstrom and Travis Jackson, two other brilliant youngsters on the team.

And because he is wise enough to know that a youngster can learn considerable baseball from the bench while waiting his chance on the field.

Straying into a railway tunnel near Cowden, England, a young bull delayed all traffic for nearly two hours until two palatelayers drove it out and let the trains proceed.

NEW YORK, March 30. — Jimmy Britt had his ulna bone back in the good old day and I seem to remember that Jack Delaney lost to Jim Maloney because he contracted a severe case of tennis arm while shooting a cross court volley to a sparring partner's beard. It remained for Fred Fitzsimmons, of the Giants, to win the adjustable coat tail, however.

Fred, it seems, hasn't been much use to the Giants in the spring training plans. He was unfortunate enough as to suffer an attack of that dreaded of all maladies, the rocking chair knuckle.

Fitzsimmons usually is a fast worker who gets into condition early and it surprised no one that he reported to McGraw at Sarasota, Fla., ready for anything that might transpire. Thus it happened that he was sitting in his rocking chair one fine night, fondling a dime and thinking his own particular thoughts.

It really seemed too bad that the coin in question wasn't really a quarter, for the fact of the matter is that he inadvertently dropped it. Had it been a quarter or more, it seems possible that he would have risen hastily to his feet and retrieved same with all due alacrity.

As it was, the thing was a dime and Fred was almost languid as he reached down. Not immediately finding what he sought, Fred decided to reach further and thereupon howled in anguish.

Startled natives, fearing that a rattler had wandered in out of the sand dunes beyond the town limits, rushed for all known antidotes and restoratives, including hair oil. But their solicitude was both ill timed and unnecessary.

The soldier who slept on his watch is an old story. But Fred Fitzsimmons' act is virgin now. He is the first ball player who ever rocked on his own hand.

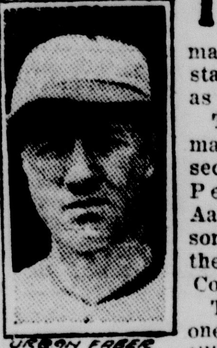
Faber--Schalk Combination Is Granddaddy of Batteries



URBAN FABER

THE Chicago White Sox will exhibit a new manager when they start the season—as everyone knows. There'll be a new man cavorting at second — Roger Peckinpaugh or Aaron Ward, or someone besides the departed Eddie Collins.

There'll be someone in Johnny Mostil's place in the outfield. And part of the time there'll be new faces in the pitching box perhaps.

But the Sox will resemble the team of preceding years to a considerable extent for all these changes.

This for the simple reason that the team still has Urban Faber and Ray Schalk.

Grandaddys of the Game.

These two veterans stand out as the oldest battery pair extant in the major leagues. That is, they have been working together on the same ball club longer than any other pitcher-catcher combination afloat.

They hooked up to win a pennant for the White Sox the same summer the Kaiser started out to lick the world. The summer the first regiments of doughboys began hobnobbing with the French flappers, Faber and Schalk had been parties to one pennant and the summer after the kaiser bowed to Foch the American league took it from the Sox again.

Schalk is the older in point of service. The Sox bosses bought him from Milwukee August 5, 1912, for a price reported to be $17,000. He worked in 23 games that year and showed enough to win the regular berth without a struggle the following spring. Beginning with the full season of 1913 he proceeded to catch over 100 games a season for 11 consecutive campaigns. To date he has worked in a total of 1,737 contests.

His brilliant work behind the plate and his knack of hitting 'em at the right time offset his failure to collect a .300 batting average. His record of .286 his first season up is the best he has won to date.

Lucky Month for Sox.

Faber joined the Sox in August, too—August 25, 1914, and by the end of the season had won eight games—and lost the same number. His first full season with the club, 1915, was his best as far as total winnings are concerned. That campaign he won 24 games and lost 13. Last year, oddly enough, was his best, based on a winning average. He won 15 and lost 8 for a percentage of .652.

In 1918—the war year—he boasted an average of .833 but was credited with but five victories.

Faber is one of the few remaining spitball pitchers in the game but does not depend upon the saliva slant entirely by any means. He has a good "hook," a good knuckle ball, and fair speed.

His faith in the old red flannel shirt as a protection for the good right arm and the color of his hair are two reasons for his nickname "Red."

The Pirates had Faber twice before he joined the White Sox but decided they couldn't wait for him to deliver. Which may or may not be listed as one of the many boners of the baseball moguls by and large.

ST. PAUL BANTAM WINS 8-ROUNDER

CHICAGO, March 30.—Joey Thomas, St. Paul bantamweight, today holds a decision over Tiger Jack Burns of California, scored at the end of eight fast rounds in last night's windup event at the Lincoln club show. Because of Thomas' longer reach, Burns could not get to him.

Sox To See Game.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 30.—"Hurry up and get your work done and you can go to the ball game," Manager Ray Schalk told his White sox today. Kansas City is playing an exhibition series here against Shreveport. The Sox go through a hard practice session in the morning and then watch the ball game in the afternoon.

TURK NASH CLUB MEET THURSDAY

City League Nine to Name Officers for 1927 Campaign.

Preliminary plans for their share of the opening festivities of the City Industrial Baseball circuit for 1927 will be discussed by officials and players of the Turk-Nash club at a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Turk Nash salesrooms, Dresden avenue.

The club will elect officers for the campaign, including a manager, secretary-treasurer and captain.

The following players are asked to attend the meeting:

Alf and Eddie Baylie, Pollock, McConnell, E. Mundy, Morgan, Watson, Deshler, Howell, H. Schneidmiller, Springer, Runyon, Alcock, Talbot, Cunningham, Fowler and any other player not now on any of the club rosters, who want tryouts.

John Fowler has piloted the club successfully for the last several seasons, and it is very probable that he will be re-named to direct the team this year.

STONEHAM DENIES McGRAW IS TRYING TO SELL HIS CLUB STOCK

Session With Pilot Is Held To Discuss Roush, Former Says

Proposed Sale of Hornsby's Stock in Cardinals Also is Talked Over by Giant Moguls; Will go no Further With Roush.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Unqualified denial that John McGraw's surreptitious visit here was prompted by a desire to sell his stock in the Giants to either Tex Rickard or "Fuzzy" Anderson, St. Louis promoter, because he had gone heavily "on the nut" in Florida real estate was entered today by Charles A. Stoneham, president of the club. The visit ended yesterday afternoon just as mysteriously as it began when McGraw boarded a train at 3:40 o'clock for Chattanooga but Stoneham neglected to explain the stealth with which this departure was achieved.

Neither did he account for the fact that the Giants' office staff was instructed to inform callers that "Mr. McGraw had left town," when actually the man was conferring with Stoneham at the Hotel Commodore, four blocks away. Stoneham, in fact, denied that such a conference took place.

He accounted for McGraw's visit by declaring that illness in the Stoneham family had prevented him from meeting his manager in the south and that it had become necessary for them to get together in order to devise some cunning scheme whereby it might be possible to overcome Eddie Roush's natural repugnance to a sum like $25,000. The matter of awakening the interest of Roger Hornsby in anything less than $120,000 for his stock in the Cardinals also was discussed at length, it was said.

To a direct question about the allegation that McGraw was trying to unload his Giant stock, Stoneham said:

"As far as I know, there's nothing to it. Mr. McGraw seemed very happy and the matter of stock wasn't mentioned. He knows that, if he wanted to sell his shares, he could get more for them from me than he could elsewhere.

"We talked about the club and, when he left, McGraw felt that he would be able to persuade Hornsby to sell his stock in the Cardinals when they got together in Chattanooga on Thursday. I understand that he will invite Roush to meet him there, too, and maybe they will be able to iron out their differences.

"We have gone as far as we care to with Roush, for when I made the trade I thought he would be willing to play for the Giants for the money he was demanding and not getting in Cincinnati. It seems not, however; so we have increased our bid several times and now we will go no higher.

"Hornsby is another matter. He is in condition, is a big help to the young players and has given our club a fighting spirit it lacked during the last two years. But he is making one mistake. He is confusing the value of his stock with the value of stock that carries with it a controlling interest. Hornsby, I know, has been offered his price of $105 a share but the offer is contingent upon the necessity of the buyer getting a controlling interest. However, Sam Breadon wants to stay in baseball and won't sell, so there you are. I think, however, that McGraw will be able to straighten things out with Hornsby and his attorney, William Fahey, when they meet."

In regard to the story of McGraw's effort to dispose of his own stock, Stoneham pointed out that their agreement called for no sale of stock by either man without letting the other have first bid.

PAULSEY SIGNS WITH ELKS FOR FINAL SERIES

Big Center in Action Here Friday Against Lafayettes.

Tony Paulsey, Youngstown basketball star who led an unknown, unheralded cage squad from a little place known as Campbell, just outside of Youngstown, to the heights in the second annual Tri-State tournament here over the weekend, will loom as a tower of strength on the East Liverpool Elks club when the lodgemen go up against the second best team in western Pennsylvania—the Fink Lafayettes — on Friday night at the high school gymnasium here.

The clash will be the opener of a home and home series with the Lafayettes, the champions of the Allegheny county circuit.

In a telephone conversation with Coach Bill Powell, of the Antlers last night, Paulsey promised that he would be on the job for the series.

The Youngstown lad, who also led the Youngstown Eagles to the city's class A championship a couple of weeks ago, will take Ray Wilde's place at center.

Had Wilde been able to play, no additional strength would have been necessary for the series, but without him, the team is something like a racing car without a motor. The rest of the necessary parts are there, but the heart is missing.

With Paulsey in the lineup, however, Dave Shupe and Nate Lippe at forwards and Captain Smith Anderson and "Chuck" McConville at the guards, it would be no surprise if the Elks were to take the Lafayettes, or else make it mighty interesting.

The Lafayettes are scheduled to tackle the Cleveland Rosenblums tonight at Duquesne where the Antlers will play their return match with the Lafayettes next week.

Continue Minor League Tour.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—The Browns come here today to continue their minor league tour. Yesterday they beat Mobile 3 to 1.

EDDIE FARRELL

Nominating EDDIE FARRELL.

BECAUSE he was a student at the University of Pennsylvania one June day in 1925.

Because he was playing third base for the Giants the next day

Because he was forced to retire before the end of the game with a spike wound in his arm, but was back in the lineup the next day.

Because he proved himself such a promising player in a few days that McGraw has held onto him ever since.

Because he is a brilliant infielder in his own right today, but must warm the bench because of the presence of Freddy Lindstrom and Travis Jackson, two other brilliant youngsters on the team.

And because he is wise enough to know that a youngster can learn considerable baseball from the bench while waiting his chance on the field.

Straying into a railway tunnel near Cowden, England, a young bull delayed all traffic for nearly two hours until two palatelayers drove it out and let the trains proceed.

NEW YORK, March 30. — Jimmy Britt had his ulna bone back in the good old day and I seem to remember that Jack Delaney lost to Jim Maloney because he contracted a severe case of tennis arm while shooting a cross court volley to a sparring partner's beard. It remained for Fred Fitzsimmons, of the Giants, to win the adjustable coat tail, however.

Fred, it seems, hasn't been much use to the Giants in the spring training plans. He was unfortunate enough as to suffer an attack of that dreaded of all maladies, the rocking chair knuckle.

Fitzsimmons usually is a fast worker who gets into condition early and it surprised no one that he reported to McGraw at Sarasota, Fla., ready for anything that might transpire. Thus it happened that he was sitting in his rocking chair one fine night, fondling a dime and thinking his own particular thoughts.

It really seemed too bad that the coin in question wasn't really a quarter, for the fact of the matter is that he inadvertently dropped it. Had it been a quarter or more, it seems possible that he would have risen hastily to his feet and retrieved same with all due alacrity.

As it was, the thing was a dime and Fred was almost languid as he reached down. Not immediately finding what he sought, Fred decided to reach further and thereupon howled in anguish.

Startled natives, fearing that a rattler had wandered in out of the sand dunes beyond the town limits, rushed for all known antidotes and restoratives, including hair oil. But their solicitude was both ill timed and unnecessary.

The soldier who slept on his watch is an old story. But Fred Fitzsimmons' act is virgin now. He is the first ball player who ever rocked on his own hand.

Faber--Schalk Combination Is Granddaddy of Batteries

URBAN FABER

THE Chicago White Sox will exhibit a new manager when they start the season—as everyone knows.

There'll be a new man cavorting at second — Roger Peckinpaugh or Aaron Ward, or someone besides the departed Eddie Collins.

There'll be someone in Johnny Mostil's place in the outfield. And part of the time there'll be new faces in the pitching box perhaps.

But the Sox will resemble the team of preceding years to a considerable extent for all these changes.

This for the simple reason that the team still has Urban Faber and Ray Schalk.

Grandaddys of the Game.

These two veterans stand out as the oldest battery pair extant in the major leagues. That is, they have been working together on the same ball club longer than any other pitcher-catcher combination afloat.

They hooked up to win a pennant for the White Sox the same summer the Kaiser started out to lick the world. The summer the first regiments of doughboys began hobnobbing with the French flappers, Faber and Schalk had been parties to one pennant and the summer after the kaiser bowed to Foch the American league took it from the Sox again.

Schalk is the older in point of service. The Sox bosses bought him from Milwukee August 5, 1912, for a price reported to be $17,000. He worked in 23 games that year and showed enough to win the regular berth without a struggle the following spring. Beginning with the full season of 1913 he proceeded to catch over 100 games a season for 11 consecutive campaigns. To date he has worked in a total of 1,737 contests.

His brilliant work behind the plate and his knack of hitting 'em at the right time offset his failure to collect a .300 batting average. His record of .286 his first season up is the best he has won to date.

Lucky Month for Sox.

Faber joined the Sox in August, too—August 25, 1914, and by the end of the season had won eight games—and lost the same number. His first full season with the club, 1915, was his best as far as total winnings are concerned. That campaign he won 24 games and lost 13. Last year, oddly enough, was his best, based on a winning average. He won 15 and lost 8 for a percentage of .652.

In 1918—the war year—he boasted an average of .833 but was credited with but five victories.

Faber is one of the few remaining spitball pitchers in the game but does not depend upon the saliva slant entirely by any means. He has a good "hook," a good knuckle ball, and fair speed.

His faith in the old red flannel shirt as a protection for the good right arm and the color of his hair are two reasons for his nickname "Red."

The Pirates had Faber twice before he joined the White Sox but decided they couldn't wait for him to deliver. Which may or may not be listed as one of the many boners of the baseball moguls by and large.

ST. PAUL BANTAM WINS 8-ROUNDER

CHICAGO, March 30.—Joey Thomas, St. Paul bantamweight, today holds a decision over Tiger Jack Burns of California, scored at the end of eight fast rounds in last night's windup event at the Lincoln club show. Because of Thomas' longer reach, Burns could not get to him.

Sox To See Game.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 30.—"Hurry up and get your work done and you can go to the ball game," Manager Ray Schalk told his White sox today. Kansas City is playing an exhibition series here against Shreveport. The Sox go through a hard practice session in the morning and then watch the ball game in the afternoon.

TURK NASH CLUB MEET THURSDAY

City League Nine to Name Officers for 1927 Campaign.

Preliminary plans for their share of the opening festivities of the City Industrial Baseball circuit for 1927 will be discussed by officials and players of the Turk-Nash club at a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Turk Nash salesrooms, Dresden avenue.

The club will elect officers for the campaign, including a manager, secretary-treasurer and captain.

The following players are asked to attend the meeting:

Alf and Eddie Baylie, Pollock, McConnell, E. Mundy, Morgan, Watson, Deshler, Howell, H. Schneidmiller, Springer, Runyon, Alcock, Talbot, Cunningham, Fowler and any other player not now on any of the club rosters, who want tryouts.

PAULSEY SIGNS WITH ELKS FOR FINAL SERIES

Big Center in Action Here Friday Against Lafayettes.

Tony Paulsey, Youngstown basketball star who led an unknown, unheralded cage squad from a little place known as Campbell, just outside of Youngstown, to the heights in the second annual Tri-State tournament here over the weekend, will loom as a tower of strength on the East Liverpool Elks club when the lodgemen go up against the second best team in western Pennsylvania—the Fink Lafayettes — on Friday night at the high school gymnasium here.

The clash will be the opener of a home and home series with the Lafayettes, the champions of the Allegheny county circuit.

In a telephone conversation with Coach Bill Powell, of the Antlers last night, Paulsey promised that he would be on the job for the series.

The Youngstown lad, who also led the Youngstown Eagles to the city's class A championship a couple of weeks ago, will take Ray Wilde's place at center.

Had Wilde been able to play, no additional strength would have been necessary for the series, but without him, the team is something like a racing car without a motor. The rest of the necessary parts are there, but the heart is missing.

With Paulsey in the lineup, however, Dave Shupe and Nate Lippe at forwards and Captain Smith Anderson and "Chuck" McConville at the guards, it would be no surprise if the Elks were to take the Lafayettes, or else make it mighty interesting.

The Lafayettes are scheduled to tackle the Cleveland Rosenblums tonight at Duquesne where the Antlers will play their return match with the Lafayettes next week.

Continue Minor League Tour.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—The Browns come here today to continue their minor league tour. Yesterday they beat Mobile 3 to 1.

The SPORTS HALL of FAME
EDDIE FARRELL

Nominating EDDIE FARRELL.

BECAUSE he was a student at the University of Pennsylvania one June day in 1925.

Because he was playing third base for the Giants the next day

Because he was forced to retire before the end of the game with a spike wound in his arm, but was back in the lineup the next day.

Because he proved himself such a promising player in a few days that McGraw has held onto him ever since.

Because he is a brilliant infielder in his own right today, but must warm the bench because of the presence of Freddy Lindstrom and Travis Jackson, two other brilliant youngsters on the team.

And because he is wise enough to know that a youngster can learn considerable baseball from the bench while waiting his chance on the field.

Straying into a railway tunnel near Cowden, England, a young bull delayed all traffic for nearly two hours until two palatelayers drove it out and let the trains proceed.

NEW YORK, March 30. — Jimmy Britt had his ulna bone back in the good old day and I seem to remember that Jack Delaney lost to Jim Maloney because he contracted a severe case of tennis arm while shooting a cross court volley to a sparring partner's beard. It remained for Fred Fitzsimmons, of the Giants, to win the adjustable coat tail, however.

Fred, it seems, hasn't been much use to the Giants in the spring training plans. He was unfortunate enough as to suffer an attack of that dreaded of all maladies, the rocking chair knuckle.

Fitzsimmons usually is a fast worker who gets into condition early and it surprised no one that he reported to McGraw at Sarasota, Fla., ready for anything that might transpire. Thus it happened that he was sitting in his rocking chair one fine night, fondling a dime and thinking his own particular thoughts.

It really seemed too bad that the coin in question wasn't really a quarter, for the fact of the matter is that he inadvertently dropped it. Had it been a quarter or more, it seems possible that he would have risen hastily to his feet and retrieved same with all due alacrity.

As it was, the thing was a dime and Fred was almost languid as he reached down. Not immediately finding what he sought, Fred decided to reach further and thereupon howled in anguish.

Startled natives, fearing that a rattler had wandered in out of the sand dunes beyond the town limits, rushed for all known antidotes and restoratives, including hair oil. But their solicitude was both ill timed and unnecessary.

The soldier who slept on his watch is an old story. But Fred Fitzsimmons' act is virgin now. He is the first ball player who ever rocked on his own hand.

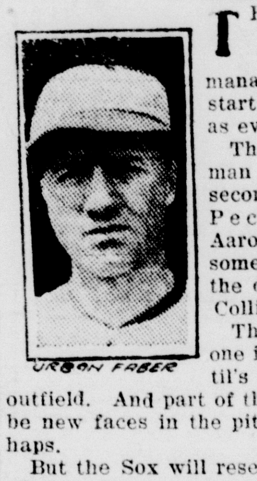
Faber--Schalk Combination Is Granddaddy of Batteries



THE Chicago White Sox will exhibit a new manager when they start the season—as everyone knows There'll be a new man cavorting at second — Roger Peckinpaugh or Aaron Ward, or someone besides the departed Eddie Collins.

There'll be someone in Johnny Mostil's place in the outfield. And part of the time there'll be new faces in the pitching box perhaps.

But the Sox will resemble the team of preceding years to a considerable extent for all these changes.

This for the simple reason that the team still has Urban Faber and Ray Schalk.

Grandaddys of the Game.

These two veterans stand out as the oldest battery pair extant in the major leagues. That is, they have been working together on the same ball club longer than any other pitcher-catcher combination afloat.

They hooked up to win a pennant for the White Sox the same summer the Kaiser started out to lick the world. The summer the first regiments of doughboys began hobnobbing with the French flappers, Faber and Schalk had been parties to one pennant and the summer after the kaiser bowed to Foch the American league took it from the Sox again.

Schalk is the older in point of service. The Sox bosses bought him from Milwukee August 5, 1912, for a price reported to be $17,000. He worked in 23 games that year and showed enough to win the regular berth without a struggle the following spring. Beginning with the full season of 1913 he proceeded to catch over 100 games a season for 11 consecutive campaigns. To date he has worked in a total of 1,737 contests.

His brilliant work behind the plate and his knack of hitting 'em at the right time offset his failure to collect a .300 batting average. His record of .286 his first season up is the best he has won to date.

Lucky Month for Sox.

Faber joined the Sox in August, too—August 25, 1914, and by the end of the season had won eight games—and lost the same number. His first full season with the club, 1915, was his best as far as total winnings are concerned. That campaign he won 24 games and lost 13. Last year, oddly enough, was his best, based on a winning average. He won 15 and lost 8 for a percentage of .652.

In 1918—the war year—he boasted an average of .833 but was credited with but five victories.

Faber is one of the few remaining spitball pitchers in the game but does not depend upon the saliva slant entirely by any means. He has a good "hook," a good knuckle ball, and fair speed.

His faith in the old red flannel shirt as a protection for the good right arm and the color of his hair are two reasons for his nickname "Red."

The Pirates had Faber twice before he joined the White Sox but decided they couldn't wait for him to deliver. Which may or may not be listed as one of the many boners of the baseball moguls by and large.

ST. PAUL BANTAM WINS 8-ROUNDER

CHICAGO, March 30.—Joey Thomas, St. Paul bantamweight, today holds a decision over Tiger Jack Burns of California, scored at the end of eight fast rounds in last night's windup event at the Lincoln club show. Because of Thomas' longer reach, Burns could not get to him.

Sox To See Game.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 30.—"Hurry up and get your work done and you can go to the ball game," Manager Ray Schalk told his White sox today. Kansas City is playing an exhibition series here against Shreveport. The Sox go through a hard practice session in the morning and then watch the ball game in the afternoon.

TURK NASH CLUB MEET THURSDAY

City League Nine to Name Officers for 1927 Campaign.

Preliminary plans for their share of the opening festivities of the City Industrial Baseball circuit for 1927 will be discussed by officials and players of the Turk-Nash club at a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Turk Nash salesrooms, Dresden avenue.

The club will elect officers for the campaign, including a manager, secretary-treasurer and captain.

The following players are asked to attend the meeting:

Alf and Eddie Baylie, Pollock, McConnell, E. Mundy, Morgan, Watson, Deshler, Howell, H. Schneidmiller, Springer, Runyon, Alcock, Talbot, Cunningham, Fowler and any other player not now on any of the club rosters, who want tryouts.

John Fowler has piloted the club successfully for the last several seasons, and it is very probable that he will be re-named to direct the team this year.

CHICAGO, March 30.—London, Ky., and Safford, Ariz., will face each other when second round play in the national interscholastic basketball tournament gets under way at the University of Chicago today.

The final second round games of the "Y" Junior basketball tournament will be played tonight at the "Y." The Buckeyes will battle the Bulgers while the Five Horsemen will oppose the Hill Tops. The Buckeye-Bulger fray is scheduled to start at 7:30 and the Five Horsemen-Hill Tops contest will start after the first half of the opener.

Still a Boy!

Sh! Sixty odd years and well we know it—
But 'that Kruschen feeling' doesn't show it."

Are you "getting on" in years? Have you begun to dread the approach of old age?

There is no reason why you should—if you're healthy. Anyhow, it's a mistake to reckon up your age in years. There's many a man of forty who has already got one foot in the grave, while his next-door neighbor, who confesses cheerfully to sixty, has still a score or more years of healthy activity in front of him. Which, then, is the "older" of the two.

The healthy man can snap his fingers at the calendar. He knows he's going to enjoy his "old age" with just as much relish as he enjoyed his youth. Because he has been careful to keep his blood pure and virile, the blood of youth still courses through his veins.

The way to keep the blood in this happy and healthy condition is to take the "little daily dose of Kruschen Salts.

Each morning dose you take—tasteless in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea—is a perfect blend of the six vital salts your body needs for its healthy life. You must get those salts from somewhere, or your blood will become impure and debilitated, you will get run down and depressed, an easy prey to rheumatism, gout, indigestion, 'flu and any epidemic that may come along. Kruschen Salts are those salts. Hence the necessity for the "little daily dose."

The effect of Kruschen is not only to keep the blood pure and to drive all impurities out of the body. It has a tonic influence on the whole system, bracing you up physically and mentally, filling you with the joy of life and cheery self-confidence that passing years are powerless to mar.

Get a 60 cent bottle of Kruschen Tablets now and begin a new life tomorrow. You'll feel many years younger before you are many days older.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee
Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning—1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Kruschen Salts

60 Tablets—60 Cents—all druggists.

Good Health for a Trifle a Day

IMPORTANT: Grandpa and his health creating Kruschen Salts have only lately come to the United States. In England, Germany, and Holland, as well as Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Canada, Kruschen is the biggest selling proprietory medicine—the sales are enormous. There's a reason—Two tablets of Kruschen in your cup of coffee, tea or hot water every morning. "It's the little daily dose that does it." Start today to get "that Kruschen feeling."

Still a Boy!
Sh! Sixty odd years and well we know it—
But 'that Kruschen feeling' doesn't show it.'

Are you "getting on" in years? Have you begun to dread the approach of old age?

There is no reason why you should—if you're healthy. Anyhow, it's a mistake to reckon up your age in years. There's many a man of forty who has already got one foot in the grave, while his next-door neighbor, who confesses cheerfully to sixty, has still a score or more years of healthy activity in front of him. Which, then, is the "older" of the two.

The healthy man can snap his fingers at the calendar. He knows he's going to enjoy his "old age" with just as much relish as he enjoyed his youth. Because he has been careful to keep his blood pure and virile, the blood of youth still courses through his veins.

The way to keep the blood in this happy and healthy condition is to take the "little daily dose of Kruschen Salts.

Each morning dose you take—tasteless in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea—is a perfect blend of the six vital salts your body needs for its healthy life. You must get those salts from somewhere, or your blood will become impure and debilitated, you will get run down and depressed, an easy prey to rheumatism, gout, indigestion, 'flu and any epidemic that may come along. Kruschen Salts are those salts. Hence the necessity for the "little daily dose."

The effect of Kruschen is not only to keep the blood pure and to drive all impurities out of the body. It has a tonic influence on the whole system, bracing you up physically and mentally, filling you with the joy of life and cheery self-confidence that passing years are powerless to mar.

Get a 60 cent bottle of Kruschen Tablets now and begin a new life tomorrow. You'll feel many years younger before you are many days older.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee
Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning — 1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Kruschen Salts

60 Tablets—60 Cents—all druggists.

Good Health for a Trifle a Day

IMPORTANT: Grandpa and his health creating Kruschen Salts have only lately come to the United States. In England, Germany, and Holland, as well as Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Canada, Kruschen is the biggest selling proprietory medicine—the sales are enormous. There's a reason—

Two tablets of Kruschen in your cup of coffee, tea or hot water every morning.
It's the little daily dose that does it."
Start today to get "that Kruschen feeling."

Still a boy!

Sh! Sixty odd years and well we know it—
But 'that Kruschen feeling' doesn't show it."

Are you "getting on" in years? Have you begun to dread the approach of old age?

There is no reason why you should—if you're healthy. Anyhow, it's a mistake to reckon up your age in years. There's many a man of forty who has already got one foot in the grave, while his next-door neighbor, who confesses cheerfully to sixty, has still a score or more years of healthy activity in front of him. Which, then, is the "older" of the two.

The healthy man can snap his fingers at the calendar. He knows he's going to enjoy his "old age" with just as much relish as he enjoyed his youth. Because he has been careful to keep his blood pure and virile, the blood of youth still courses through his veins.

The way to keep the blood in this happy and healthy condition is to take the "little daily dose of Kruschen Salts.

Each morning dose you take—tasteless in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea—is a perfect blend of the six vital salts your body needs for its healthy life. You must get those salts from somewhere, or your blood will become impure and debilitated, you will get run down and depressed, an easy prey to rheumatism, gout, indigestion, 'flu and any epidemic that may come along. Kruschen Salts are those salts. Hence the necessity for the "little daily dose."

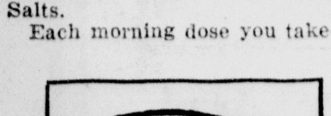
The effect of Kruschen is not only to keep the blood pure and to drive all impurities out of the body. It has a tonic influence on the whole system, bracing you up physically and mentally, filling you with the joy of life and cheery self-confidence that passing years are powerless to mar.

Get a 60 cent bottle of Kruschen Tablets now and begin a new life tomorrow. You'll feel many years younger before you are many days older.



Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning—1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Kruschen Salts

60 Tablets—60 Cents—all druggists.

Good Health for a Trifle a Day

IMPORTANT: Grandpa and his health creating Kruschen Salts have only lately come to the United States. In England, Germany, and Holland, as well as Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Canada, Kruschen is the biggest selling proprietary medicine—the sales are enormous. There's a reason.

Two tablets of Kruschen in your cup of coffee, tea or hot water every morning.

Start today to get "that Kruschen feeling."

SEBRING PLACE

Mesdames W. L. Murphy and Homer J. Taylor to Sing Tonight.

Before the largest week night attendance of the campaign, Rev. Joseph B. Edie, Youngstown Methodist pastor, spoke of "The Influence of the Christian Life" at the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last evening. His subject for this evening will be "Our Life Record."

"As one can tell a miller by his clothing, a miner by his cap and a business man by his habit so is a Christian disclosed to all coming in contact with him or her," he averred. "And being a Christian the influence exuding consciously and unconsciously from such an individual is constant and can only be measured in results by eternal stanrdards."

The revival is unusual for East Liverpool, the country's chief pottery center, in that both Rev. Mr. Conn, the pastor and Rev. Mr. Edie, the evangelist, are former practical potters. The former, was, before his conversion in 1913 under the evangelistic endeavors of Rev. William Huff, a one-time resident, at Sebring, Ohio, a jiggerman in one of the potteries there.

In the same town Rev. Mr. Edie was a warehouse man before his conversion in a tabernacle campaign by Evangelist Daniel Shannon, of Indiana. Both later went to Ashley college at Wilmer, Ky., from which they graduated.

It was Mrs. W. L. Murphy, also a former East Liverpool resident, now of Sebring, who was instrumental in having Rev. Mr. Conn go to college and prepare for the ministry. She, in her continued interest in his welfare, will be at tonight's meeting and with her sister, Mrs. Homer Taylor of Park Boulevard, will sing at the preliminary service. Both have sung at various revival services throughout the years in and about East Liverpool.

Following his graduation in 1921, Rev. Mr. Conn was assigned to Brilliant, Ohio, by Bishop Anderson where he remained until his transfer here last fall. Rev. Mr. Edie has held pastorates in Fulton, Ashley and Youngstown, Ohio.

Following a spirited song service last night Rev. and Mrs. Conn sang, "Marvelous Grace" with Mrs. Edie as accompanist. The latter, accompanied by Mrs. H. F. Burns, sang, "Love Never Faileth."

Haskin's Letter

the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, and the New York Heart Association, four of the principal organizations in the big city that are concerned with finding employment for handicapped men and women.

There are in all twelve of these social agencies in New York and it costs them more than $100,000 a year to find jobs for the physically and mentally deficient men and women who must have gainful occupations but can not find work themselves. More than 1000 persons so handicapped apply for such help every month in Manhattan, and although there are twelve organizations that undertake to render the necessary assistance it remains a fact that there are large groups of the handicapped who are not adequately provided for. The neglected ones are particularly the blind and the deaf and dumb, it is stated.

One big reason this form of social work is not functioning successfully is the lack of coordination among those undertaking it. Employers, it is said, become irritated by repeated visits from representatives of different agencies, all of which have the same general objective in view but are operating upon a hit or miss basis and are not equipped with information as to the labor requirements of the employers or their attitude toward giving work to anybody who can, perhaps, only "make half a hand."

The suggestion growing out of this ascertainment of fact is that there should be fewer agencies, that they should all work together, and that they should maintain a common card index system that will be of aid and value to all. If this is brought about, it is predicted, this branch of social work will not be so expensive, and thus the burden will be eased for those who must or do supply the funds.

Another factor that contributes largely to the problem of helping handicapped men and women to become self-supporting is the prejudice of many employers against having such persons in their establishments. Many such an employer has been known to reject offhand, without the slightest consideration of the subject, the suggestion that he give work to even a limited number of unfortunates.

And yet it is asserted by the experts that with proper discrimination in the assignment of work physically handicapped persons often make desirable employees. This is evidenced, it is pointed out in the report of Miss LaDame's survey, by the fact that a large proportion of the handicapped for whom work was found by social agencies of New York last year were placed with firms which had had previous experience with handicapped workers, and that in some instances handicapped persons have been advanced to executive or other important positions.

Still another difficulty, the reports says is the mental attitude of the handicapped persons toward work. They underestimate their ability to do it. They have probably been humored and made to feel that they are entitled to very special consideration.

As a result they are extremely hard to suit and their desires are often out of keeping with their qualifications. On the other hand, there are those who lack confidence in themselves and require a great deal of bolstering up on the part of the agencies.

Cripples in particular, says the report, are prone to become obsessed with the idea that the world is not giving them a square deal. Those who have this idea are handicapped not only by their physical disability but by their mental attitude toward life. And yet, in spite of all this distorted view of their social usefulness, rights, and obligations on the part of those who must be helped, the report says that the testimony of employers n New York as well as in Cleveland and Detroit indicates that many handicapped workers, if placed in properly selected occupations, are just as satisfactory as workers with no disability, and are often even more efficient.

Among social agencies there are two quite different policies in the placement of handicapped workers, according to the investigator. The first policy is indicated by the statement by the head of one agency: "Unless I believe that a handicapped applicant can become an economic asset to an employer, I won't send him out to try to get a job. As for those handicapped applicants who are not good employment investments, they must be a charge upon the community. Sheltered workshops or some other means of meeting these needs must be provided."

The second policy, it is explained, places emphasis on the immediate need of the applicant for employment. The important thing, it holds, is to get a job for the applicant. He needs it from a therapeutic as well as from an economic point of view. Somehow the employer must be persuaded to try him.

In reporting the result of the survey, William Hodson, executive director of the Welfare Council, said: "The significance of this report lies not so much in the findings as in the fact that social agencies which were already doing very good work in this field themselves recognized the possibility of improving their service to the community through coordination of their work, and so asked the Russell Sage Foundation to investigate their activities, and cooperated most thoroughly in the investigation."

REV. J. B. EDIE, EVANGELIST, ONCE POTTER

SEBRING PLACE

Mesdames W. L. Murphy and Homer J. Taylor to Sing Tonight.

Before the largest week night attendance of the campaign, Rev. Joseph B. Edie, Youngstown Methodist pastor, spoke of "The Influence of the Christian Life" at the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last evening. His subject for this evening will be "Our Life Record."

"As one can tell a miller by his clothing, a miner by his cap and a business man by his habit so is a Christian disclosed to all coming in contact with him or her," he averred. "And being a Christian the influence exuding consciously and unconsciously from such an individual is constant and can only be measured in results by eternal stanrdards."

The revival is unusual for East Liverpool, the country's chief pottery center, in that both Rev. Mr. Conn, the pastor and Rev. Mr. Edie, the evangelist, are former practical potters. The former, was, before his conversion in 1913 under the evangelistic endeavors of Rev. William Huff, a one-time resident, at Sebring, Ohio, a jiggerman in one of the potteries there.

In the same town Rev. Mr. Edie was a warehouse man before his conversion in a tabernacle campaign by Evangelist Daniel Shannon, of Indiana. Both later went to Ashley college at Wilmer, Ky., from which they graduated.

It was Mrs. W. L. Murphy, also a former East Liverpool resident, now of Sebring, who was instrumental in having Rev. Mr. Conn go to college and prepare for the ministry. She, in her continued interest in his welfare, will be at tonight's meeting and with her sister, Mrs. Homer Taylor of Park Boulevard, will sing at the preliminary service. Both have sung at various revival services throughout the years in and about East Liverpool.

Following his graduation in 1921, Rev. Mr. Conn was assigned to Brilliant, Ohio, by Bishop Anderson where he remained until his transfer here last fall. Rev. Mr. Edie has held pastorates in Fulton, Ashley and Youngstown, Ohio.

Following a spirited song service last night Rev. and Mrs. Conn sang, "Marvelous Grace" with Mrs. Edie as accompanist. The latter, accompanied by Mrs. H. F. Burns, sang, "Love Never Faileth."

the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, and the New York Heart Association, four of the principal organizations in the big city that are concerned with finding employment for handicapped men and women.

There are in all twelve of these social agencies in New York and it costs them more than $100,000 a year to find jobs for the physically and mentally deficient men and women who must have gainful occupations but can not find work themselves. More than 1000 persons so handicapped apply for such help every month in Manhattan, and although there are twelve organizations that undertake to render the necessary assistance it remains a fact that there are large groups of the handicapped who are not adequately provided for. The neglected ones are particularly the blind and the deaf and dumb, it is stated.

One big reason this form of social work is not functioning successfully is the lack of coordination among those undertaking it. Employers, it is said, become irritated by repeated visits from representatives of different agencies, all of which have the same general objective in view but are operating upon a hit or miss basis and are not equipped with information as to the labor requirements of the employers or their attitude toward giving work to anybody who can, perhaps, only "make half a hand."

The suggestion growing out of this ascertainment of fact is that there should be fewer agencies, that they should all work together, and that they should maintain a common card index system that will be of aid and value to all. If this is brought about, it is predicted, this branch of social work will not be so expensive, and thus the burden will be eased for those who must or do supply the funds.

Another factor that contributes largely to the problem of helping handicapped men and women to become self-supporting is the prejudice of many employers against having such persons in their establishments. Many such an employer has been known to reject offhand, without the slightest consideration of the subject, the suggestion that he give work to even a limited number of unfortunates.

And yet it is asserted by the experts that with proper discrimination in the assignment of work physically handicapped persons often make desirable employees. This is evidenced, it is pointed out in the report of Miss LaDame's survey, by the fact that a large proportion of the handicapped for whom work was found by social agencies of New York last year were placed with firms which had had previous experience with handicapped workers, and that in some instances handicapped persons have been advanced to executive or other important positions.

Still another difficulty, the reports says is the mental attitude of the handicapped persons toward work. They underestimate their ability to do it. They have probably been humored and made to feel that they are entitled to very special consideration.

As a result they are extremely hard to suit and their desires are often out of keeping with their qualifications. On the other hand, there are those who lack confidence in themselves and require a great deal of bolstering up on the part of the agencies.

Cripples in particular, says the report, are prone to become obsessed with the idea that the world is not giving them a square deal. Those who have this idea are handicapped not only by their physical disability but by their mental attitude toward life. And yet, in spite of all this distorted view of their social usefulness, rights, and obligations on the part of those who must be helped, the report says that the testimony of employers in New York as well as in Cleveland and Detroit indicates that many handicapped workers, if placed in properly selected occupations, are just as satisfactory as workers with no disability, and are often even more efficient.

Among social agencies there are two quite different policies in the placement of handicapped workers, according to the investigator. The first policy is indicated by the statement by the head of one agency: "Unless I believe that a handicapped applicant can become an economic asset to an employer, I won't send him out to try to get a job. As for those handicapped applicants who are not good employment investments, they must be a charge upon the community. Sheltered workshops or some other means of meeting these needs must be provided."

The second policy, it is explained, places emphasis on the immediate need of the applicant for employment. The important thing, it holds, is to get a job for the applicant. He needs it from a therapeutic as well as from an economic point of view. Somehow the employer must be persuaded to try him.

In reporting the result of the survey, William Hodson, executive director of the Welfare Council, said:

"The significance of this report lies not so much in the findings as in the fact that social agencies which were already doing very good work in this field themselves recognized the possibility of improving their service to the community through coordination of their work, and so asked the Russell Sage Foundation to investigate their activities, and cooperated most thoroughly in the investigation."

REV. J. B. EDIE, EVANGELIST, ONCE POTTER

SEBRING PLACE

Mesdames W. L. Murphy and Homer J. Taylor to Sing Tonight.

Before the largest week night attendance of the campaign, Rev. Joseph B. Edie, Youngstown Methodist pastor, spoke of "The Influence of the Christian Life" at the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last evening. His subject for this evening will be "Our Life Record."

"As one can tell a miller by his clothing, a miner by his cap and a business man by his habit so is a Christian disclosed to all coming in contact with him or her," he averred. "And being a Christian the influence exuding consciously and unconsciously from such an individual is constant and can only be measured in results by eternal stanrdards."

The revival is unusual for East Liverpool, the country's chief pottery center, in that both Rev. Mr. Conn, the pastor and Rev. Mr. Edie, the evangelist, are former practical potters. The former, was, before his conversion in 1913 under the evangelistic endeavors of Rev. William Huff, a one-time resident, at Sebring, Ohio, a jiggerman in one of the potteries there.

In the same town Rev. Mr. Edie was a warehouse man before his conversion in a tabernacle campaign by Evangelist Daniel Shannon, of Indiana. Both later went to Ashley college at Wilmer, Ky., from which they graduated.

It was Mrs. W. L. Murphy, also a former East Liverpool resident, now of Sebring, who was instrumental in having Rev. Mr. Conn go to college and prepare for the ministry. She, in her continued interest in his welfare, will be at tonight's meeting and with her sister, Mrs. Homer Taylor of Park Boulevard, will sing at the preliminary service. Both have sung at various revival services throughout the years in and about East Liverpool.

Following his graduation in 1921, Rev. Mr. Conn was assigned to Brilliant, Ohio, by Bishop Anderson where he remained until his transfer here last fall. Rev. Mr. Edie has held pastorates in Fulton, Ashley and Youngstown, Ohio.

Following a spirited song service last night Rev. and Mrs. Conn sang, "Marvelous Grace" with Mrs. Edie as accompanist. The latter, accompanied by Mrs. H. F. Burns, sang, "Love Never Faileth."

Haskin's Letter

the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, and the New York Heart Association, four of the principal organizations in the big city that are concerned with finding employment for handicapped men and women.

There are in all twelve of these social agencies in New York and it costs them more than $100,000 a year to find jobs for the physically and mentally deficient men and women who must have gainful occupations but can not find work themselves. More than 1000 persons so handicapped apply for such help every month in Manhattan, and although there are twelve organizations that undertake to render the necessary assistance it remains a fact that there are large groups of the handicapped who are not adequately provided for. The neglected ones are particularly the blind and the deaf and dumb, it is stated.

One big reason this form of social work is not functioning successfully is the lack of coordination among those undertaking it. Employers, it is said, become irritated by repeated visits from representatives of different agencies, all of which have the same general objective in view but are operating upon a hit or miss basis and are not equipped with information as to the labor requirements of the employers or their attitude toward giving work to anybody who can, perhaps, only "make half a hand."

The suggestion growing out of this ascertainment of fact is that there should be fewer agencies, that they should all work together, and that they should maintain a common card index system that will be of aid and value to all. If this is brought about, it is predicted, this branch of social work will not be so expensive, and thus the burden will be eased for those who must or do supply the funds.

Another factor that contributes largely to the problem of helping handicapped men and women to become self-supporting is the prejudice of many employers against having such persons in their establishments. Many such an employer has been known to reject offhand, without the slightest consideration of the subject, the suggestion that he give work to even a limited number of unfortunates.

And yet it is asserted by the experts that with proper discrimination in the assignment of work physically handicapped persons often make desirable employees. This is evidenced, it is pointed out in the report of Miss LaDame's survey, by the fact that a large proportion of the handicapped for whom work was found by social agencies of New York last year were placed with firms which had had previous experience with handicapped workers, and that in some instances handicapped persons have been advanced to executive or other important positions.

Still another difficulty, the reports says is the mental attitude of the handicapped persons toward work. They underestimate their ability to do it. They have probably been humored and made to feel that they are entitled to very special consideration.

As a result they are extremely hard to suit and their desires are often out of keeping with their qualifications. On the other hand, there are those who lack confidence in themselves and require a great deal of bolstering up on the part of the agencies.

Cripples in particular, says the report, are prone to become obsessed with the idea that the world is not giving them a square deal. Those who have this idea are handicapped not only by their physical disability but by their mental attitude toward life. And yet, in spite of all this distorted view of their social usefulness, rights, and obligations on the part of those who must be helped, the report says that the testimony of employers in New York as well as in Cleveland and Detroit indicates that many handicapped workers, if placed in properly selected occupations, are just as satisfactory as workers with no disability, and are often even more efficient.

Among social agencies there are two quite different policies in the placement of handicapped workers, according to the investigator. The first policy is indicated by the statement by the head of one agency: "Unless I believe that a handicapped applicant can become an economic asset to an employer, I won't send him out to try to get a job. As for those handicapped applicants who are not good employment investments, they must be a charge upon the community. Sheltered workshops or some other means of meeting these needs must be provided."

The second policy, it is explained, places emphasis on the immediate need of the applicant for employment. The important thing, it holds, is to get a job for the applicant. He needs it from a therapeutic as well as from an economic point of view. Somehow the employer must be persuaded to try him.

In reporting the result of the survey, William Hodson, executive director of the Welfare Council, said:

"The significance of this report lies not so much in the findings as in the fact that social agencies which were already doing very good work in this field themselves recognized the possibility of improving their service to the community through coordination of their work, and so asked the Russell Sage Foundation to investigate their activities, and cooperated most thoroughly in the investigation."

ROAD MEASURES IN LOWER HOUSE

Senate Bill for Seven Favorite Routes Opposed by Committee.

Two road bills which in the initial session were designated as emergency measures were reported yesterday in the house of delegates by the roads committee.

One, providing for issue of bonds to replace those redeemed from earlier issues, was not satisfactory to the committee as it passed the senate and in place of the senate provisions for seven favored routes the house committee recommended a return to the basis of allotment among the counties. It proposes to strike out the section of the bill setting aside $2,000,000 for the selected routes, and to insert in its place the provision of past bond laws, that 80 per cent. of the funds be divided among the counties and the remaining 20 per cent. spent at the discretion of the state road commission.

At the same time it reported on another bill which would have permitted use of county, district and municipal road funds on state routes, a permission not granted under the present state road law. Considerable limitation of this right also was favored by the committee which proposed striking out all the part of the bill which would permit the use of county and district general levy road funds and would hold the privilege only to special levies and bond issues.

Suggestion that immediate action be taken on these bills seemed likely to draw opposition and the request was withdrawn, leaving to come up, on the amendment stage in the house tomorrow.

The senate meantime went through its calendar with only minor interruptions, one of which centered on a bill to permit healing by prayer. Already having reached its second reading in the upper branch with a favorable report from the committee on medicine, the bill struck a snag and with Senator Alderson urging that it be turned over to the judiciary and Senators Hiner and Hallanan opposing that motion, the senate decided by a vote of 14 to 9 to send it back to the committee room.

Suggestion that immediate action be taken on these bills seemed likely to draw opposition and the request was withdrawn, leaving to come up, on the amendment stage in the house tomorrow.

The senate meantime went through its calendar with only minor interruptions, one of which centered on a bill to permit healing by prayer. Already having reached its second reading in the upper branch with a favorable report from the committee on medicine, the bill struck a snag and with Senator Alderson urging that it be turned over to the judiciary and Senators Hiner and Hallanan opposing that motion, the senate decided by a vote of 14 to 9 to send it back to the committee room.

ROAD MEASURES IN LOWER HOUSE

Senate Bill for Seven Favorite Routes Opposed by Committee.

Two road bills which in the initial session were designated as emergency measures were reported yesterday in the house of delegates by the roads committee.

One, providing for issue of bonds to replace those redeemed from earlier issues, was not satisfactory to the committee as it passed the senate and in place of the senate provisions for seven favored routes the house committee recommended a return to the basis of allotment among the counties. It proposes to strike out the section of the bill setting aside $2,000,000 for the selected routes, and to insert in its place the provision of past bond laws, that 80 per cent. of the funds be divided among the counties and the remaining 20 per cent. spent at the discretion of the state road commission.

At the same time it reported on another bill which would have permitted use of county, district and municipal road funds on state routes, a permission not granted under the present state road law. Considerable limitation of this right also was favored by the committee which proposed striking out all the part of the bill which would permit the use of county and district general levy road funds and would hold the privilege only to special levies and bond issues.

Suggestion that immediate action be taken on these bills seemed likely to draw opposition and the request was withdrawn, leaving to come up, on the amendment stage in the house tomorrow.

The senate meantime went through its calendar with only minor interruptions, one of which centered on a bill to permit healing by prayer. Already having reached its second reading in the upper branch with a favorable report from the committee on medicine, the bill struck a snag and with Senator Alderson urging that it be turned over to the judiciary and Senators Hiner and Hallanan opposing that motion, the senate decided by a vote of 14 to 9 to send it back to the committee room.

Among the people you see today, four out of five past forty (and many younger) are victims of Pyorrhea—simply because they started too late to protect teeth and gums.

ANTI-FOREIGN ARDOR IS SPREADING IN CHINA

Today

Study Wise Japan.

That Fidgety Bull.

They Get Rich, Build, Die.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

LET the United States study Japan and learn something in the way of common sense.

In the big war Japan stayed out, didn't send men or money, only a few military observers to learn what might be learned. Everybody in Europe is friendly to Japan. Everybody there hates us.

NOW the Japanese foreign office says it isn't going to send troops to China. But it will at once open negotiations requesting profound apologies and cash reparations for damage done to Japanese subjects in China. Compared with practical Japan we are feeble-minded.

THE big earthquake came in Armenia and a local religious personage explained it simply. A huge bull carries the world on its shoulders, and occasionally becomes fidgety. Then the earth rocks. The proper incantations, for which you pay a reasonable sum to the religious personage, pacify the bull and he again becomes quiet. Nothing simpler.

THE human mind requests and accepts any "reasonable" explanation.

In Wall Street lately the world has been more or less balanced on the back of a gigantic bull, which occasionally becomes fidgety when a bear attacks it. But prosperity incantations pacify it, and all is well.

At present it is safer to bet on the bull. "Big Steel" went to "a new high" yesterday.

RICH men pile up millions, build gigantic houses, die. Intelligent "real estaters" buy the houses, tear them down.

The New York City houses of Cornelius Vanderbilt, William H. Vanderbilt, W. K. Vanderbilt, are all in the hands of "house wreckers;" also the gigantic, ugly palace built by Senator Clark on Fifth avenue. One concern will buy the ceiling made from a Gigantic British oak, said to have been 2,000 years old. Another will buy the great fireplace of Vienna marble for a moving picture theater.

Thus passes the glory of the great. Papa builds, son and daughter say, 'Too old fashioned, tear it down."

THE brilliant young Chinese leader of the revolutionists from south China, Chang Kai-Shek, says of his Chinese followers: "We want to get rid of the foreign yokes and save China from our own militarists who sell our riches to the foreigners."

Chang also says: "No man is too bad not to have enough rice, and no man is so good as to have too much to waste."

WE forbid polygamy because Christianity forbids it. We say it is immoral. In Egypt doctors of religious law

Twenty-one Nations Change Boundaries

Only six of the nations of Europe have the same boundaries they had in 1918.

Norway and Sweden, Spain and Portugal, Switzerland and Holland retain their former sizes and shapes. Every other nation looks different on the map.

Fifty out of 200 largest cities of Europe have new names.

These and other changes have made old maps useless. The NEW MAP OF EUROPE from our Washington Information Bureau shows all of the changes, with old and new boundaries and spellings.

Newspaper readers need such a map to follow properly world events in the news. Students should have it, as older maps have passed out of date.

REFUGEES STONED BY ENRAGED MOBS

By Alfred Meyer.

SHANGHAI, Midnight, Mar. 30.—Chinese mobs opened attacks upon the barricades about the French concession tonight.

The mobs approached the barricades of the French concession, behind groups of small boys and girls who had been herded in front of the attackers and gave them shelter.

Shots Are Fired.

Reinforcements have been rushed to the French barricades and defensive measures have been tightened in the international settlement.

Anti-foreign ardor continues to spread and the entire costal region seems in ferment.

While reports come of the evacuation of foreigners from Cheico and other towns in the north, which are still under control of the northerners, there came a report today of anti-

OHIO JURISTS SET UP LIMIT OF 60 DAYS IN RUM LAW CASES

Supreme Court Rules Insolvent Prisoners Must be Freed.

CLEVELAND TEST

One East Liverpool Man and Two From Salem Affected.

Three men held in the county jail at Lisbon for the non-payment of liquor fines will be eligible for release after serving 60 days, as the result of an indigent debtor law ruling by the state supreme court yesterday.

They are Nelson Dunkley and George Shurtz, both of Salem, and Samuel Mason, colored, of East Liverpool.

Dunkley who was fined $400 and costs by Mayor George Russell, Salem, has been in jail for about 40 days. Shurtz, against whom a fine of $300 was assessed, also by Mayor Russell, has been locked up for three weeks.

Mason was committed about two months ago after having been convicted in municipal court upon a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife. After this sentence has been completed, he was held for non-payment of an old liquor fine. He has served less than two weeks for the liquor violation, according to Sheriff Wright.

Liquor offenders may be released at the expiration of 60 days by making affidavit of insolvency, under the court decision.

Rulings Affect Enforcement.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Two Ohio court rulings affecting prohibition enforcement in this state were on record today.

Refusing to review the case, the state supreme court, by implication, affirmed the judgment of the Cuyahoga county courts which held that insolvent prisoners cannot legally be held in jail more than 60 days for failure to pay a fine.

This decision was rendered in the case of Joe Goldstein, Cleveland, sentenced to the Cuyahoga county jail to "serve out" a fine for alleged violation of the dry laws. Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygandt, Cleveland, ordered Goldstein liberated, upholding the contention of Goldstein's counsel that the prisoner, being an insolvent debtor, could not legally be imprisoned for more than 60 days.

Former Sheriff Fred Kohler unsuccessfully appealed to the appellate and supreme courts from Judge Weygandt's decree.

46 Collinwood High School Students Inspect Pottery

Visitors go to Newell After Attending Chamber of Commerce Luncheon at Y. M. C. A.

Forty-one students of the Collinwood High school, Cleveland, accompanied by five instructors, came to the East Liverpool district today for a visit to the No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company, at Newell.

The visitors, in charge of F. M. Carl, physics teacher, arrived here at 12:45 o'clock and were entertained at luncheon in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. by the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The trip was made in a motor bus.

After luncheon a group picture of the students was taken by R. E. Spencer. The chamber's committee accompanied the visitors to Newell. Superintendent J. M. Wells, of the No. 6 Laughlin plant, and other officials of the company escorted the visitors through the plant.

Arrangements for the trip were made at the request of W. J. Bauer, chemistry teacher. The trip was primarily for members of the Chemistry club. The visitors were to leave here about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

This is the first time that the Collinwood students have visited the ceramic industry. Earlier this year they inspected the tiremaking industry at Akron, and they plan a trip through one of the Toledo plate glass plants. Mother Rescues Boy as Flames Rage in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, March 30. — Fire swept a two-story business and apartment block on the west side here early today.

William Gessner, 44, proprietor of a bakery where the fire is believed to have originated, was overcome by smoke and taken to a hospital. Several persons were driven from their apartments into the street by smoke.

Mrs. John Wescott carried her son John, aged 6, from the burning building and then collapsed. She was carried into a neighbor's home and revived.

Edward Kaiser, 24, truck driver for the Kaiser Bakery company, suffered the amputation of the end of the middle finger on his right hand yesterday when the member was caught in machinery at the bakery, Globe and Martin streets. He was taken to the City hospital where the injury was dressed.

TWO OF FOUR EAST LIVERPOOL MISSIONARIES IN CHINESE WAR ZONE ARE REPORTED UNHARMED; ALL IN SHANGHAI

Two of the four former East Liverpool residents, engaged in missionary work in China, are reported to be safe in the war zone, friends here today were advised. The others are believed to be in Shanghai.

News dispatches yesterday told of the safe arrival in Shanghai of Dr. O. C. Crawford, formerly of this city, who has been working at Soo Chow, many miles up the Yangtze river.

Rev. E. D. Moore, Chicago, received a cablegram announcing that his daughter, Miss Margaret Moore, is safely quartered with other missionary workers in Shanghai. Miss Moore has been teaching in a mission school for several years.

No word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Crofts, former residents of Madison township, who returned to China last November after a furlough spent in the United States. Before their visit to the United States, Dr. and Mrs. Crofts conducted a mission school far up the Yangtze river. Friends and relatives believe them to be quartered in Shanghai where missionary workers are being assembled for safety. Mr. Crofts is a brother of Roberts Crofts and Mrs. Marcus McCaskey, near Lisbon, and Miss Mary Crofts and Mrs. R. H. Perry of this city. Four children of the Crofts are attending school in Chicago.

No advices have been received from Dr. Henry Hallock, formerly of Steubenville, a brother of Mrs. Mary Hallock Marshall, Omaha, Neb., and a former teacher in the local high school. Dr. Marshall, who was engaged in missionary work for many years, is now publisher of a Christian almanac. He is supported through contributions from friends.

Mrs. Marshall and her husband Dr. A. B. Marshall, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, were in Peking last year where Mrs. Marshall taught in a college.

Anti-foreign and anti-Christian agitations are spreading beyond the zone occupied by the Cantonese army and reports of the most disquieting nature were received today from Shangsha, Ichang, Wuhu, Chefoo, Chungking, Anking, Hankow and other centers.

There are still a number of Americans in the interior, many of them being mission workers, but it is hoped by the American naval and consular authorities that they have finally heeded the repeated warnings to seek safety. Their escape may be cut off, unless they flee towards the northeast.

It is now understood that Bishop Logan Roots, of this district of Bright Scarfs Add Zest to the Spring Costume.

Scarfs to contrast smartly or harmonize quietly. In colors brilliant or soft. In designs so delightfully varied that the choice is bewildering. To knot smartly about the throat. To tuck underneath the collar of your top-coat. To tie at one side with tailleur or two-piece frock.

Once upon a time a scarf was meant solely for utility—perscribed to keep chill from intruding within the circle of one's coat collar. Now it fulfills the same purpose with an added one of chic.

Group at $3.00 includes printed crepes, printed georgettes, plain georgettes or georgette squares. In every desirable shade.

Group at $4.50 contains the fashionable double width georgette crepes in pastel shades, plain printed or blocked. Also all-over radium prints in single width or the smart popular radium printed squares. Every shade.

HUDSON-ESSEX OUTPUT JUMPS

Daily Total Close to 1,500 Mark, Dealer Says.

Hudson-Essex has just completed the greatest February in its history, and with March is stepping into the greatest six cylinder production the automobile industry ever has known, officials of the company report. Since January 1, production of both Hudson Essex cars has been largely increased, and on March 1, the fifth increase of the year brought the daily total close to the 1,500 mark, it was declared.

February shipments were 27,000 cars, while March is scheduled for the production and sale of 37,000 Hudson and Essex automobiles. Even with this great volume, company officials declare that deliveries are far behind demand. The new Super-Six models on both Hudson and Essex, brought out the first of the year, have far exceeded in popularity anything the company has known in its whole history.

In going close to the 40,000 mark for March, Hudson-Essex is reaching into a volume field which hitherto has been entered only by four cylinder cars. It is around 25 per cent, larger than any previous Hudson-Essex schedule.

While the factory is thus engaged in record-breaking, Ray Birch local Hudson-Essex dealer, has been setting new high marks of business. Never before, it is claimed, has there been so urgent and insistent demand for Hudson and Essex. On both the large and small car, business has been consistent and growing.

Most Ailments and Diseases Caused By Catarrh of Stomach

World's Tonic, the Systemic Treatment, Is Made Especially to Overcome Catarrh. It Brings Splendid Results in a Short Time.

Symptoms Which Usually Indicate Catarrhal Troubles, and What to Do for Relief

Most ailments and diseases are caused or aggravated by the faulty working of the stomach. When vital organs fail or falter in their duty, toxins are not cleared out of the system. They remain and bring on bad health. Catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes of the gall bladder and duct, and of the intestinal tract and stomach derange the whole digestive system.

The victim is invariably troubled with loss of sleep and energy, fickle appetite and sour, gassy stomach, foul breath, old fashioned stomach ache, pains from gas in the stomach, belching and similar well known symptoms follow. Authorities state that nine out of ten people in the American cities are likely to be so effected, and all of it is due to catarrhal conditions.

World's Tonic, the systemic treatment for catarrh, acts in a quick and efficient manner in cleansing and clearing the intestinal tract, stimulating the bowels and liver. Thus Nature is assisted in discharging from the system the very elements and impurities which cause the manifestations of the symptoms and ailments allied with the stomach, liver and kidneys. With the system cleared and cleansed, World's Tonic takes up the work of stimulating these laggard vital organs, and when they are restored and working harmoniously once more, one is bound to enjoy perfect health unless there be some organic trouble which hesitates before letting go its hold on the system.

Kidneys filter the blood, keeping it rich and pure. Liver and bowels work fine, and with stomach digesting and appetite restored to normal, one receives great benefit from the nourishment derived from the food Like a well oiled machine, the system converts the food we eat into strength and tissue, while the waste is cleared quickly and entirely. One may eat what he wishes without fear of after effects. Elderly people with catarrh of the stomach. kidneys or liver, find World's Tonic is the effective catarrhal treatment. It gives quick and permanent results in the different forms of catarrh.

Sold at Carnahan's also Brannon, Wellsville, and all other reliable druggists at $1.00 a bottle. (228).

FINE FOR CHILDREN!

Give them a good start in life with happy smiles and healthy little bodies. Children need a mild corrective occasionally to regulate stomach and bowels. Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets are a safe vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They tone up and regulate the eliminative tract. Not a nasty cathartic or a habit-forming medicine, but a safe pleasant remedy for constipation, sour stomach, torpid liver, bad breath and similar disorders. Dr. Edwards, a widely known family physician of Ohio prescribed these tablets for many years in his own practice. Children from six years up are greatly helped by them and like to take them. Recognized by their olive color. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets overcome those irritable spells that many children are subject to, keep their bodies in active healthy condition, skin clear and eyes bright with the light of perfect health. 15c, 30c and 60c sizes.

Workhouse Sentences For Drunken Drivers

No mercy will be shown motorists who face the Columbus municipal court on charges of driving while intoxicated, Judge E. V. Mahaffey warned yesterday when he meted out workhouse sentences to two offenders.

One man was sentenced to four months' imprisonment and fined $200 and costs. He was arrested after his automobile had crashed into a light standard, narrowly missing a policeman.

Another offender, who drove his machine into a telephone pole, was given a 90-day workhouse sentence and fined $100 and costs.

"There are too many drivers operating their machines while under the influence of liquor," Judge Mahaffey said, "and there is not another violation of the law that is more dangerous to the public. I will continue to impose sentences that will impress on the minds of those brought before me that the practice will not be tolerated or condoned."

If Judge Mahaffey's example were emulated throughout the state, the automobile accident toll would show a decrease during the year.

Sterilizing Italy

The Italian parliament, under Mussolini's dictatorship, is considering what its said to be the most drastic censorship law in the world's history.

Everything political, journalistic, literary, dramatic and artistic is to be 100 per cent pure. Nothing in public life that disagrees with Fascism will be permitted. The ministry of the interior and the provincial police are to nave authority over newspapers, theatres, movies, books, paintings, phonograph records and advertisements. It will be a great drive against "pornography and sedition."

Italy, no doubt, can stand quite a little clamping down of the lid on pornography, especially in southern cities like Naples, where vice of many kinds has long flourished to an appalling degree. Sedition is another matter, too easily confused with mere difference of political thinking in a regime like the present. Most outsiders, and many insiders, will not agree that political purity means 100 per cent Fascism.

Even in the other realms where this censorship is to be applied, it may be sadly overdone. Italy has been a great country, as great as any in the world in many departments of human life, and especially great in the arts and sciences. What would have happened if such a system of control as is now proposed had existed during the Italian renaissance? Would there have been any Michaelangelos or Leonardo da Vincis or Benvenuto Cellinis, or any Dantes or Bocaccios or Tassos, if there had been political censors to scrub, cut, denature and sterilize everything they did?

Too much sterilization means sterility.

Chaperone Again

It is reported that the chaperon, almost extinct since the World war, has now come back into great favor in London. Girls who don't have available women relatives to do this service for them are now hiring chaperons to accompany them to dinners, balls, and other social affairs.

The reason given isn't the one that might be expected. Stricker social supervision for its own sake is still unimportant to London's debutantes. But the notion seems to have got around that the demure, thoroughly chaperoned girls are more attractive to very eligible young men than the the modern maidens who go about in complete freedom.

This is a most interesting development, in the face of many British novels of recent years. American girls, inclined to laugh at their chaperoned English sisters, may come to it themselves.

What They Talk About

A mild form of eavesdropping, in the interests of psychology, has been the practice of Prof. Landis of Wesleyan university. With note book and pencil he has stood for hours on London and New York street corners, taking down what he could of the conversational topics of unsuspecting strangers. His very illuminating findings might be tabulated as follows:

The London woman talks about a greater range of subjects than the American.

The London woman discourses fluently about herself or other women.

English and American men both talk chiefly about money and business.

The English woman talks about the same things to men as to other women.

The American woman adapts her conversation to the interests of her masculine companion.

Now that's all perfectly clear. You may draw your own psychological conclusions in the absence of any by the professor. Perhaps conclusions should not be drawn, however, until someone has recorded dinner, telephone and party conversations. Few of us are at our best on street corners.

If there's any international linen to be laundered now, China will do it.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

LIKE PAINTING THE LILY.

One of Montague Glass's classics starts off with an account of a scene in the Pennsylvania Station at New York. A whiskered gentleman, evidently hailing from the East Side, is administering physical punishment upon a small boy. A stranger, of humane instincts, pushes his way through the interested crowd of onlookers and lays a firm hand upon the arm of the bearded one.

"Here, hold on!" he orders. "Why are you slapping this child?"

"He is my own son," explains the East-Sider.

"I don't care whose son he is," states the interrupting citizen. "You've no business to be slapping him and shaking him this way. You stop it immediately or I'll make trouble for you!"

"Meester, listen," says the parent. "Two years ago my wife runs away with my best friend. One year ago my partner cheats me in business and I go broke. Three months ago I get the inflammatory rheumatism and the doctors pull out all my teeth. Six weeks ago my daughter gets married to a loafer and I have got to support both of 'em. Day before yesterday my old grandmother dies in Philadelphia and I spend the last money I have got in the world for tickets for me and this boy so we could go to the funeral. I give the tickets to Ikey, here, and he puts them in his mouth and just as we are ready to go on the train he breathes the wrong way and swallows them."

The father laughs, a short, hard, ironic metallic laugh.

"And you would make trouble for me!"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 30.—The Rialto might ask: What price success? More capable players have been "at liberty" during the theatrical season now closing than ever before. In one of those revivals of an old play recently the cast included 10 players who had won high stellar honors.

There was not one who has not packed theaters from coast to coast in other days and here they were quite willing to accept an equal division of gate receipts. It has been a season of musical extravaganzas and pathological dramas. There were few parts for the worthy.

And the future outlook is bleak. Beyond Manhattan is no hope. Only those finished players who have had a providential regard for lean days are able to live in comfort. Many who owned their brown stone fronts have moved to boarding houses and walk up flats.

In a theatrical club the other day a star of yesteryear received a telegram from the producer of a middle west stock company. It read: "Will you consider $75 a week for seven weeks?" He replied: "Certainly. Do you furnish billboard brush and paste?"

Hollywood has offered the only relief but there are innumerable stars who fail in "screen tests." The percentage of legitimate stars photographically fit for screen work is so slight as to be almost negligble. Nearly every one has tried.

Most of them are too old to launch careers in other fields, so they sit about—whistling in the dark and indulging the futile hope. Some have picked up a little extra money writing memoirs. The discouragement is so thick that few have their names listed at agencies any more.

No class is so uncomplaining. They manage somehow to continue to put up a good front. They willingly appear at "benefits" with a sangfroid that is amazing. The theater these days demands youth. Nearly every important star of the season was under 30.

The stage is not alone in displaying high courage in adversity. There are thousands of young men and women in New York pursuing artistic careers on starvation scale. The attics are filled with them south of Washington Square. They are not all idle dreamers but ambitious people willing to live on crusts in their gamble with Fate. They win, too, in many instances.

In the autobiography of a supper club hostess, she says: "I never once lost my nerve." That roar is from couvert customers crying "Stet!"

Here is a true story of the danger of hotel drinking. An out-of-town couple asked a bell hop to procure a bottle of Scotch. He brought it a few minutes before theater time and after pulling the cork it was decided to wait until after theater and ask some friends to join them. They put the bottle in a closet. When they returned a policeman was stationed at the door. A hotel maid finding the bottle had taken a surreptitious drink and in 30 minutes had died in frightful agony.

A Broadway school of acrobatics, starting in a small office room, now occupies an entire floor. The explanation is said to be that ladies go there to aid in getting thin.

A noticeable increase in tap dancing schools is also noted in the theatrical district. This, a spy tells me, is the result of the reducing influence of tap dancing on armour-like ankles.

It has always mystified me how sidewalk theatrical ticket speculators continue to make a living. I never patronized them without getting a seat behind a post or a man with a high pompadour.

Work For The Handicapped—I.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30. — It has been said that the best medicine that can be given a handicapped person—lame, halt, blind, hard of hearing, deaf and dumb, tubercular, epileptic, or otherwise physically deficient—is a job, work that will make him wholly or partially self-supporting and possibly enable him to contribute to the support of dependents.

It is not the kind of medicine that cures, necessarily, in demonstrating its potency, but it is the kind that clears the mind of the unfortunate of worry and despondency, imbues him with self-confidence, and gives him a normal outlook upon life. Crooked backs have been known to straighten perceptibly, it is said, merely because their owners have learned that those backs can bear economic burdens.

All this is discussed in a report of a survey made for the Welfare Council of New York City that has just been published. The survey was made by Miss Mary LaDame of the Russell Sage Foundation's department of industrial studies. It was undertaken at the instance of the Institute for Crippled and Disabled Men, the Employment Bureau for the Handicapped,

NEW WELLSVILLE-KENSINGTON HIGHWAY IS ASSURED

Work on Link to Summitville Will Begin April 15.

EQUIPMENT READY

Surfacing Job to Progress Westward From Mining Town.

Improvement of the Salineville-Summitville-Kensington highway, which will afford a hard surfaced road from Wellsville to Kensington, through Salineville, will be one of the first Columbiana county projects to be launched this spring, according to County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

The Holmes Construction company of Wooster, which was awarded the job on the Salineville-Summitville road, has notified Surveyor Kirk that first work on the highway will be started not later than April 15.

Equipment is now being moved to the work. Surfacing will begin at Salineville and progress westward.

Among the first jobs to be started will also be the Columbiana and New Waterford route, awarded last season to Lewis and Copeland of Lima.

The same company has the surfacing contract for the southern section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road and connecting with the Lincoln Highway at Apple's corner. As soon as the Columbiana-Waterford job is finished, which should not require more than 30 days of good weather, it is said, this equipment will be removed to the St. Clair-Madison township project.

Mellert & Weidner of Medina have also advised Kirk that they expect to begin pouring concrete on the Hanover-Salem road between April 15 and April 30, weather permitting. This is a seven-mile project, and with favorable weather prevailing the road will be finished within 90 days.

Three steam shovels are now doing grading work on the East Liverpool-Youngstown road in St. Clair and Madison townships between Township Line school and Williamsport. No grading is being done on the section between Williamspor and Rogers. Probably two and one-half months will be required to finish the grading on the southern section of this road.

MARY ASTOR AT AMERICAN

Barrymore's Leading Lady in "Don Juan."

Fans all over the world will be glad to see the beautiful Mary Astor, again playing opposite John Barrymore, in "Don Juan," the gorgeous Warner picture now showing at the American theatre. And to all fans be it known, that their urgent request, that "The Two" be cast for the leading parts had much to do with the choice. (Mary Astor plays the star-like Adriana in "Don Juan.")

After the appearance of Warners' "Beau Brummel," in which Mary Astor was Barrymore's leading lady, hundreds of letters came from all parts of the world asking that they be again seen together.

The desire was further increased by the publicity photographers posed with Barrymore as Paola and Astor as Francesca, when there was talk of their doing "Paola and Francesca." Possibly the beauty of these photographs had something to do with the selection of the Italian Renaissance as the background for "Don Juan"—the "Paola and Francesca" period.

Barrymore and Astor have admittedly the most perfect profiles to be seen in pictures, and in "Don Juan," they make the perfect lovers of the world's dreams.

The picture was directed by Alan Crosland.

The Flash Parade Delights Large Crowd at Strand

The Flash Parade, a musical comedy introducing pretty girls and clever dancing scenes, is making a decided hit at the Strand. The costumes are beautiful and the dialogue interesting and snappy without the least display of vulgarity. The singing is good and the vaudeville acts used between acts proved to be of a high standard.

Bud Brownie scored a hit as the comedian, while DeGrace, chair balancer, was the recipient of much applause. The scenery was in keeping with the fine character of the performance. "Sky High" will be the bill for tonight and Thursday, and a complete change of program Friday.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE ON APRIL 1 APPEARS INEVITABLE

MINE OWNERS STAND PAT ON WAGE CUT PLAN

Illinois Operators are Not Opposed to Union.

SHUTDOWN LOOMS

Jacksonville Agreement Will Expire on Friday.

CHICAGO, March 30. — Complete suspension of soft coal mining in the central competitive union field on April 1, when the Jacksonville wage scale agreement expires, appeared inevitable today.

The coal operators association of Illinois was standing pat on its announced policy of shutting down its mines unless the United Mine Workers indicate they will consider lower wages, and informal advices to Rice Miller, president, were that operators in other fields were in a like temper.

The executive board of the association was called into session today but little beyond discussion of a course of action after the suspension, was expected of it.

No Attempt to Run Mines.

"As far as the Illinois field is concerned, "said Miller," there will be no attempt to run the mines with strikebreakers after the suspension. We are not opposed to the union."

Miller said he knew of no Illinois companies that expected to sign individual temporary extensions of the existing contracts.

"Complete suspension on April 1 appears inevitable," he said. "We believe some constructive change from the Jacksonville rate is necessary to prevent complete prostration of the unionized fields and ultimate disintegration of the United Mine workers.

"The abandonment of interstate negotiations and the crippling of the central competitive field is just one of the many signs of the pathetic failure of unionism under a stand pat policy which totally disregards economic and competitive fundamentals."

Miller said the central field could not continue to pay the existing wage contract and compete with non-union fields in West Virginia and Kentucky.

Union Blames Operators.

Union leaders were just as emphatic today in blaming the operators for the present impasse.

"The operators claim they must lower wages to compete with non-union fields," said one high union official. "They would have us agree to a reduction on the plea that then they will be able to save the central field.

"The fact remains that if the United Mine Workers consented to a reduction to meet the scales of the West Virginia and Kentucky fields, we would have no assurance the latter would not again reduce wages.

It is a big circle and the operators want us to be the goats."

The Jacksonville scale provided a flat scale of $7.50 for day labor and a sliding scale on a tonnage basis. The operators claim some of the tonnage men average $12 to $20 daily. Union men claim the figures are exaggerated and that on a yearly average the miners are lucky to make $800 because of intermittent working periods.

There were no meetings scheduled today between officials of the operators associations and the miners. Both sides on the surface were preparing for a long lay-off.

'CASEY AT BAT' AT CERAMIC

Wallace Beery Stars in Paramount Film Success.

"Take out the big bum!"

"Kill the umpire!"

"Come on, kid, knock a homer!"

"There goes the old ball game!"

These, and all the other expressions which make baseball the game it is, are included in Walace Beery's current Paramount starring comedy, "Casey at the Bat," which arrives at the Ceramic Theatre today for a four-day engagement. Beery, perhaps the actor to have made most progress during the past twelve months, due to inimitable performances in "Behind the Front," "We're in the Navy Now" and "Old Ironsides," enacts the small town junk man who suddenly finds himself catapulted to fame and fortune when a big league baseball scout signs him to a Giant contract.

Imagine if you will (it isn't difficult) Beery as the hero of America, the Babe Ruth of 1901. Picture the laughs as Wallace hits a home run with one hand while holding a stein of beer in the other. Think of the roars that'll be forthcoming as he climbs on the stage of the old Casino theatre and makes a personal appearance with the "original" Floradora Sextette. Then comes a trip to Coney Island and you'll wonder what the wild waves are saying. A morning in bed, duped into believing he's very ill and finally—the big game!

Ford Sterling enacts Beery's Columbus by "discovering' him . ZaSu is the Centerville belle and Sterling Holloway, Beery's villainous manager. Monte Brice directed this Hector Turnbull production.

interpreting Mohammed's Koran say monogamy is immoral, it is bad for women to be unmarried, and many must remain single if you don't let each man marry several women.

Mohammed said that a man should marry only as many women as he could really make happy. The modern Mohammedanism says that woman is happier married than unmarried.

A SENATE committee shows that ardent prohibitionists in six years spent $13,000,000 for prohibition. It seems a good deal, but is less than two cents per year per capita. You can't fight the demon rum, especially the bootleg demon rum, efficiently with that sum. Nevertheless, it would be interesting to know just how the $13,000,000 were spent.

SAPIRO FACES REED'S FIRE IN LIBEL SUIT

CROWD PRESENT

Missouri Senator Delves Into Forgotten Past.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 30.—Aaron Sapiro, the so-called "cooperative king" was pilloried today on the rack of cross-examination at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit in federal court.

Before a crowded courtroom and a jury that hung on every word, Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, delved into the forgotten past of Sapiro and into every detail of his amazing rise to power in the American farm world.

Reed hammered away at Sapiro's statement that he earned $400,000 from his professional practice in the years 1916 to 1926.

Present Strange Contrast.

Reed and Sapiro presented a strange contract. The senator, white-haired and deliberate, growled his questions, sometimes with a sneer in his voice and always in tones that expressed doubt of Sapiro. The "wheat king," black-haired and infectuous, replied in a soft voice, sometimes with a break in tones as though he had choked on a sob.

Reed went back to 1916 to open the cross-examination. He first asked Sapiro how he and Philip Ehrlich, San Francisco attorney, split their law fees. Sapiro said he got 60 per cent and Ehrlich got 40 per cent. Then Reed wanted to know what share of the fees went to Sapiro in all other law firms in which he had a membership. Usually, Sapiro said, he got 60 per cent of the fees.

Reed scored when he produced papers from a San Francisco law suit, involving Sapiro and two of his former law partners, David and Lawrence Levy. Sapiro said he never read the papers and upon objection of his counsel, the court would not allow Reed to ask questions on the case.

60 Days in Rum Cases

ions relate to village mayors and justices of the peace, is "null and unconstitutional," has been handed down by the Fifth Ohio district court of appeals.

This decision, announced by Appellate Judge L. B. Houck, Mt. Vernon, liberated Emmanuel Williams, Perry county, who had been fined $800 by a justice of the peace for alleged violation of dry laws.

"The legal effect of this decision would be to release all prisoners in Ohio, convicted before justices of the peace and mayors under the liquor laws of the state," said Judge Houck. "It is more drastic in effect than the recent decision of Chief Justice Taft of the U. S. supreme court."

Pointing out that this ruling is the first one on this question by an Ohio reviewing court, Judge Hough stated that it affects many convictions under the Crabbe act not affected by the supreme court decision.

Intention of filing a new suit in probate court against Williams was voiced by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Dugan, New Lexington.

45 Clevelanders Affected.

CLEVELAND, O., March 30.—Following the state supreme ruling at Columbus Tuesday, which handed another jolt to Ohio's raiding justices of the peace and mayors who have been handing out stiff fines in liquor cases, 45 Clevelanders will be released today from serving further time in jail for inability to pay liquor violation fines which were assessed by Cuyahoga county magistrates.

The supreme court ruled that Common Pleas Judge C. V. Weygandt was within his rights when he ordered former Sheriff Fred Kohler to release Joseph Goldstein from county jail here following Goldstein's filing of an affidavit of insolvency, which declared he was unable to pay a fine of $500 and costs.

The ruling is interpreted to mean that all liquor law violators who are jailed to work out a fine, may be released after serving 60 days by filing the insolvency affidavit.

In Cuyahoga county five men will be freed, while 40 others, including Goldstein, who have been free on habeas corpus proceedings, will be notified they need not return to jail.

THREE CLASH AS AFTERMATH OF RUM RAID

TWO MEN NABBED

Wyand and Spell Stage Second Fight at City Hall.

As an aftermath, police say, of a liquor violation arrest made by Wellsville police last Tuesday, Homer Wyand, Broadway, and Peter Spell, Wellsville, forfeited bonds of $15.80 in municipal court today upon charges of disorderly conduct by fighting.

Wyand was arrested and fined $400 and costs by Mayor Wallace Fogo after Wellsville police, last Tuesday, overtook his automobile along the Campground road while he is alleged to have been delivering three gallons of liquor to a Wellsville customer.

Wyand, police say, met Ralph Anania, Wellsville, father of Pasquale Anania, who was found dead in a Walnut street apartment a week ago, on East Sixth street at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He is said to have accused Anania of "tipping off" Wellsville police. He is alleged to have struck Anania. Wyand was arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran, who took him to police headquarters.

While arrangements were being made for bond, Anania, accompanied by Spell, said to be a relative, and another man came to city hall. Spell, police charge, struck Wyand while the two were in the office. Spell was immediately arrested by Chief of Police McDermott.

Commander Reports

American attacks in the southernmost province of Kwangtung.

Thirteen Americans Isolated.

The French administration of Kwang Chowwan in Kwangtung has cabled a report that an American Catholic mission there has been looted and that the fathers in charge have been forced to take refuge in Kochow. The French authorities suggest that warships be sent there immediately.

Thirteen Americans are isolated at Hoihow on Hainan island, according to the French authorities, and grave fears are felt for their safety. It is recommended that a warship be sent there to investigate.

The Northerners apparently are not yet prepared to give resistance to the Cantonese for they have withdrawn in order from Nantungchow to the north, after the U. S. S. Pilsbury evacuated nine Amercans in that town and in Jukow.

Fire on Refugee Ships.

Cantonese continue to fire on refugee ships. The Tatung and Loongwu, bringing 105 American refugees from Tankow under the escort of the destroyer Paul Jones, was fired on as it passed Nanking during the night. There were no casualties although several rifle bullets hit the vessels.

The Cantonese have occupied the Standard Oil property in the British concession, but thus far have done no damage as an American destroyer has been standing by.

Retains Sovereignty in Hong Kong.

HONG KONG, China, March 30.—The British government has no intention whatever of surrendering its sovereignty in Hong Kong, or of abandoning or diminishing in any way its authority over the adjacent mainland, an official communique declared today Highest importance is attached to continued maintenance under British administration of Hong Kong and nearby territories, the communique stated.

LONDON, March 30.—Communists are in full power at Hankow and conditions have become intolerable for foreigners, according to a dispatch from Shanghai today.

Refugees are Stoned.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Further indiginifies perpetrated by Chinese Nationalists upon Americans and foreigners were reported to the navy department today by Admiral C. S. Williams, commanding the Asiatic squadron.

The American Catholic mission at Fuchow has been looted, and foreign refugees leaving Nanking have been stoned by Chinese mobs, he reported.

American vessels in the Yangtze river are continually fired upon by Chinese snipers.

PEKING, March 30.—In contrast with the flame of terrorism which is racing over south China, Peking today is calm and peaceful.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, commander-in-chief of the northern army, by his iron measures, has completely suppressed activities of southern agitators, although the official organ of the government charges that the Russian Soviet embassy is a hotbed of propagandists, who are attempting to incite students and labor leaders.

On the surface there is no anti-foreign feeling here. The only danger that may arise, it is believed, would come from artificially incited mobs. It is reported that members of the "dare and die corps" of the southern army have made their way into Peking and they doubtless would become ringleaders if rioting could be fomented.

Suspects In Anania Death Will Seek Bond Tomorrow

Rini and Sister-in-law, Charged With Murder, Will Appear Before Probate Judge Riddle.

Application for bond for Salvatore Rini, 27, and Mrs. Marie Chorgas, 28, his sister-in-law, held in the county jail at Lisbon upon murder charges in the death of Pasquale Anania, 25, in a Walnut street apartment on March 22, will be heard by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, Lisbon, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The two suspects will be represented by Attorneys W. A. O'Grady, Wellsville, and Samuel W. Crawford, of this city, while Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes and his assistant, J. F. Bauknecht, will oppose the release of the prisoners.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 30.—Heavy selling of the low-priced industrial stocks, the oils and motors and a few specialties in the early trading unsettled the whole list, and the trend of prices was again downward. The outstanding exceptions were the Southwestern railroad stocks, which moved upward sharply under the lead of Missouri Pacific.

Dodge Motors, common and preferred, was compelled to absorb an enormous volume of liquidation and short selling, on rumors of greatly slackened production and the prospect of a merger with powerful competitors. The preferred stock dropped an additional 3 points to 73, while the common broke below 19 for the first time since flotation by the Dillon Read bankers.

All of the specialties were pounded severely by the bears who also opened up their heavy guns on the independent oil stocks selling Marland Phillips and others in this group in blocks of from 500 to 5000 shares. Broken Boveri, Electric Refrigeration and Radio Corporation continued to move downward, while heavy offerings of American Can depressed that stock to below 45.

A seven-point break in Pan-American western class B to $19 a share followed the omission of the quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, due at this time. Rumors of the possible passing of the Brown Boveri dividend tomorrow accompanied the decline of that stock to the record low price of 23⅜, compared with the year's high of 39½. Loss of business for the can manufacturers was given as the reason for the heavy selling of their stocks.

Call money was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

Hankow, and about 40 Episcopal mission workers, who had previously sent word that they intended to remain, are now on their way to Shanghai. These missionaries were stationed at Hankow, Wuchang, Changsha, Ichang and Shashi. They took refuge upon the merchant ship Loogwo, which is being convoyed by a British man of war.

HENRY FORD, AUTO VICTIM, IN HOSPITAL

Motor King, Hurt in Crash, Operated Upon.

His Counsel Makes Announcement in Libel Suit.

DETROIT, March 30.—Henry Ford has been operated upon for injuries suffered when he drove a Ford car down a steep embankment near his Dearborn estate last Sunday, it was announced today by his counsel at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit trial.

Ford is now a patient at the Henry Ford hospital and is resting easily. The operation was a minor one and "no serious complications are expected," his counsel said.

Ford's injuries will prevent him testifying this week at the million-dollar libel suit, it was said.

The accident occurred when Ford was forced off the south side of Michigan avenue near the Rouge river bridge while on his way home about 8:30 Sunday evening. His little Ford coupe plunged down an embankment and crashed into a tree.

The billionaire was knocked unconscious but after a while regained his senses and walked several hundred feet to his estate. There the gate keeper found him and rushed him to his house. Dr. R. D. McClure, chief physician at the Henry Ford hospital, attended the auto king and last night ordered him removed to the hospital for a minor operation.

"Mr. Ford strongly deprecates the suggestion that the accident was the result of intent on anyone's part.

"At present Mr. Ford is resting easily and no serious complications are expected.

STATE BUDGET PROVIDES FOR $46,693,472

House Committee Drafts Appropriation Bill.

18-MONTH FUND

Measure May be up for Passage on Friday.

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Members of the house finance committee today were completing preparations for introducing in the house Friday the regular biennial appropriation bill. The measure, it was indicated, will provide for a budget approximating $45,-693,472 to defray the cost of state governmental activities during the 18 months' period beginning July 1, next.

The bill, which may be called up for passage in the lower legislative branch next Tuesday, provides for appropriations aggregating about $7,-512,226 less than the proposed budget sumbitted by Governor Vic Donahey in one of his legislative messages. The governor's recommendation totaled $54,205,698.

Cuts made by the committee, compared with the governor's budget, included $6,342,061 in the general division, $614,365 for educational institutions and $555,800 for state welfare institutions; $900,000 for school equalization funds and $3,427,061 for the state highway department.

The $900,000 cut in school funds was made in view of the proposal to enact a half-mill direct state tax levy to provide funds for wek school districts and for state educational institutions. This proposed levy, to be in effect but one year, is expected to yield about $6,500,000 in state revenue.

The reduction of $3,427,061 in highway funds was in expectation that the present legislature will increase the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon and that the additional $7,000,000 a year, resulting from the extra one-cent tax, will be used only for highway construction, 60 per cent of the money, about $4,-200,000, going direct to the state highway department, and the other 40 per cent to be apportioned to the counties on the basis of motor vehicle population.

2,000 Flee Homes When Levee Breaks; Farm Zone Flooded

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 30.—Two thousand persons, driven from their homes last night when the Laconi circle levee tumbled into the river and flooded 19 square miles of farm lands, were being housed today in box cars and tents.

An opening in the levee created by the crumbling banks let the 51-foot swoolen Mississippi river rush into the circle, and flooded 12,350 acres of farm lands and drove 1,800 Negroes and 200 while persons from their homes.

FILIPINO REBEL IS CONDEMNED

MANILA, P. I., March 30.—Florentino Soriano, leader of the Filipino constabulary soldiers who ran amuck on May 23, last, killing five civilians at San Ferando Pampanga, was sentenced to death today by the supreme court.

Now Enjoys Good Health

Relieved of Stomach Trouble, Nervousness. Gains 17 Pounds.

"Anybody who has been benefited as I was by Tanlac could not do anything but praise this wonderful tonic," says Mrs. M. Wagoner, 101 Norton Court, Akron, Ohio, whose amazing recovery has surprised her family.

"I was so run-down and weak that I was discouraged with life. The very thought of food distressed me terribly. No matter what I ate I would suffer for hours from heartburn and gas that bloated my stomach. Sweeping and making the beds was drudgery. And my nerves were in such shape that I could not sit still a moment.

"Tanlac changed my life. Gave me strength and energy to live every day, every hour, happily, to do my housework without tiring. It put my stomach in good condition so that I now eat everything without a sign of trouble or pain. It has built me up from 93 to 110 pounds. Everyone who is ailing should take Tanlac."

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director,

DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE and her baby daughter, Emily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. Hattie is scolded for being late home and resolves it shall not happen again, but that night she again goes to the studio and is again late, Alice and Grandma wondering and worrying.

Hattie tells Alice that she has had the test, that it is a success and that she is to have a job in the movies.

Alice defends her against Grandma's anger. Alice and Hattie go to the studio and Hattie is offered a contract for three years and transportation for herself, Grandma, Alice and the baby to California.

They all start for the coast, accompanied by de Brissac. The latter starts Hattie's training by asking her about some books she has found in his drawing room.

CHAPTER NINE.

"You'll want to understand these things," he went on, with that air of casual kindness. "Emotional experience is necessary to an actress. You must know the emotions before you can express them. Ever had any experience?"

She could only sit very still.

"Sex experience?"

It seemed to her that she mustn't play the child. Again she moved her head in the negative.

"There'll be some of these crazy fellows after you out there, as soon as you begin to be known. But don't let them talk to you.'

She tried to utter a meek, "I won't," but no sound came.

"Keep close to me," he added. "Tell me everything."

He hummed softly, in a musical voice; and took her hand, as he had in the evening. Good-humoredly, with an enthusiasm that seemed at moments rather boyish, he began telling her the story of the new picture. She felt it to be wonderful; about a beggar girl who was seen by the king as he rode out through the palace gate and became his consort and finally his queen in a time of political intrigue and wickedness and warfare, a time when only the pure soul of a guileless little girl could save a decadent people. There would be enormous, costly sets, thousands of extra people, battles that must eclipse Griffith's mightiest efforts, and scenes of love and passion more dramatic and richer in oriental splendor than any yet pictured on the screen.

She was to be the beggar girl.

"Now, my dear," he concluded, "you see why I'm going to give you so much time. I'm taking you, an inexperienced child, and putting you before the public as a leading woman. I'm going to make you a star over night—a star in your first picture. I'm capitalizing your inexperience. I shall use your youth, your freshness, your undeveloped emotions. You may as well understand now that I'm going to play on your feelings, stir up the eternal woman in you, rouse you to yearning, to passion. I shall have to develop you as the picture develops. At the beginning you are to be as pure as you are now, a simple-hearted child. Before I am through with you, you will find yourself beginning to be a woman. But you will also be an artist. I shall teach you. You have now the quality. That is all I need to work on. A picture—a great picture—is a work of art to which the individual is sacrificed. I am going to play on that virginal quality of yours, stir it, shock it. I am going to wring you, mold you. I may torture you. But you see the risk I am running. No other director would dare do it—take an inexperienced child like you for a leading part in this greatest picture. But I dare. I as Armand de Brissac. I know no rules. I am above rules."

"Your name, you say, is Hattie Johnson?"

"Yes." It was reassuring, to hear, at least, her own voice.

"That won't do. I will give you a name. Leave that to me. Leave everything to me." He turned sharply on her. His eyes seemed mercilessly to probe her, as they had probed her during the test. "You understand now why you must listen to no one but me?"

"Yes," she said, again.

"No man has ever done so much for an untried girl as I am going to do for you. But I must dominate you. No one must know what I am doing with you until I release the picture. I shall take your most important scenes secretly. I shall assemble and cut the picture myself. Not even the company will know until I choose to let them know. You are to tell nothing. Even your family are not to know what we are doing."

"Yes, Sir."

The reporter appeared in the doorway.

"Bring a table," ordered de Brissac. Then, abruptly distrait, he drew a brief case from under the seat, adding—"That is all now. I have word to do. Take those books back with you, if you like."

She got up, and stood holding to the door. She had seen enough in turning the pages of that thicker book to know that it couldn't be explained to Alice and Gran'ma. She felt her color rising. He was looking at her again, and, she knew, reading her thoughts.

"Rather leave them here?"

She seemed to be nodding. That look of quiet world-weariness that she thought magnificent had come again into his face.

"All right. You can sit in here and read anytime. Come in this afternoon about three. You'll have the place to yourself then. I'm playing bridge after lunch. But you'd better run along now."

Ronald Colman Heads Cast Coming to Ceramic.

One of the most carefully selected motion picture casts and one that contains many "big" names, has been brought together for "Beau Geste," which opens a three-day run April 7 at the Ceramic theatre.

Ronald Colman plays the title role, that of Michael or "Beau," the eldest of the three young brother English aristocrats who sacrifice all for each other. Neil Hamilton is the second brother, "Digby" and Ralph Forbes, playing his first screen role in America, the youngest "John."

Alice Joyce, one of the screen's most beautiful women, and Mary Brian, are the two—and the only two—principal feminine players.

Noah Beery was assigned to what critics declare to be one of the finest character roles in the history of motion pictures, that of the brave, brutal sergeant of the French Foreign Legion with whom the three brothers go to the Sahara Desert to appear in one of the strangest, most dramatic and tragic of real life exploits.

Of scarcely less importance are the roles played by Norman Trevor, a major in the Legion, and William Powell, George Rigas, Victor MacLaglen, Bernard Siegel and Donald Stuart as enlisted men.

Four of the most important child screen parts of the year are enacted by Maurice Murphy, Philippe deLacey and Mickey McBan, who portray the three brothers in an early sequence, and Betsy Ann Hisle, appearing as Mary Brian.

Herbert Brenon directed this huge production for Paramount at an encampment of 2,000 men on the Desert, southwest of Yuma, Arizona.

Major Percival Christopher Wren is the author of "Beau Geste," John Russell and Herbert Brenon adapted it for screen use and Paul Schofield wrote the continuity.

Proposed Sale of Hornsby's Stock in Cardinals Also is Talked Over by Giant Moguls; Will go no Further With Roush.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Unqualified denial that John McGraw's surreptitious visit here was prompted by a desire to sell his stock in the Giants to either Tex Rickard or "Fuzzy" Anderson, St. Louis promoter, because he had gone heavily "on the nut" in Florida real estate was entered today by Charles A. Stoneham, president of the club. The visit ended yesterday afternoon just as mysteriously as it began when McGraw boarded a train at 3:40 o'clock for Chattanooga but Stoneham neglected to explain the stealth with which this departure was achieved.

Neither did he account for the fact that the Giants' office staff was instructed to inform callers that "Mr. McGraw had left town," when actually the man was conferring with Stoneham at the Hotel Commodore, four blocks away. Stoneham, in fact, denied that such a conference took place.

He accounted for McGraw's visit by declaring that illness in the Stoneham family had prevented him from meeting his manager in the south and that it had become necessary for them to get together in order to devise some cunning scheme whereby it might be possible to overcome Eddie Roush's natural repugnance to a sum like $25,000. The matter of awakening the interest of Roger Hornsby in anything less than $120,000 for his stock in the Cardinals also was discussed at length, it was said.

To a direct question about the allegation that McGraw was trying to unload his Giant stock, Stoneham said:

"As far as I know, there's nothing to it. Mr. McGraw seemed very happy and the matter of stock wasn't mentioned. He knows that, if he wanted to sell his shares, he could get more for them from me than he could elsewhere.

"We talked about the club and, when he left, McGraw felt that he would be able to persuade Hornsby to sell his stock in the Cardinals when they got together in Chattanooga on Thursday. I understand that he will invite Roush to meet him there, too, and maybe they will be able to iron out their differences.

"We have gone as far as we care to with Roush, for when I made the trade I thought he would be willing to play for the Giants for the money he was demanding and not getting in Cincinnati. It seems not, however; so we have increased our bid several times and now we will go no higher

"Hornsby is another matter. He is in condition, is a big help to the young players and has given our club a fighting spirit it lacked during the last two years. But he is making one mistake. He is confusing the value of his stock with the value of stock that carries with it a controlling interest. Hornsby, I know, has been offered his price of $105 a share but the offer is contingent upon the necessity of the buyer getting a controlling interest. However, Sam Breadon wants to stay in baseball and won't sell, so there you are. I think, however, that McGraw will be able to straighten things out with Hornsby and his attorney, William Fahey, when they meet."

In regard to the story of McGraw's effort to dispose of his own stock, Stoneham pointed out that their agreement called for no sale of stock by either man without letting the other have first bid.

PAULSEY SIGNS WITH ELKS FOR FINAL SERIES

Big Center in Action Here Friday Against Lafayettes.

Tony Paulsey, Youngstown basketball star who led an unknown, unheralded cage squad from a little place known as Campbell, just outside of Youngstown, to the heights in the second annual Tri-State tournament here over the week-end, will loom as a tower of strength on the East Liverpool Elks club when the lodgemen go up against the second best team in western Pennsylvania—the Fink Lafayettes — on Friday night at the high school gymnasium here.

The clash will be the opener of a home and home series with the Lafayettes, the champions of the Allegheny county circuit.

In a telephone conversation with Coach Bill Powell, of the Antlers last night, Paulsey promised that he would be on the job for the series.

The Youngstown lad, who also led the Youngstown Eagles to the city's class A championship a couple of weeks ago, will take Ray Wilde's place at center.

Had Wilde been able to play, no additional strength would have been necessary for the series, but without him, the team is something like a racing car without a motor. The rest of the necessary parts are there, but the heart is missing.

With Paulsey in the lineup, however, Dave Shupe and Nate Lippe at forwards and Captain Smith Anderson and "Chuck" McConville at the guards, it would be no surprise if the Elks were to take the Lafayettes, or else make it mighty interesting.

The Lafayettes are scheduled to tackle the Cleveland Rosenblums tonight at Duquesne where the Antlers will play their return match with the Lafayettes next week.

Continue Minor League Tour.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—The Browns come here today to continue their minor league tour. Yesterday they beat Mobile 3 to 1.

EDDIE FARRELL

Nominating EDDIE FARRELL.

BECAUSE he was a student at the University of Pennsylvania one June day in 1925.

Because he was playing third base for the Giants the next day.

Because he was forced to retire before the end of the game with a spike wound in his arm, but was back in the lineup the next day.

Because he proved himself such a promising player in a few days that McGraw has held onto him ever since.

Because he is a brilliant infielder in his own right today, but must warm the bench because of the presence of Freddy Lindstrom and Travis Jackson, two other brilliant youngsters on the team.

And because he is wise enough to know that a youngster can learn considerable baseball from the bench while waiting his chance on the field.

Straying into a railway tunnel near Cowden, England, a young bull delayed all traffic for nearly two hours until two palatelayers drove it out and let the trains proceed.

NEW YORK, March 30. — Jimmy Britt had his ulna bone back in the good old day and I seem to remember that Jack Delaney lost to Jim Maloney because he contracted a severe case of tennis arm while shooting a cross court volley to a sparring partner's beard. It remained for Fred Fitzsimmons, of the Giants, to win the adjustable coat tail, however.

Fred, it seems, hasn't been much use to the Giants in the spring training plans. He was unfortunate enough as to suffer an attack of that dreaded of all maladies, the rocking chair knuckle.

Fitzsimmons usually is a fast worker who gets into condition early and it surprised no one that he reported to McGraw at Sarasota, Fla., ready for anything that might transpire. Thus it happened that he was sitting in his rocking chair one fine night, fondling a dime and thinking his own particular thoughts.

It really seemed too bad that the coin in question wasn't really a quarter, for the fact of the matter is that he inadvertently dropped it. Had it been a quarter or more, it seems possible that he would have risen hastily to his feet and retrieved same with all due alacrity.

As it was, the thing was a dime and Fred was almost languid as he reached down. Not immediately finding what he sought, Fred decided to reach further and thereupon howled in anguish.

Startled natives, fearing that a rattler had wandered in out of the sand dunes beyond the town limits, rushed for all known antidotes and restoratives, including hair oil. But their solicitude was both ill timed and unnecessary.

The soldier who slept on his watch is an old story. But Fred Fitzsimmons' act is virgin now. He is the first ball player who ever rocked on his own hand.

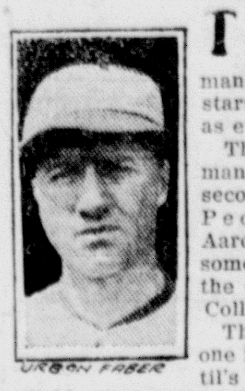
Faber--Schalk Combination Is Granddaddy of Batteries



URBAN FABER

THE Chicago White Sox will exhibit a new manager when they start the season—as everyone knows There'll be a new man cavorting at second — Roger Peckinpaugh or Aaron Ward, or someone besides the departed Eddie Collins.

There'll be someone in Johnny Mostil's place in the outfield. And part of the time there'll be new faces in the pitching box perhaps.

But the Sox will resemble the team of preceding years to a considerable extent for all these changes.

This for the simple reason that the team still has Urban Faber and Ray Schalk.

Grandaddys of the Game.

These two veterans stand out as the oldest battery pair extant in the major leagues. That is, they have been working together on the same ball club longer than any other pitcher-catcher combination afloat.

They hooked up to win a pennant for the White Sox the same summer the Kaiser started out to lick the world. The summer the first regiments of doughboys began hobnobbing with the French flappers, Faber and Schalk had been parties to one pennant and the summer after the kaiser bowed to Foch the American league took it from the Sox again.

Schalk is the older in point of service. The Sox bosses bought him from Milwukee August 5, 1912, for a price reported to be $17,000. He worked in 23 games that year and showed enough to win the regular berth without a struggle the following spring. Beginning with the full season of 1913 he proceeded to catch over 100 games a season for 11 consecutive campaigns. To date he has worked in a total of 1,737 contests.

His brilliant work behind the plate and his knack of hitting 'em at the right time offset his failure to collect a .300 batting average. His record of .286 his first season up is the best he has won to date.

Lucky Month for Sox.

Faber joined the Sox in August, too—August 25, 1914, and by the end of the season had won eight games—and lost the same number. His first full season with the club, 1915, was his best as far as total winnings are concerned. That campaign he won 24 games and lost 13. Last year, oddly enough, was his best, based on a winning average. He won 15 and lost 8 for a percentage of .652.

In 1918—the war year—he boasted an average of .833 but was credited with but five victories.

Faber is one of the few remaining spitball pitchers in the game but does not depend upon the saliva slant entirely by any means. He has a good "hook," a good knuckle ball, and fair speed.

His faith in the old red flannel shirt as a protection for the good right arm and the color of his hair are two reasons for his nickname "Red."

The Pirates had Faber twice before he joined the White Sox but decided they couldn't wait for him to deliver. Which may or may not be listed as one of the many boners of the baseball moguls by and large.

ST. PAUL BANTAM WINS 8-ROUNDER

CHICAGO, March 30.—Joey Thomas, St. Paul bantamweight, today holds a decision over Tiger Jack Burns of California, scored at the end of eight fast rounds in last night's windup event at the Lincoln club show. Because of Thomas' longer reach, Burns could not get to him.

Sox To See Game.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 30.—"Hurry up and get your work done and you can go to the ball game," Manager Ray Schalk told his White-sox today. Kansas City is playing an exhibition series here against Shreveport. The Sox go through a hard practice session in the morning and then watch the ball game in the afternoon.

The club will elect officers for the campaign, including a manager, secretary-treasurer and captain.

The following players are asked to attend the meeting:

Alf and Eddie Baylie, Pollock, McConnell, E. Mundy, Morgan, Watson, Deshler, Howell, H. Schneidmiller, Springer, Runyon, Alcock, Talbot, Cunningham, Fowler and any other player not now on any of the club rosters, who want tryouts.

John Fowler has piloted the club successfully for the last several seasons, and it is very probable that he will be re-named to direct the team this year.

Still a Boy!

Sh! Sixty odd years and well we know it—
But 'that Kruschen feeling' doesn't show it."

Are you "getting on" in years? Have you begun to dread the approach of old age?

There is no reason why you should—if you're healthy. Anyhow, it's a mistake to reckon up your age in years. There's many a man of forty who has already got one foot in the grave, while his next-door neighbor, who confesses cheerfully to sixty, has still a score or more years of healthy activity in front of him. Which, then, is the "older" of the two.

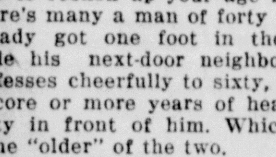
The healthy man can snap his fingers at the calendar. He knows he's going to enjoy his "old age" with just as much relish as he enjoyed his youth. Because he has been careful to keep his blood pure and virile, the blood of youth still courses through his veins.

The way to keep the blood in this happy and healthy condition is to take the "little daily dose of Kruschen Salts.

Each morning dose you take—tasteless in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea—is a perfect blend of the six vital salts your body needs for its healthy life. You must get those salts from somewhere, or your blood will become impure and debilitated, you will get run down and depressed, an easy prey to rheumatism, gout, indigestion, 'flu and any epidemic that may come along. Kruschen Salts are those salts. Hence the necessity for the "little daily dose."

The effect of Kruschen is not only to keep the blood pure and to drive all impurities out of the body. It has a tonic influence on the whole system, bracing you up physically and mentally, filling you with the joy of life and cheery self-confidence that passing years are powerless to mar.

Get a 60 cent bottle of Kruschen Tablets now and begin a new life tomorrow. You'll feel many years younger before you are many days older.



Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning — 1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Kruschen Salts

60 Tablets—60 Cents—all druggists.

Good Health for a Trifle a Day

IMPORTANT: Grandpa and his health creating Kruschen Salts have only lately come to the United States. In England, Germany, and Holland, as well as Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Canada, Kruschen is the biggest selling proprietary medicine—the sales are enormous. There's a reason—

Two tablets of Kruschen in your cup of coffee, tea or hot water every morning.

REV. J. B. EDIE, EVANGELIST, ONCE POTTER

SEBRING PLACE

Mesdames W. L. Murphy and Homer J. Taylor to Sing Tonight.

Before the largest week night attendance of the campaign, Rev. Joseph B. Edie, Youngstown Methodist pastor, spoke of "The Influence of the Christian Life" at the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church last evening. His subject for this evening will be "Our Life Record."

"As one can tell a miller by his clothing, a miner by his cap and a business man by his habit so is a Christian disclosed to all coming in contact with him or her," he averred. "And being a Christian the influence exuding consciously and unconsciously from such an individual is constant and can only be measured in results by eternal stanrdards."

The revival is unusual for East Liverpool, the country's chief pottery center, in that both Rev. Mr. Conn, the pastor and Rev. Mr. Edie, the evangelist, are former practical potters. The former, was, before his conversion in 1913 under the evangelistic endeavors of Rev. William Huff, a one-time resident, at Sebring, Ohio, a jiggerman in one of the potteries there.

In the same town Rev. Mr. Edie was a warehouse man before his conversion in a tabernacle campaign by Evangelist Daniel Shannon, of Indiana. Both later went to Ashley college at Wilmer, Ky., from which they graduated.

It was Mrs. W. L. Murphy, also a former East Liverpool resident, now of Sebring, who was instrumental in having Rev. Mr. Conn go to college and prepare for the ministry. She, in her continued interest in his welfare, will be at tonight's meeting and with her sister, Mrs. Homer Taylor of Park Boulevard, will sing at the preliminary service. Both have sung at various revival services throughout the years in and about East Liverpool.

Following his graduation in 1921, Rev. Mr. Conn was assigned to Brilliant, Ohio, by Bishop Anderson where he remained until his transfer here last fall. Rev. Mr. Edie has held pastorates in Fulton, Ashley and Youngstown, Ohio.

Following a spirited song service last night Rev. and Mrs. Conn sang, "Marvelous Grace" with Mrs. Edie as accompanist. The latter, accompanied by Mrs. H. F. Burns, sang, "Love Never Faileth."

Haskin's Letter

the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, and the New York Heart Association, four of the principal organizations in the big city that are concerned with finding employment for handicapped men and women.

There are in all twelve of these social agencies in New York and it costs them more than $100,000 a year to find jobs for the physically and mentally deficient men and women who must have gainful occupations but can not find work themselves. More than 1000 persons so handicapped apply for such help every month in Manhattan, and although there are twelve organizations that undertake to render the necessary assistance it remains a fact that there are large groups of the handicapped who are not adequately provided for. The neglected ones are particularly the blind and the deaf and dumb, it is stated.

One big reason this form of social work is not functioning successfully is the lack of coordination among those undertaking it. Employers, it is said, become irritated by repeated visits from representatives of different agencies, all of which have the same general objective in view but are operating upon a hit or miss basis and are not equipped with information as to the labor requirements of the employers or their attitude toward giving work to anybody who can, perhaps, only "make half a hand."

The suggestion growing out of this ascertainment of fact is that there should be fewer agencies, that they should all work together, and that they should maintain a common card index system that will be of aid and value to all. If this is brought about, it is predicted, this branch of social work will not be so expensive, and thus the burden will be eased for those who must or do supply the funds.

Another factor that contributes largely to the problem of helping handicapped men and women to become self-supporting is the prejudice of many employers against having such persons in their establishments. Many such an employer has been known to reject offhand, without the slightest consideration of the subject, the suggestion that he give work to even a limited number of unfortunates.

And yet it is asserted by the experts that with proper discrimination in the assignment of work physically handicapped persons often make desirable employees. This is evidenced, it is pointed out in the report of Miss LaDame's survey, by the fact that a large proportion of the handicapped for whom work was found by social agencies of New York last year were placed with firms which had had previous experience with handicapped workers, and that in some instances handicapped persons have been advanced to executive or other important positions.

Still another difficulty, the reports says is the mental attitude of the handicapped persons toward work. They underestimate their ability to do it. They have probably been humored and made to feel that they are entitled to very special consideration.

As a result they are extremely hard to suit and their desires are often out of keeping with their qualifications. On the other hand, there are those who lack confidence in themselves and require a great deal of bolstering up on the part of the agencies.

Cripples in particular, says the report, are prone to become obsessed with the idea that the world is not giving them a square deal. Those who have this idea are handicapped not only by their physical disability but by their mental attitude toward life. And yet, in spite of all this distorted view of their social usefulness, rights, and obligations on the part of those who must be helped, the report says that the testimony of employers in New York as well as in Cleveland and Detroit indicates that many handicapped workers, if placed in properly selected occupations, are just as satisfactory as workers with no disability, and are often even more efficient.

Among social agencies there are two quite different policies in the placement of handicapped workers, according to the investigator. The first policy is indicated by the statement by the head of one agency: "Unless I believe that a handicapped applicant can become an economic asset to an employer, I won't send him out to try to get a job. As for those handicapped applicants who are not good employment investments, they must be a charge upon the community. Sheltered workshops or some other means of meeting these needs must be provided."

The second policy, it is explained, places emphasis on the immediate need of the applicant for employment. The important thing, it holds, is to get a job for the applicant. He needs it from a therapeutic as well as from an economic point of view. Somehow the employer must be persuaded to try him.

In reporting the result of the survey, William Hodson, executive director of the Welfare Council, said:

"The significance of this report lies not so much in the findings as in the fact that social agencies which were already doing very good work in this field themselves recognized the possibility of improving their service to the community through coordination of their work, and so asked the Russell Sage Foundation to investigate their activities, and cooperated most thoroughly in the investigation."

4 out of 5 start too late

Among the people you see today, four out of five past forty (and many younger) are victims of Pyorrhea—simply because they started too late to protect teeth and gums.

Pyorrhea starts with tender, bleeding gums. Unchecked, it undermines youth and health and often results in loss of teeth, neuritis, ulcers, rheumatism or other serious diseases.

But have no fear. If you start in time, you can prevent or check the inroads of Pyorrhea. See your dentist at least twice a year. And start using Forhan's for the Gums.

This dentifrice thwarts Pyorrhea or checks it. It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., a recognized specialist in Pyorrhea.

Senate Bill for Seven Favorite Routes Opposed by Committee.

Two road bills which in the initial session were designated as emergency measures were reported yesterday in the house of delegates by the roads committee.

One, providing for issue of bonds to replace those redeemed from earlier issues, was not satisfactory to the committee as it passed the senate and in place of the senate provisions for seven favored routes the house committee recommended a return to the basis of allotment among the counties. It proposes to strike out the section of the bill setting aside $2,000,000 for the selected routes, and to insert in its place the provision of past bond laws, that 80 per cent. of the funds be divided among the counties and the remaining 20 per cent. spent at the discretion of the state road commission.

At the same time it reported on another bill which would have permitted use of county, district and municipal road funds on state routes, a permission not granted under the present state road law. Considerable limitation of this right also was favored by the committee which proposed striking out all the part of the bill which would permit the use of county and district general levy road funds and would hold the privilege only to special levies and bond issues.

Suggestion that immediate action be taken on these bills seemed likely to draw opposition and the request was withdrawn, leaving to come up, on the amendment stage in the house tomorrow.

The senate meantime went through its calendar with only minor interruptions, one of which centered on a bill to permit healing by prayer. Already having reached its second reading in the upper branch with a favorable report from the committee on medicine, the bill struck a snag and with Senator Alderson urging that it be turned over to the judiciary and Senators Hiner and Hallanan opposing that motion, the senate decided by a vote of 14 to 9 to send it back to the committee room.
